MEXICO CITY, April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] All departments of the government are [illegible] time today, with the exception of the legislative branch, whose committees are everywhere, all pervading. The committee on educational matters is conferring with Senor Vera [illegible], the new Minister of Education. It is alleged that the new Minister found, a few hours after his induction into office, that one-half of the school teachers on the Federal district pay roll have no corporeal existence. Another committee is with Minister Cosio at the War Office, asking questions in regard to the deficiencies in the Federal army organization revealed by its recent operations.

While I applauded the awakening of the deputies yesterday, today I suffered by it. As the hour came for my appointment with Minister of Finance Limantour, the committee of Congress filed in, waiting to talk finance, and Senor Limantour said the new era in Congress would have to take precedence over the foreign press, so I cannot give you tonight the benefit of the Finance Minister's impressions.

Official announcement is made this afternoon of the fact, cabled to The Times several days ago, that Mexico had protested, in a formal, but friendly way, against the landing of British marines in Lower California.

PENDLETON (Or.) April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] More than a score of divorce suits filed by Attorney Peter West, who is dead here, will be dismissed by Judge Phelps tomorrow. There are cases in which demurrers had been filed, or in which further procedure was stopped by the death of West last week. Attorney West had been married twelve times and divorced from all his wives in succession, and because he devoted all his time to obtaining divorces for mismated couples he became known as the divorce lawyer of the Pacific Coast.

Strange Case.

ONE FRED CLARK; TWO MRS. CLARKS.

ONE OF THEM IN LOS ANGELES; OTHER IN MICHIGAN.

Man in Case Left California Home Sixteen Years Ago, Contemplating Suicide, But Instead, Got Married to Another Woman—Romance of Decade Shattered Rudely.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BENTON HARBOR (Mich.) April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Sixteen years ago, Fred A. Clark, living with his family in Los Angeles, walked from his home with the intention of committing suicide. Taking a farewell look at his home, he turned his steps toward the ocean beach. Half way to the spot he had selected for his watery grave he changed his mind. Since that time all trace of the man has been lost by his California relatives.

Where Clark went that day was never known. Many days passed, months sped by and time brought around many anniversary days of his disappearance, but the waiting wife and children never saw his face again. Family and friends never knew whether he committed suicide or was the victim of some misfortune.

One morning in January of this year, Mrs. Fred Clark of this city picked up her Chicago paper. As she scanned the headlines her attention was drawn to a dispatch from Los Angeles, telling of a Mrs. F. A. Clark, on the Coast, who had applied for a pension, her husband having been missing sixteen years, and that she thought he was dead. The Pension Department informed her that Fred A. Clark was living at Benton Harbor, Mich., and drawing a pension. The Mrs. Clark here thought the coincidence of names and facts strange, as Clark had once told her that he had lived in California early in life. But she said nothing.

Then one day, some weeks later, a letter postmarked Los Angeles arrived for Mr. Clark. He took it, acted strangely for days, but said nothing. Carelessly he left the letter in his pocket. Mrs. Clark found it and what she read was a revelation. The missing Clark of California was none other than her husband.

"My husband, who disappeared sixteen years ago," wrote Emily Clark of Los Angeles, "you owe me an explanation. Give it to me and I will bother you no more."

Mrs. Clark here wrote to Mrs. Clark on the Coast. She received a reply and a description of the missing husband. Even though sixteen years had elapsed, the description fitted the local Clark and the Michigan wife, from the tintype enclosed, saw the likeness of the man she married ten years ago.

The final scene in Clark's undoing was enacted in the local justice court. Mrs. Clark had sworn out a warrant charging bigamy. Clark, presented with the evidence against him, admitted his guilt, and though 67 years old, said he would take his punishment. But at the last moment Mrs. Clark repented and withdrew the warrant on condition that Clark would forever exile himself from this city. He accepted these terms and left.

"He is gone," said Mrs. Clark tonight, tears in her eyes. "Going in that way, it's like a funeral. I can't help but think that he is dead, for he has gone out of my life forever."

Another strange feature of the story is that the same item which helped to disclose Clark's whereabouts was read by a Mrs. Tuttle at Marinette, Wis. The facts given in the article convinced her that Clark was a brother whom she had not seen since childhood and whom she thought dead. Correspondence followed and the two were reunited. Clark is a former Chicagoan, and served in Illinois regiment during the Civil War.

SHAKING-UP FOR KANSAS CITYANS.

MAYOR PROPOSES TO BOOST FOR COMMISSION FORM.

Will Advocate Amendment to City Charter Giving People Power to Say How Council Shall Run Things. Aldermen-at-Large Instead of One From Each Ward.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A new plan of government for Kansas City, similar to the commission form, which contemplates eliminating ward aldermen, is to be demanded for submission to the people for approval in the form of an amendment to the city charter.

Mayor Brown said this afternoon he would champion the cause, and that he would initiate a movement immediately that would give the people a chance to choose.

The action would have to take first the form of an ordinance in City Council to submit a charter amendment to a vote of the people.

The Mayor decided the matter quickly today when he returned from New Orleans and learned that the Council in his absence had refused to vacate an alley for the John Deer Plow Company, which wants to erect an $800,000 warehouse.

The Council also had blocked needed changes in the operations of cars on the street railway. Dilatory tactics by the Aldermen and the blocking of improvements by corporations decided the Mayor to endeavor to submit the commission form of government to the people in an amendment to the charter at the next election.

"It's time something was done to correct evils and our troubles," Mayor Brown said.

"I am ready to begin now. The election of Aldermen by wards should be abolished. Aldermen should be elected at large in the whole city and the number should be reduced. I am thoroughly in favor of the principles laid down in the commission form of government."

ACTRESS SUES MANAGER.

MARSHFIELD (Or.) April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Damages of $5000 are asked in a suit started by Mrs. Frances Hatton, leading actress of a road company which played here recently, against Robert Marston, Jr., manager of the Royal Theater in this city. Mrs. Hatton was struck on the head by a heavy weight used on the drop curtain one night during her engagement here. It is alleged the curtain was defective. The actress says her skull was fractured and that she suffered injuries which will reduce her earning powers on the stage.

Unionite Lawyers Admit Law Offers N Way of Returning Alleged Dynamiter

Blame Police Judge for Permitting Burns and Officers to Take Prisoner Away But Are Unable to Find Any Fault With Action of Detectives—Prosecutor Plays to Union Men and Allows Them to Name Assistant.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

INDIANAPOLIS, (Ind.) April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] No matter w may be the outcome of these alleged kidnaping proceedings against De tive William J. Burns and others, John McNamara will not be returned this State by any process known to the law.

That much is conceded even by the men whom organized labor has ployed to prosecute those who participated with Burns in the arrest of Ironworkers' Union's secrtary.

Those who claim that the arrest was illegal admit that McNamara now within the jurisdiction of another State; that the issuance of a requ tion by the Governor of California and the honoring of it by the Governor Indiana establishes the regularity of the proceedings as between the States, and no matter what the arresting officers did or did not do, their or omissions cannot effect McNamara's rights one way or the other in the jurisdiction to which he has been taken.

In the conference between Clarence S. Darrow and the firm of lawy retained by organized labor here this was admitted to be the status and n ing could change it unless McNamara could have been taken from the offic before they crossed the line into California.

Darrow also confirmed this view very strongly before leaving here Chicago, when he said:

"It was a case of kidnaping here, but it has been done now, and w can we do about it? You have a statute here in Indiana that provides a man in the position in which John J. McNamara found himself is entitle a hearing to show he is not a fugitive from justice. The benefit of this sta was not given to McNamara. This happens to be a case in which the presumed the officers on whom it confers powers will always do their d At least there seems to be no remedy provided for the man who has b treated as McNamara has been treated.

NO HELP FOR M'NAMARA.

"By this I do not mean no liability of any kind attaches to anybody was involved in taking him away by abduction. I mean the law affords procedure that will help McNamara now. It may be prosecutions can be against other men, but this does not help McNamara or get for him the ri that were denied him.

"No benefit can come to McNamara by means of a writ of habeas cor in the California courts, for the purpose of the writ of habeas corpus inquire into the authority by which the man is held. In California, if the c would ask by what authority McNamara is being held, the answer would satisfactory. In that State he is being held by virtue of an indictment turned in the State of California. FOLLOWS TRAIL OF EXPLOSIVES FROM ATLANTIC TO PACIFI

Detective Burns Associates It With a Union Labor Plot, Nation-Wide in Scope, and Not Alone Confined to the Organization of the Structural Ironworkers. Sixty-seven Bomb Explosions in Five Years.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] That the trail of dynamite extending from Springfield, Mass., to Los Angeles is part of a union labor plot, nation-wide in its scope, and not confined to the structural iron unions, is the belief of Detective W. J. Burns and others who have studied the case.

During the last five years eighty-seven bombs have been exploded in various places in the United States and all have been directed against structures on which non-union labor was employed, or in which material made in an open shop was used.

Attention was attracted first to the possibility that the bomb explosions might be a part of the campaign carried on by the Structural Ironworkers' Union, or its sympathizers, five years ago, when a hoisting engine in Newark, N. J., was blown up with dynamite.

Since that time explosion after explosion has followed in the wake of contracting concerns known to be unfriendly to the ironworkers' union, according to the police. Eighty-seven explosions can be traced directly to trouble existing between the persons against whom they were directed and the Ironworkers' Union.

Most of them, it is known, were due to dynamite and it appeared that care had been taken to avoid killing anyone. In several cases watchmen at plants where the explosions took place were decoyed away just before the explosions, and those who have investigated the cases assert that such action undoubtedly was taken to avoid the possibility of adding murder to the other crime.

One of the first murders was committed when an attempt was made to dynamite a bridge in Chicago at Thirty-eighth street and Center nue, which was being erected by Wisconsin Bridge Company. A wa man, Jerry Lynch, was on the bri when two men arrived. He orde them away, and when they refu to go he fired a shot at them.

After waiting over three years for State officials to make a full, com- te and comprehensive report to State bankers without avail," the ports shows that January 1, 1911, re was a cash balance on hand in fund of $26,292 and the Planters' l Merchants' Bank of Oklahoma y, which recently failed, is being dled out of the balance on hand. An introductory to the report signed the Auditing Committee, says: It is necessary to preface the re- t by reference to the incomplete- of the records available in the e of the Columbia Bank and Trust npany, which failed in Oklahoma y, September 29, 1909. Certain olutely essential records have dis- peared, such as the discount reg- r, the general cash journal, etc. r have we found such records as ald make it possible to reconstruct se missing.

r the First Time in His Career a Lawyer the Chicago Attorney as Declined to Engage His Ser- ces to Union Labor—Advises nployment of a Younger Man.

Y DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HICAGO, April 26.—[Exclusive atch.] Clarence S. Darrow re- ed from Indianapolis today and ounced that he would not defend McNamara, secretary and treas- of the International Bridge and ctural Ironworkers' Union, who, James W. McNamara, his broth- and Ortie E. McManigal, are ged with complicity in the blow- up of the Los Angeles Times ding in 1910.

deem it wise for officials of organized labor to get some man who has not been through so many long sieges in labor trials as I have been and one who does not know the leading labor men of the country as I do," said Darrow, when asked to give his reasons for not wishing to defend the prisoners.

"Let them get a younger man. I know what it is to appear in a case where capital and labor are fighting each other, and I am better off in Chicago attending to my private practice.

"It is true that I have been asked to defend J. J. McNamara, but I know what it is to undertake such a gigantic task, having had experience in the Moyer and Pettibone cases. One does not get any sleep and I have enough money to go along. Of course, I am not rich, but I am getting to a point in life where I do not wish to undertake such a task. If the McNamaras are guilty, then organized labor does not want them, because organized labor does not sanction murder and dynamiting. But organized labor will defend the men, because they should have their day in court and until they are proved guilty labor organizations will be with them.

"Whether the men are guilty or not, there is one thing certain, and it is that J. J. McNamara was kidnaped out of the State of Indiana and the entire procedure was illegal. He was not permitted to telephone for counsel and was spirited away in an automobile. Of course, all these minor details will be overshadowed by the main charges. The men are now in California, so what are you going to do? They are indicted. It will take months to try these men. I know what trials between labor and capital mean, so I have decided not to enter into the legal battle.

"No person has been able to talk with J. J. McNamara and his views are not known. He may want some other attorney to defend him. But if he did express a wish to have me act as his counsel I would rather not take the task and I am almost certain that I would not. I want rest. Of course, the fee attached to a case like the Los Angeles affair is a big one. But restful nights appeal more to me than money."

Attorney Darrow has never before refused to defend an official of a labor organization and his wish not to enter into the legal battle of The Times disaster came as a surprise to Chicago labor leaders.

"Prominent labor officials and friends of the men arrested are already crying 'frame up' and that our men had placed the dynamite in the vaults of the ironworkers' union in Indianapolis," said Raymond Burns, son of William J. Burns. "We have a complete case against the men and, with the evidence we have, I do not understand why labor leaders will stand for such men.

"Startling evidence, which will be given to the District Attorney in Los Angeles, will prove conclusively the guilt of the men arrested. We knew that the labor leaders would cry 'frame up,' but I have no doubt that the men will be convicted. Father has a great deal of evidence which he will present to the Los Angeles authorities."

GRAND JURY AT WORK.

Indianapolis Body Continues Investigation into "Catnaping" Case and Dynamite Outrages.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.) April 26.—Walter Drew of New York, counsel for the National Erectors' Association, was fined $1 and costs today in Police Court on conviction of having assaulted a constable who was seeking to serve a warrant on Detective William J. Burns, charging him with complicity in the alleged kidnaping from this city last Saturday of J. J. McNamara.

Drew was alleged to have forced the constable into an elevator in a hotel yesterday. The fine was suspended by Police Judge Collins, by whom McNamara had been turned over to a Los Angeles officer in the extradition proceedings.

"I shall be back in Indianapolis in two or three days," he said. He declined to discuss his mission.

Burns was called before the Marion county grand jury which is investigating two corelated conspiracies, one resulting in the dynamiting of buildings in various parts of the country, and the other in the extradition of McNamara to California without due process of law. As Burns had been bound over to the grand jury in $10,000 bond in the investigation of the kidnaping charge, he stood on his constitutional right and declined to testify.

Albert von Spreckelson, a contractor, appeared before the grand jury this afternoon to testify, it was understood, as to dynamite explosions that wrecked several buildings he was constructing here two years ago. Spreckelson at that time employed non-union iron workers.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SEATTLE, April 26.—A fund of $50,000 to be used for the defense of the McNamara brothers and Ortie McManigal, the alleged dynamite conspirators, was subscribed at a meeting of the Central Labor Council tonight. It was announced that the fund will be used not only to aid in the defense of the men held at Los Angeles, but to fight the detective agencies which the union men charge are trying to disrupt organized labor. Resolutions protesting against the manner of the arrest of the McNamaras and McManigal were adopted.

Times "Liners" Reap Rich Rewards.

M'NAMARA CAN'T GO BACK.

members of the trades councils have taken the view that this statute will work a hardship in McNamara's case as several months have been spent in working up a great deal of the alleged evidence, and the defendant's attorneys might not have sufficient time to get ready for the defense.

"I had not heard of this California statute until I saw it mentioned in press reports from California since I came to Indianapolis," said Darrow, "but if there is such a statute there, I feel certain it is for the defendant's own benefit; that its purpose is to insure him a speedy trial and that he can waive the statute if he sees fit to do so."

SAY JUDGE MADE MISTAKE.

Though the better class of citizens are indignant over the arrest of Detective Burns and assistants, those who are friendly to them admit that there might be some grounds on which to sustain the kidnaping charges. That Burns and his men did not in fact kidnap McNamara, but acted in accordance with what they supposed to be the law, is admitted, and the mistake, if any occurred, was in the ruling of Judge Collins of the Police Court, by assuming jurisdiction of the case when in fact it had not been conferred upon him by statute.

While, therefore, there might be some room for criticism of Collins, there can be none for the detectives. They did not call Collins to act as a court in the case, for they knew nothing about him. The local officers suggested Collins and, of course, Burns took his prisoner to that court to have the required legal action taken before taking him out of the State. If there is any guilt at all the guilt is technical, only, for they had no intent of violating the law.

Prosecutor Baker does not mince words in declaring that Police Judge Collins violated the law, but he does not include the detectives in his strictures. He seems to think that Collins, being a judge, had no excuse for ignorance of his duty, while the detectives, not being lawyers, may have had excuse.

GRILLS JUDGE COLLINS.

Baker does not condemn the action of Gov. Marshall in honoring the requisition from California for the arrest of McNamara, but he says the proceedings from that time on until McNamara was out of the State were wholly illegal.

In the first place, he says, when McNamara was before Judge Collins for a hearing on the question of identity, it was the duty of Judge Collins to notify the Prosecuting Attorney before proceeding with the case. The section of the statute which required Judge Collins to do this, and which the judge did not follow, is one passed by the last Legislature amending the act of 1905, and it contains the following provision:

"It shall be the duty of such justice and any city judge to give the defendant an opportunity and time to employ counsel, if he so desires, and the justice shall also notify the prosecuting attorney or his deputy of the proceeding. If neither of them is present within the county, giving them an opportunity to be present and in all cases when the prosecutor or deputy shall attend, and there be a plea of guilty, a fee of $5 shall be taxed in the name of the prosecutor."

Mr. Baker says neither he nor his deputy was informed by Judge Collins of the proceedings for the extradition of John J. McNamara, but that Judge Collins disposed of the case without following this statute.

This, Baker says, was illegal. That Judge Collins had absolutely no jurisdiction to hear and determine the matter of extradition in the McNamara case is the opinion expressed not only by Baker but by other lawyers, and they base this opinion on a section of the Revised Statutes which says the sheriff or constable making the arrest shall take the fugitive before the Circuit, Superior, or Criminal court or judge of this State nearest and more convenient of access to the place where the arrest was made.

This action does not say anything about taking the fugitive before a city judge, and lawyers say that Judge Collins was wholly without jurisdiction.

TO INVESTIGATE CHARGES.

Members of the Employers' Association of this city called upon Prosecutor Baker today and will furnish an attorney to help investigate the dynamiting charges against McNamara. The following statement was given out by Mr. Baker:

"As the prosecuting attorney, it is my duty to prosecute all violators of the law, and I intend to prosecute them. In order that the fact may be arrived at and that if any persons have transgressed the laws, they may be found and punished, I have permitted the labor organizations of this city to choose an attorney who will assist me in the investigation of the alleged kidnaping of John J. McNamara. All the evidence obtainable in this matter will be presented to the grand jury. If indictments are returned, I will make the attorney selected by the labor organizations the leading attorney in the prosecution.

MANUFACTURERS GET COUNSEL.

"In the matter of the alleged dynamiting conspiracy I have requested the manufacturers of this city to choose an attorney to assist me in that investigation and all the evidence that can be had will be presented to the grand jury. If indictments are returned, I will make the attorney chosen by the manufacturers the leading attorney in the prosecution of such cases."

Baker said the investigation would be made primarily to attempt to find the origin of the dynamiting outrages in Indianapolis in the last few years. He said the investigation would cover any evidence found in connection with the dynamiting of buildings in other places in an attempt to connect them with those occurring here. He said he would take charge of the investigation himself, as soon as he could get matters in shape and as soon as the attorney appointed by the manufacturers was ready to undertake this arrangement. The attorney appointed by the manufacturers will be in the grand jury room when evidence is being taken in respect to the dynamiting and the attorney for the organizations will be present when the alleged kidnaping evidence is being investigated.

"KIDNAPING" DOESN'T INTEREST.

Several Indianapolis officers have already been questioned by the grand jury and gave details of the arrest of McNamara, and the finding of the dynamite in the basement of the American Central Life Building, and in the Jones stable, west of the city. The grand jury did not ask any question that seemed to show any great interest in the kidnaping side of the case. In fact there is a growing belief that the grand jury will not indict Burns, and his assistants. If it does it will have to indict Superintendent Hyland and a half-dozen local detectives, and this is not considered at all likely. In fact, the foreman of the grand jury is said to have remarked, "I don't care a damn what the law is, I won't return any indictments against these fellows for kidnaping."

This report was pointed out by the labor people, who expressed fear that indictments would not be returned.

Under the law it would involve at least six city detectives, for the grand jury to return indictment. It was said there were at least two members of the grand jury who would stand out against indicting the men on the kidnaping charge.

Union leaders, said, however, that if the grand jury fails to indict, they would file information in the Criminal Court and send Burns, Drew and the rest of the accused ones to trial just the same.

BURNS BEFORE GRAND JURY.

Detective Burns, accompanied by Attorney Ketcham, was before the grand jury this morning, but was not questioned.

Ketcham asked to see one of the grand jurors and talked a few minutes to Edward H. Davis, the foreman. He explained that Mr. Burns had been bound over to the grand jury by Justice of the Peace Manning under bond on the charge of kidnaping, and that under his advice, Mr. Burns would not testify.

Burns and Ketcham then went into the grand jury room with the foreman and a few minutes later Frank P. Baker was called.

The detective was not examined, as Ketcham was in the room at the time. The prosecutor told Burns he did not care to have him examined now.

"I told Burns I didn't want him," said Baker.

UNION PAPER FRENZIED.

Business men were indignant at an editorial in the Mine Workers' Journal today.

The paper is the official organ of the United Mine Workers of America and the editorial bristled all over with abuse of McNamara's captors and the local detectives. In part it said:

"Organized labor in Indianapolis, and, in fact, throughout the whole country, was stupefied by the piratical manner in which the headquarters of the International Association of Bridge and Structtural Ironworkers was raided by the minions of predatory wealth."

The editorial says: "The brazen impudence of Burns and his agents in swooping like vultures upon a body of respectable citizens, who held responsible positions, and rushing one of their number to a strange and hostile community without due process of law, is the exhibition of the rankest kind of anarchy.

"Fiendish plot, yes; conceived by devils and executed by hellions. We do not approve of throwing dynamite bombs and killing scores of innocent people. We are just as desirous of apprehending the perpetrators of the Los Angeles outrage as the most vehement advocates of law and order. But suffice it to say that we are not in favor of violating the law in a mad endeavor to punish the crime. If we have reached such a stage in the evolution of the body politic that it is necessary to violate some fundamental law in order to punish a crime, then God have mercy on us, for we are not on the verge of anarchy, but in the midst of it."

A movement was started today to invoke government aid for the return of McNamara to the jurisdiction of the Indiana courts, but it did not get very far. It was proposed to file proceedings in the Federal Court, setting out that McNamara had been denied his Constitutional right of a fair trial in this State and by force and against his will had been taken out of the Indiana jurisdiction.

After a cursory investigation the instigators of the plan were told that the recognition by Gov. Marshall of the California indictment would not bar to the contemplated proceeding, it was believed, but the matter would be looked into further.

The movements of Detective William J. Burns are exciting a great deal of interest here, but he keeps his own counsel and every one is on the tiptoe of expectancy. Burns came back here from his trip to Ohio knowing he would be arrested, and when asked why he had done so replied that he had some further matters to look into, but there would be no more arrests. He claimed to have slept all day yesterday at the hotel, but he is known to have been in conference with Ford, Drew and others several times during the day. He and the men with him have been acting mysteriously, and it is believed that there are important developments coming.

One of the things that Burns is after is a sworn statement from Jones, from whom McNamara rented the stable in which the dynamite was found, as to the trips that J. J. McNamara, his brother and McManigal made to the stable and the explanation McNamara made of these trips.

Photographs of the stable and of the room in the American Central Life Building basement were taken for Burns. The mystery, however, of the stay of himself and his men here is causing much comment.

Burns left tonight for Chicago, saying he would be back in a couple of days.

Reunion of the Long Lost in a Courtroom.

Cross-Country Trip Ends in Oakland.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Showing in her hysterical manner the strain of the ordeal in which she has been for the past two months, or since she began a country-wide search for her kidnaped daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Jennison appeared this morning before Superior Judge Gesford in Oakland. It was the first move to determine the possession of the little girl.

Jennison was also there in obedience to a writ served on him yesterday as he was leaving the Convent and College of the Holy Name, where the little girl has been since February 23.

To those who had expected to see a travel-worn, broken woman, Mrs. Jennison was distinctly a surprise. In a black satin gown, plumed hat, handsome lace veil, elaborate waist and suede shoes, she looked stylish and attractive—in no way the poverty-stricken individual who it was supposed had made a difficult way across the country.

In her face, however, are traces of the trying time she has been having and the anxiety she has suffered on her child's account. When the little girl appeared in court the mother broke down completely and for several minutes could not control her tears.

The case was set for May 9. During the entire proceedings the child was trying to gain control of herself, but at every glance in her mother's direction her eyes would fill with tears.

After the hearing the parents were permitted to speak for a moment to little Alice. The meeting between father and daughter was quite commonplace, the father merely taking her hand and kissing her, then immediately leaving the court. The mother, however, held her child in her arms and the two cried and kissed each other several times before they were told that they could not remain longer together.

New Angle Develops in the Henry Kidnaping Case in San Francisco in Which the Mother of the Children Is Said to Have Seattle Banker Affinity.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "I want the attorneys in this case to understand there will be no consent to a transfer of these trials except on affidavits and in the event those affidavits contain any statements that are untrue, I will cause perjury warrants to be issued."

This was the declaration of Police Shortall this morning with the calling of Ivy May Henry and her affinity, S. Foster Kelly, the retired Seattle banker, charged with removing the Henry children from the jurisdiction of the Superior Court when habeas corpus proceedings were pending.

Attorney Choynski, representing the defendants, said it had been agreed to put the cases over for two weeks. This arrangement did not meet with the approval of the court, and the magistrate said counsel was going a little too far in arranging for a continuance of that length of time without consulting the court.

"There is no reason for this unnecessary delay," he said. "Now that the cases pending in the Supreme Court have been settled there is no reason why we should not take up at once and dispose of them here."

It was at this point that Attorney Choynski declared he would ask for a transfer because the court was prejudiced. Judge Shortall declared he was not prejudiced, and that if the exact truth was not adhered to in the affidavits he would prosecute some one for perjury.

Judge Shortall set the case of Mrs. Henry for trial one week from Thursday before a jury. At that time the Kelly case will be called and set for trial.

HODGDON GETS ESTATE.

Court Decides San Franciscan Used No Undue Influence on Wife and Gives Him $193,000.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Herbert Hodgdon, husband of the late Mrs. Ida O. Hodgdon, was adjudged sole beneficiary of the $193,000 estate bequeathed him by his wife, when Judge Graham today granted the motion of Hodgdon's attorneys to throw out of court the contest of the will brought by brothers and sisters of Mrs. Hodgdon.

The case has been before a jury for three weeks, during which time testimony was introduced by Samuel R. Crooks, representing the contesting brothers and sisters, to show that undue influence had been used by Hodgdon upon his wife in having the will made out in his favor.

Three days ago, following the conclusion of the contestants' case, attorneys for Hodgdon moved for a non-suit. Judge Graham said:

"After careful consideration of the evidence introduced by the contestant and the law applicable to this case, I am forced to the conclusion that the testimony offered was insufficient to show that the proponent used undue influence upon the testatrix."

Samuel I. Crooks, a brother; Mrs. California Newton, a well-known club woman of San Francisco, and Mrs. Margaret Morrow, sisters of Mrs. Hodgdon, testified during the trial to the domestic relations of Herbert Hodgdon and Mrs. Ida O. Hodgdon.

SYMPOSIUM OF GENERATIONS.

Four of Them Sit Down at the Dinner Table in the Home of the Senate's Secretary.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STOCKTON, April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Four generations sat down yesterday at a dinner in the home in this city of Walter N. Parrish, secretary of the State Senate of the recent session of the Legislature. The affair was arranged by Parrish for the express purpose of having his relatives exchange stories of special interest to all.

Mrs. A. G. Fairchild, who resides near this city on the Waterloo road, was the oldest member of the happy party. Next was her daughter, Mrs. Mary F. Merrill of Stockton. The next in line was Mrs. W. N. Parrish, daughter of Mrs. Merrill, and last, Master Norman Parrish, son of Mrs. Parrish.

During the dinner, personal reminiscences were related and the affair proved most enjoyable. In addition to those mentioned, the following participated in the affair: A sister of Mrs. Merrill, Mrs. N. E. Treadwell of San Francisco; Mrs. Sarah Parrish of Stockton, mother of Walter, and Mrs. Ellis Root of Berkeley, her daughter.

SOUTHERN DEBATERS LOSE.

Los Angeles Men Make Favorable Showing Against University of Washington Law School Team.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE, April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The University of Washington Law School debating team, upholding the affirmative of the Central Bank question, defeated the law school team of the University of California in debate at Meany Hall on the university campus here last night.

The local debaters won a unanimous decision of the judges, who were S. A. Keenan, Maurice D. Leehey and James A. Kerr, all Seattle lawyers.

The Washington debaters were Harry L. Jones and Bert Harris, while the Los Angeles men were Thomas P. White and Jesse Land.

While the decision of the judges happened to be unanimous against them, the southern debaters made a favorable impression with their presentation of the well-known argument against the adoption by the government of the central bank currency plan.

DIVORCES A THEATER MAN.

Wife of Walter Hoff Seely Obtains a Decree and Alimony After He Withdrew His Petition.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Mary Frye Seely, wife of Walter Hoff Seely, former manager of the Valencia Theater and the new western representative of the William Morris Company, obtained a divorce today. She was awarded $75 a month temporary alimony until the final decree is signed and thereafter $250 per month until $6600 has been paid.

Common desertion was the ground Mrs. Seely alleged. Her husband sent her back to her parents from Los Angeles in 1908 and told her then that he would not live with her again. Shortly after he began a suit for divorce in San Francisco.

Mrs. Seely was informed of the suit by her friends and hurried back to San Francisco to contest. Seely was prevailed upon to withdraw the suit and, after an agreement had been reached between the couple as to property division, Mrs. Seely commenced the action which culminated in the decree today. The Seelys were married in Springfield, Mass., in 1907.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

FRESNO, April 26.—Dr. W. P. Miller, a local physician was today arrested through the State Pharmacy Board inspector, charged with unlawfully prescribing morphine. He pleaded not guilted and furnished $200 bail. The case against J. A. Webster, also arrested today, was dismissed as it was proved that not he, but a drug clerk in his employ, sold a woman two grains of morphine without a prescription. Five Chinamen, arrested for having opium in their possession, each pa'd a fine of $100 in Police Court this morning.

HAS ACTOR SPOUSE ARRESTED.
SEEKS AFFINITY IN VAIN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Actuated by motives strong enough to cause her to speed across the continent from Boston to San Francisco to carry out her purpose, Mrs. Lucille Perry Hall, wife of Thurston Hall, matinee idol of the Alcazar Theater, caused the arrest of the well-known actor on a misdemeanor charge. A second warrant was sworn to by the wife, and Detective Timothy Bailey, accompanied by Patrolman Juel, spent the greater part of the afternoon searching for a mysterious Amy Dale, who is alleged by Mrs. Hall to be the affinity of the Alcazar's leading man.

Thurston Hall insists that there is not and never was an Amy Dale. It is just a name, he declared, and then he intimated that he might possibly have a suspicion of who Miss Dale is intended to be. Mrs. Hall, on the other hand, insists that her husband cruelly deserted her to shower his affections on the other woman, and has backed her opinion with the long trip across the continent.

Hall was arrested and gave bail in $1000, but Miss Dale could not be found. Hall said:

"It can be nothing but spite work."

WOULD RECALL RECALL MAYOR.

New Executive of City, Who Got Into Office by Freak Route, May Be Hoist By His Own Petard.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Political enemie of Mayor George F. Dilling, elected two months ago by the recall route, yesterday caused a sensation when they spread broadcast on Pike street and the upper business sections of Seattle black-bordered cards bearing the words:

"Recall Mayor Dilling."

The action of the principals was quickly ascribed, and with apparent good reason, to the Mayor's action yesterday in summarily removing Fire Chief John Boyle, sixteen years in the department, and hero of many a hot fight in disastrous fires of the past.

Boyle, relying on civil service rules, will fight for his job, and the Civil Service Commission is yet to say whether or not the Mayor is correct. Two hours after Boyle was fired, seven firemen were badly hurt in a $75,000 fire, in the warehouse district, caused by the breaking of an aerial ladder, which was run up at an angle of thirty degrees, instead of in the proper manner. Friends of Boyle and the injured firemen say the grave accident, which may result in one or more deaths, would not have occurred had Boyle been in command of the firefighters.

THE AGE OF REASON.

An Instance Where a Comma Substituted for a Period Will Not Invalidate Important Law.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SACRAMENTO, April 26.—The substitution of a comma for a period in section No. 8, of Assembly bill No. 990, the State highway bonding proposition, submitted at the last election on the $18,000,000 highway bond issue, thereby changing the reading of the act in the matter of highways permanently improved under county bond issues, will not, according to high legal authority, invalidate the act, nor affect in any way the Chandler highway act, which provides for a way of expending the $18,000,000.

Although the reading of the act is changed somewhat by the insertion of the comma, it is held at the capital that the courts would look upon the matter from intent, and that in this particular case the change is not great enough to consider that the people were mislead in voting for the bonds, when, if the period had been there as in the enrolled bill, they would have voted against the measure.

It is held at the capital that the enrolled bill is the one which will control the matter, and the clerical mistake made in printing the bill submitted will not invalidate either measure.

CITE MINISTER'S WIFE.
CHARGED WITH CONTEMPT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

STOCKTON, April 26.—Briddelle C. H. Washburn, W.C.T.U. worker, and wife of the Congregational minister at Lodi, was this morning ordered to appear in court by Judge J. A. Plummer and show cause why she should not be punished for contempt of court. She wrote a letter to Judge Plummer relative to the recent Atwood-Ladd will case, which is now under the advisement of the court, in which she stated that a great injustice had been done. Mrs. Washburn says that she intended the letter for Judge W. B. Nutter, who was succeeded by Judge Plummer, and who was an attorney in the case.

TO STRAIGHTEN SAN JOAQUIN.
GOVERNOR SIGNS THE BILL.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SACRAMENTO, April 26.—Work of rectifying the San Joaquin River may now go ahead under plans submitted by engineers of the United States government, for Gov. Johnson today signed the bill appropriating $15,000 to purchase land to be used as rights-of-way for the new river channel. According to the bill, the money is to be used for cut-offs and channels, so as to straighten the river and make it more navigable. All rights of way necessary must be purchased by the State and then deeded to the United States before any work will be done by the Federal engineers. The power to make these purchases is vested in the Governor. Other bills signed were: Bill 1016, providing for the compilation and publication of agricultural and other industrial statistics for the State of California. Senate bill No. 217 providing for the fund for the support of the State University for the next two years. Senate bill No. 609 for the purpose of regulating sale and use of persons in the State.

SENSATIONAL DIVORCE SUIT.

Wife of Wealthy New Yorker Claims He Tried to Poison Her and Beat Her Brutally.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RENO (Nev.) April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Charging that her husband was in the act of placing to her lips an overdose of chloral for the purpose of taking her life, when Marie Lager, a maid, dashed into the sick room and knocked the glass from his hands, and that her whole wedded life of fifteen years had been marked by frequent brutal beatings at his hands, Sarah D. Lewis yesterday appeared in District Court suing for a decree of divorce from John D. Lewis, clubman, son of the late Thomas Lewis, millionaire New York building contractor and director of several eastern banks. Mrs. Lewis's lawyer asked that the hearing of the case be set at a later date, presumably with a view to further adjustment of property rights.

The Lewises were married in New York December 4, 1884, and according to the complaint, upon which the seal was broken today to permit of the motion in court, Lewis dealt his wife a vicious blow less than three months after the wedding. Lewis and his wife came West in the spring of 1895, and while guests at the Occidental Hotel in San Francisco, the wife alleges he beat her until her cries brought the hotel manager to their apartments and the husband was threatened with eviction.

The climax came at the Plaza Hotel, New York, in the fall of the same year, when Mrs. Lewis became ill. The complaint here alleges that Lewis offered a nurse a large sum of money if she would administer a fatal dose of chloroform to his wife, the doctor having prescribed that medicine, and when the nurse left the house he attempted to give her the poisonous draught himself.

YIELD OF MINERALS.
CALIFORNIA A GREAT STATE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 26.—California's yield of minerals will probably total $100,000,000 for the present year, according to a report issued by Lewis E. Aubury, State Mineralogist. "In five years," it says, "the total production of petroleum has grown from $9,007,820 to $32,398,187. Gold has advanced from $19,197,043 to $20,237,570. In 1909 copper amounted in value to $8,478,142 as against $2,650,605 in 1905." There has been an average increase of almost $8,000,000 a year in the aggregate value of mineral products for the last five years and the ratio of increase has been advancing.

By Invitation.

BANK COMMISSIONER'S LAWYER TROUNCED BY A NEWSPAPERMAN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A. A. Deligne, former law-partner of Gov. Johnson, ex-corporation counsel and recently appointed attorney for State Bank Commissioner Williams, at $5000 a year, is confined to his home owing to a beating given to him early this morning by Arthur E. Dunning, a newspaper man, formerly of Los Angeles and at present city editor of a Sacramento newspaper. It was a fair fight invited by Deligne and grew out of Deligne's engagement to marry his stenographer, Miss Margaret Esseler.

Early last evening two friends of his called at the newspaper office and asked to see the article concerning the announcement of the engagement before it was printed. There was nothing in the article to which Deligne could have taken exceptions, but the request was refused because of the implied attempt to dictate to the paper what it should print.

Two or three hours later, Deligne decided that he would attend to the matter personally.

Over the telephone he told the acting city editor, M. E. Shrout, that he would "Kick the stuffing out of him" if there was anything in the story reflecting upon him or his fiancee.

He was invited to come down to the office and make good. He came, but he didn't make good.

The preliminaries were short. Shrout weighs only 109½ pounds, but he didn't like Deligne's talk and said so. Deligne made a pass at Shrout, but was grabbed by two other members of the office who happened to be in the room, and deposited with firmness and dispatch at the foot of the stairway.

Recovering his feet Deligne proposed that he could lick any one of them single and invited a combat on the neutral ground outside the office.

The city editor, C. A. Dunning, who had returned to the office during the row, accepted the challenge.

Round 1—Deligne goes six inches up in the air propelled by a straight right and left, and alights in a recumbent position.

Round 2—More of the same. Deligne bleeding badly.

Round 3—Deligne throws up the sponge and admits that he has made a mistake.

After washing off the blood at a hotel bar and obtaining some raw meat for poulticing, the attorney for the State Bank Commissioner sought rest and seclusion.

BABE WITNESSES MURDER.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

PUEBLO (Colo.) April 26.—Dray- n Gage, the 2-year-old son of Mr. d Mrs. John M. Gage of New York ity, and the grandson of Laughlin Case, a millionaire hotel man of Buffalo, N. Y., sat in his baby carriage in a park here early last night beside the body of Henry Brown, a railroad fireman, who killed himself at the baby's side after having shot and probably fatally wounded the child's nurse, who was his wife. Despite her wound, Mrs. Brown made her way to a neighboring house, where she collapsed after summoning aid. As far as known the baby was the sole witness of the tragedy.

NAMING OF TRIPLETS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

HENDERSON (Ky.) April 26.—Mr. and Mrs. George W. Duncan of Coreydon, this county, parents of triplets born March 8 last, have given out for publication letters received from President Taft, ex-President Roosevelt, Miss Helen Gould and Mrs. Russell Sage, all declining with thanks to name any of the children. President Taft congratulated the parents and wished "a long, prosperous and happy life" for the children, but declined to name them. Col. Roosevelt tendered "hearty congratulations" to both parents, particularly Mrs. Duncan. The colonel was asked to name one boy and Mrs. Roosevelt to name the girl. He wrote that he could not break a rule not to name children in such a case. Miss Gould and Mrs. Sage also declined to name the children, but sent expressions of appreciation to the parents. After they had been refused assistance from so many distinguished sources the Duncans decided to do the naming themselves and the triplets are now Ralph, Ruth and Rudy.

REWARD FOR KIDNAPERS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, April 26.—Emergency legislation, permitting Gov. Deneen to offer a reward for the safe return of Elsie Paroubek, 4 years old, who, it is believed, was kidnaped from her home here two weeks ago, was started in the General Assembly at Springfield yesterday. Bills went into both houses amplifying the statutes respecting the offering of rewards for the return of prisoners, which will place kidnaping in Illinois upon the same basis with murder. At present it is impossible for the Governor to offer a reward for the apprehension of persons accused of kidnaping.

Express Opinion That Uprising Near Fez Is Greatly Exaggerated With Purpose to Ultimately Split Territory Between Four Great Powers of Europe.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PARIS, April 26.—[Exclusive Distch.] Will an unveiling of the ysterious situation in the Moroc- n capital reveal an international andal in which France will appear the chief figure in a great intrigue divide Morocco with England, rmany and Spain?

The French socialist party, headed Jean Jaures, firmly believes that ch will be the case, and the opin- n is seconded by almost the entire rman press and a part of the Eng- h.

Dispatches received today from s, reporting that the condition of beleaguered city is unchanged, d telling of the repulse of the na- es by both garrisons in Fez and relief column under Bremond, pear in the radical newspapers. ese papers assert that the entire tion is being duped by plotters rking in the interests of capitalists o are seeking to exploit Morocco. is charged that the dispatches are rposely exaggerated and doubts expressed as to whether Fez was ally ever in danger. The fact is ed that the foreign legations there not sufficiently alarmed to send icial dispatches to their govern- ents.

M. Jaures, writing today, says that "falsifiers and the colonial plot- s have succeeded in their opera- n.

"If Spain raises any question, it ll be given a share. If the Ger- ans make inquiry, compensation ll be accorded at the expense of ance's general programme of rld politics. If the Moroccans rise, y will be shot."

The radicals further charge that vantage was taken of the recess of Chamber of Deputies to spring the plot and they acclaim the theory of the London Daily News that Morocco is soon to be divided among the four powers.

The Delaware sailed from Hampton Roads on January 31, and reached Valparaiso on March 11.

JACKOLA PINES FOR HER.

Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, However, Stigmatizes the Finn's Devotion As Nothing But Disorderly Conduct.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Society gathered in force in the West Side Court this afternoon to hear tried the charges Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont had brought today against Dr. John Jackola for disorderly conduct.

Jackola is from Finland and has been lecturing in this country for several months on woman's suffrage. In this connection he formed the acquaintance of Mrs. Belmont, the recognized leader of the equal rights folk.

To know her, with the doctor, was to love her. He immediately laid siege to the wealthy widow and sent her flowers, wrote her letters, and traveled down to her country place on Long Island, and haunted her city home. He insisted on marrying her and talked only of the coming ceremony as a matter already decided upon between them.

Somehow, it is said, it was through his own machinations he managed to have himself congratulated on the tender relations which were alleged to exist between them, and he had himself interviewed and the interview published. When he was asked in the course of this interview if it were true that he was going to marry Mrs. Belmont, the doctor smiled, blushed like a well-trained schoolgirl, and said it was too delicate a subject to discuss. He would prefer to have the announcement come from the lady, he said.

After Thirteen Years.

TOOK HIS TIME TO RESIGN JOB.

NOTED CRIMINOLOGIST QUITS PRISON CAREER.

Roosevelt's Man Friday in the Convention in Which the Former President Wrested Control From the Organization Bids Farewell to the Superintendency.

ALBANY (N. Y.) April 26.—Cornelius V. Collins of Troy, State Superintendent of Prisons for thirteen years, has resigned.

Soon after Gov. Dix assumer office in January he requested Superintendent Collins to resign, but he refused. The Governor's next move was to order an investigation of the State Commission in Lunacy, the State prisons and reformatories and the excise and highway departments. The prison department was the first investigated.

As a result in Sing Sing and Clinton prisons alleged irregularities in the purchase of supplies were developed, but no charges were preferred against Collins.

In his letter to the Governor the superintendent gave no reason for his resignation, but it is undersood a business opportunity was presented.

Mr. Collins is a member of the Republican State Committee and political leader of Rensselaer county. He was Theodore Roosevelt's "right hand man" at the last Republican State convention at Saratoga when Col. Roosevelt wrested the temporary chairmanship from Vice-President Sherman.

As a criminologist Superintendent Collins was well-known. During his long service at the head of New York's prison department he inaugurated many reforms. He abolished the lockstep, striped clothing and the clipping of convicts' hair. A comprehensive school system for prisoners was established in each prison, classification rules were enforced so that first offenders were kept apart from confirmed criminals and honor emblems were adopted; he inaugurated the finger-print system of indentification and sanitary barber shops were established, competent dentists and oculists were engaged to give the inmates' teeth and eyes the proper attention.

Through legislation recommended by Collins, Dennemora State Hospital was opened and the segregation of the convicted from the unconvicted insane prisoners was accomplished. Well equipped hospital accommodations for tuberculosis patients, as a result of which the prison death rate was generally reduced and the indeterminate sentence and parole systems were extnded.

All Is Vanity.

FAILS TO SAVE WIFE-SLAYER.

BUT ST. LOUIS WOMAN SAYS SHE IS GLAD SHE TRIED.

Despite the Confession She Made in Chicago to Keep Dr. Cleminson Out of Joliet Penitentiary Her Husband Has Promised to Forgive and Take Her Back.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "I am going home—to my husband," said Mrs. Anita Schmidt today.

"I came to Chicago to try to save Dr. Haldane Cleminson from a life sentence at Joliet. I risked the only thing I had, my home and my name, and my story has been scoffed at by attorneys and others.

"I have done all I can. If no one will interfere I shall go home and live with my husband again and wait. I've been told that my story is not going to be used unless I find it necessary to go before the Board of Pardons.

"I have been interviewed and I have answered all the questions that were asked me. I've stopped at nothing. I did not care what would result. But it happens that everything and everyone didn't turn against me as I thought they would. My husband writes to me, and he says he is still my husband and that if I come home he'll take me back.

"The people of Chicago have treated me nicely. I have not been snubbed. Some even thought I was a good woman after I had even confessed.

"If it develops that my story is not to be used as testimony, I shall still be glad I told it."

Mrs. Schmidt intends to leave for St. Louis tomorrow.

Cable dispatches from Berlin announce that the magnificent granite-fronted house which was the palatial home of the American Embassy there during the Ambassadorship of Charlemagne Tower is about to pass into the permanent possession of the Japanese government for embassy purposes.

COURTING PEACE BY TELEGRAPH.

Rebels Fear the Influnce of Reyes With Diaz.

His Coming May Jeopardize the Negotiations.

General Said to Be Anxious to Rule Mexico.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

EL PASO (Tex.) April 26.—It developed today that peace negotiations are proceeding by telegraph between Madero's camp and the City of Mexico, in order to leave for the official commissioners little but technical work, such as the wording of the agreement, and that the revolutionists view with some alarm the announcement that Gen. Bernardo Reyes is to return from Paris.

It is learned from an authentic source that the revolutionists fear Reyes will persuade President Diaz that Minister Limantour has lured the President into granting too many concessions to the rebels in order to bring about peace. It is said that Limantour and Reyes have never been on good terms, and that the latter is predisposed to pick flaws in anything done by Limantour.

It is known that when the announcement was made that Gen. Reyes was to return to Mexico, President Diaz was informed by telegraph that his presence might jeopardize negotiations. Just what action Gen. Diaz took is not known, but Gen. Reyes postponed his sailing from the 21st to the 25th. Yesterday he again postponed it until the 27th, if a telegram received here is correct.

REYES TOO AMBITIOUS.

Reyes is alleged to be ambitious to become President and his influence over the Federal army is great. Whether this would influence his counsel in the Mexican capital cannot be stated, but it is an assured fact that the revolutionists do not want him there. It is feared, justly or unjustly, that he would bring about modification of concessions which the government is now willing to make to such an extent that Madero would have no other course than to reopen the revolution.

Knowledge that peace negotiations were proceeding by telegraph came as a surprise, as it had been stated by those most concerned that this method was too cumbersome and that it had been determined to leave the work to official commissioners.

Madero tonight still awaited word that the government had appointed its peace commission. For three days now, there has been disappointment on that score. The rebel leader professed to see nothing of sinister portent in the delay, however.

ARMISTICE NEAR OVER.

In two days more the armistice will have expired and Madero probably will have to make some explanation to the troops. This, however, he is abundantly able to do, as he can report much progress in the negotiations by telegraph.

Madero said that railroads leading south out of Juarez would not be repaired pending the conclusion of the armistice, unless they were in the hands of the insurrectos. The repairing of the road between Juarez and Chihuahua, in particular, he said, would afford a means of bringing Federal reinforcements to Juarez if peace negotiations should fail. He was willing, however, that repairs be made to the track of the Mexico Northwestern Railroad, now being operated by the insurrectos to a point with twelve miles of Juarez.

SPAIN MAKES FORMAL PROTESTS TO MEXICO.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

MEXICO CITY, April 26.—Spain, through her Minister to Mexico, Bernardo de Cologan y Cologan, today made formal protest to the Foreign Office against the assassination of five subjects of King Alfonso in the State of Puebla last Monday.

The incident that has resulted in Spanish representations occurred on Ateningo Hacienda, in the State of Puebla, the property of Angel Diaz Rubin, a Spaniard. A small band of rebels swooped down upon the office of the hacienda, where nine of the employees, all Spaniards, were gathered.

Their demand for 5000 pesos being refused, they chased the Spaniards from the office with machetes and, as they fled, fired at them, fatally wounding five. It was on this same hacienda that rebels appeared some days ago and secured rifles, ammunition and 25,000 pesos.

AMERICANS ENDANGERED.

Revolutionary Bandits Reported to Have Attacked Small Community Near Durango, Mexico.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Several American citizens have been attacked by revolutionary bandits, twenty-five miles from Durango, M x., and are believed to be in danger, according to a report received today by t e State Department from Consul Freeman at Durango. Mounted Mexican soldiers have been dispatched to the rescue.

The department was also advised that the Americans, including several women and children, who had been held prisoners at Alamo were now free to leave that town, the insurrectos having left the place. All of the Americans have been unharmed. Sporadic outbreaks in the States of Campeche, Sinaloa, Durango and Mexico (near the town of Chalco,) and the city of Puebla were reported to the department. The news of the armistice, it is believed here, has not reached these places.

REBELS CAPTURE FUERTE.

GET RECRUITS FOR ARMY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NOGALES (Mex.) April 26.—The town of Fuerte, the t rminus of the Kansas City, Mexico and Oriente Railroad, and formerly capital of the State of Sinaloa, was captured by a band of about a hundred rebels on the morning of April 22, according to advices received here. Chief of Police Ibanez is reported to have persuaded the members of the National Guard and the prisoners, which he released from the jail to join t e rebels. The Federals were commanded by Capt. Gonzales.

PROTEST SENT TO ENGLAND.

Action of British Ship in Landing Marines at San Quentin Taken Up Formally By Mexico.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

LONDON, April 26.—The Mexican government has communicated to the British Foreign Office a formal protest against the action of Capt. Vivian of the British sloop Shearwater in landing marines at San Quentin, Lower California, which action is described as an interference in the international affairs of Mexico.

Announcement to this effect was made in a very brief dispatch received at the Foreign Office today, from T. B. Hohler, British charge d'affairs at Mexico City since the departure of Mr. Tower.

Mr. Hohler stated that the text of the protest was going forward by mail. No action will be taken here pending its receipt and the explanation which Capt. Vivian has mailed to London.

On April 11, Capt. Vivian landed thirty men and a Maxim gun at San Quentin to protect that town from what was represented to be a threatened attack by Mexican insurrectos. The revolutionary movement did not materialize and the marines were withdrawn.

This was the first actual landing of foreign forces on Mexican soil in connection with the present rebellion. The matter caused a stir in Mexico City and it has been stated that the government of President Diaz would make a protest at London.

Capt. Vivian has since been quoted as saying that he acted on the written request of two Mexican government officers, who asked for protection of the British flag, asserting their lives were in danger. This request, he added, was supplemented by a similar appeal for the protection of their property by two British residents and one American.

REBELS EXILE SALINAS.

Dissatisfied Insurrectos Near Mexicali Pack their Leader Across the American Boundary Line.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

MEXICALI (L. C.) April 26.—Francisco Vasquez Salinas, leader of the Mexican insurrectos here, was deposed last night and forced to cross the border line into the United States. His men took this action because they were dissatisfied with Salinas's method of collecting tribute from Mexicali merchants, and also claim he was not using the money properly.

Citizens of Calexico, Cal., just across the border line, today telegraphed a second protest to Washington, asking that some action be taken to restore normal peace conditions.

The insurrecto band under Capt. Pryce continue their raids on near-by ranches. They are taking whatever they can find, horses, supplies, and even clothing of the laborers employed on the irrigation canal.

CIRCLE BAR RANCH RAIDED.

Small Band of Insurrectos Robs Cattle Company Near Ensenada of Horses and Saddles.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN DIEGO, April 26.—After raiding the ranch of the Circle Bar Cattle Company, thirty miles from Ensenada, of twenty horses and twelve saddles, twelve negroes, twenty Americans and twenty Mexicans, under Jack Mosby and Col. Valenzuela, camped last night at Valle Seco, eighteen miles this side of Real del Castillo.

The raid was made Monday and information of it being received this morning at Tia Juana, the little town was immediately placed under guard, and scouts were thrown out to the southward to watch the approach of the rebel horsemen. Alamo has been abandoned, and one of the American families there is said to be on the way to Mexicali overland. This is the family of G. Raffi, concerning whose fate the State Department ordered an investigation.

It is believed at Ensenada, Tia Juana and by Americans in this city who have large land interests in Lower California, that the rebel band now will attempt to get back into the United States either by way of Tia Juana or at some lonely spot on the American line that may not be guarded.

No troops have been sent from Ensenada by the Mexican government to attack the rebels, and there seems to be a disposition to let the rebels leave peaceably if they will. Simon Berthold is not with the band.

MADERO GIVEN GLAD HAIL.

Mexican-Americans of El Paso Serenade Revolutionary Leader at His Adobe Capitol Near Boundary.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

EL PASO, April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A crowd of Mexican-Americans from El Paso, accompanied by the Conchas Mexican Military Band, went across the foot bridge at the smelter tonight to serenade Francisco Madero at his adobe capitol near the international line. Several hundred Mexicans and Americans made the trip, and an informal reception was held by Madero and his staff in the adobe house. Mrs. Madero, wife of the provisional President, was present, as were his father and brothers. They were all cheered, and a number of speeches were made in Spanish during the reception.

sensations enough for one day and the streets are delirious with boys shouting extras and extraordinaries in default of the official announcement. Those who like to prophesy and have done so with some success recently, say that Laredo, or New Laredo, is to be the scene of the peace conventions, and that Minister of Finance Limantour and Minister of Foreign Affairs De La Barra and Governor De Hesa of Vera Cruz are to represent Gen. Diaz. With a further touch at the last moment, some say Minister Limantour will send a substitute and remain in the capital with the President.

TALKS TO PRESS.

Minister De la Barra received a large number of representatives of the Mexican press this evening in the reception-hall of the Foreign Office. It was the beginning of a policy he has announced in Congress that the government intended to pursue, to get in closer touch with the press, and, by its aid, with the people.

He began with a remarkable and impressive speech, by denouncing the murders of the five Spaniards and ranchmen in the State of Puebla, a horrible occurrence which became known here this afternoon. He stated that only an hour before he had informed the Spanish Minister that whatever could be done would be done; that the government would make what amends lay in its power.

The Foreign Minister called upon his listeners to forget all differences and to denounce the perpetrators of these atrocious crimes. The Civil War times, he said, are sad enough and must necessarily be so, but innocent foreigners and their families should not be drawn into our quarrels and should not suffer for our wrongs.

Unless the nation, as one man, and the press, as one paper, denounce the crime that had been done by bandits in the name of liberty, the Foreign Minister said, irreparable damage would be done to the reputation and the standing of Mexicans as a cultured people.

HOPEFUL OF PEACE.

The Minister's speech was vibrant with emotion and made a great impression upon all of his hearers.

In regard to peace negotiations he went on to say that the armistice has been renewed for five days and that before the expiration of that time it is his hope to announce the basic principles on which definitive negotiations will be continued. He hoped tomorrow or next day, he said, to announce the names of the Federal commissioners and the place of the meeting.

Senor De la Barra confessed to a feeling of growing optimism on the part of the government from the President down. He assured his hearers that he was willing to make any personal sacrifice, if such it could be called, to save the country from fratricidal strife.

In the last few hours, the Foreign Minister said, he had begun to think, and he believed it was not without reason, that Madero and his friends were animated by the same spirit and that if events proved this to be the case, all would be well and the clouds which were still hanging over the horizon, though not nearly of such sombre hues as they were ten days ago, would quickly and entirely vanish.

HYDE RELEASED ON HEAVY BOND.

MUST ANSWER CHARGE OF FIRST DEGREE MURDER.

"I am Fearfully Happy," Said the Wife of the Kansas City Doctor When Notified That Her Husband Had Been Freed by Habeas Corpus Procedings.

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Dr. B. Clark Hyde was today released from jail on a $50,000 bond, to appear next Monday morning in Criminal Court to answer the charge of first degree murder for killing Col. Thomas H. Swope. The Circuit Court en banc agreed to grant the writ of habeas corpus applied for by Dr. Hyde. He immediately furnished the bond and became a free man after exactly one year in jail.

"This is fine," Dr. Hyde said. "The action was quicker than I expected, but I am not complaining of the speed. I now am ready for a new trial just as quickly as the State will give it to me. There'll be no delay on this side."

"I am fearfully happy, that's all," Mrs. Hyde said. Her face said it for her even before her lips moved, and one had but to look into her eyes to see that she had no fault to find.

From the courthouse, Dr. and Mrs. Hyde went immediately to the law offices of Frank P. Walsh.

"I'm so happy, so happy," Mrs. Hyde said as friend after friend shook hands with her. Then she was asked for a statement.

"I'm going to write this myself," she said, when her attorney suggested they would aid her. "I'm going to tell everybody how happy and thankful I am."

And this is what Mrs. Hyde dictated:

"I knew, during every long and weary day of this awful year that my prayers would be answered, that God had surely not forsaken us.

"This is the happiest day of my life. I have Clark back at my side. The highest court in the State after reading every particle of what everyone had to say against Clark, says just what I have repeated over and over again in the court and elsewhere, that any husband never harmed or attempted harm to my dear dead cousin Moss, or any of my brothers, or sisters.

"Outside of my knowledge of Clark's kind and gentle disposition I was present and knew how hard and conscientiously he worked to relieve the sufferings of my dear ones. Then too, I am so gratified that all of the seven circut judges, whom every one in the city respected, after looking over all the evidence in Uncle Thomas' case, all believed Clark should be allowed to go out on bail.

"I fell sure that in the next trial the jury will believe me when I tell them the truth regarding the details of the last illness and death of my dear uncle. I know better than any other person in the world, except Clark himself, that there is no more foundation for the charges against him respecting my uncle's death than there was for those that are now so completely and happily cleared away by the Supreme Court."

"I'm going to practice medicine right here," said Dr. Hyde. "I haven't made any arrangements yet about obtaining my old offices in the Keith & Perry building, but I may go back there. I have lots of friends in the building. I'm anxious to begin practicing again. I expect to do so in a few days."

This was participated in by lodges from the several cities of Southern California, the handsome silk banners showing that Los Angeles, Atlas, Anaheim, Orange, Artesia, Pasadena, Sawtelle, Pasadena, Semi Tropic, Long Beach, Alhambra and Watts were in the line. The Rebekahs represented Heliotrope, Columbia, Eidelweiss, Del Mar, Eastgate, Boyle Heights and South Pasadena. The parade, which was admiringly viewed by thousands who lined the streets along the route traveled and from the upper-story windows of buildings along the way, shouted their joyous expressions of good will as the uniformed delegations passed in review. The Auditorium was the scene of the prize drill contest of the Rebekahs. This was participated in by nine organizations, prizes being awarded as follows: Del Mar of Long Beach, first, $25; Heliotrope of Pomona, second, $15; Eidelweiss, Los Angeles, third, $10. The prize contest was followed by an exhibition drill by Ramona Rebekah of Riverside. Then came an exhibition drill by the Santa Ana and Riverside cantons, which brought the afternoon's programme to a close.

MANY ATTEND BALL.

Many of the visitors remained through the evening and took part in the grand Odd Fellows' ball, given in the Auditorium. Here the enjoyable festivities of the day were rounded out in full measure.

One of the prominent visitors of the day was Samuel H. Mitchell, Past Chaplain of the St. Anthony lodge of Minneapolis, who is perhaps the oldest Odd Fellow in point of membership in the State. For fifty-eight years he has been a member of the organization.

Local arrangements for the anniversary celebration were in charge of a committee consisting of W. M. Palmer, H. J. Stanley, F. E. Wright, J. A. Swift, T. E. Crain and J. L. Johnson.

NEWPORT (R. I.) April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Nina Chinn Walter has won the decision in her suit for divorce from her husband, Civil Engineer James W. G. Walter, U.S.N., attached to the naval training station. The case has been pending in various forms in the Superior Court for eighteen months. The allegations of Mrs. Walter were infidelity, a woman named Mabel Cooper, a former waitress, being named, extreme cruelty and gross misbehavior. On these only the major charge is sustained by Judge Baker, whose opinion gives Mrs. Walter the custody of the four children and allows her $300 a month for her support and that of the boys and girls. The matter of alimony, however, may be taken up again.

ROCK ISLAND TO RUN NEW TRAINS

Memphis-California Direct by First-Class Flyer.

Innovation to Develop Great Panhandle Territory.

Service to Commence Second Week of Next Month.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] One of the most notable improvements in the history of the Rock Island passenger department and an important event in the development of transcontinental railway service, is announced to occur on May 14, when the company will inaugurate through first-class passenger trains between Memphis and California over the Memphis-California short line. This line extends directly west from Memphis, through Arkansas, Oklahoma and across the panhandle of Texas, to connect with the main line of the Rock Island at Tucumcari, N. M. Heretofore only a local passenger service has been in operation beyond Little Rock.

The innovation, to be made within a few weeks, means that a rapidly growing territory in the Texas panhandle, New Mexico and Arizona is brought nearer by many hours to Memphis and a large section of the East and Southeast. It shortens materially the distance between the Southeast and Pacific Coast, and provides a thoroughly modern service.

For the present trains will be operated between Memphis and El Paso daily, connecting en route with the Rock Island's fast train—making possible the trip from the Southeast to Southern California in equipment of the highest grade without change of trains. In addition to Pullman equipment and chair cars, tourist sleeping cars through from Memphis to California will be operated frequently.

The first train will leave Memphis in the early afternoon of May 14, and the service will be operated daily thereafter.

Mystery.

WIFE OF A LOF ANGELES MAN TAKES POISON IN KANSAS CITY.

Conflicting Stories of J. R. Jones, the Husband, Who Tells Inquirers First That the Drug Was Swallowed by Mistake and Then That the Act Was Due to Despondency—Chicago Trip Interrupted by Her Condition.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. J. R. Jones, said to be the wife of a wealthy real estate man of Los Angeles, is seriously ill in the University Hospital as the result of having swallowed several grains of bichloride of mercury, either with suicidal intent or by mistake, early this morning in her room in the fashionable Estell apartments, No. 1018 Broadway.

Efforts on the part of Mrs. Jones's husband and every one connected with the case to hide the facts have surrounded it with mystery. That Mrs. Jones took the poison probably never would have become public if the physician who was called had not telephoned for an ambulance and had her removed to the Emergency Hospital, where she was treated by Dr. E. A. Pond. Later she was taken to the University Hospital. There it was reported that she was entered on the records as Mrs. F. E. Hansell and it was said that, while her condition was serious, she probably would recover.

According to the version of the affair given by Jerome B. Bray, manager of the apartments, Mr. and Mrs. Jones live in Los Angeles and were on their way to visit relatives in Chicago. They are close friends of A. Wurthman, manager of the Kansas City Pants and Skirt Company, who has bachelor apartments in the Estell, and when they decided to go to Chicago several weeks ago they wrote him that they would stop off for a day and visit him.

Wurthman told Bray of this and asked him to prepare a room for his friends across the hall from his suite. Yesterday he notified the manager that Jones and his wife would arrive last night, and the room was made ready.

Bray had gone to bed when the couple drove up in a cab from the depot, about 11 o'clock, he says, and they did not register, being shown to their room by Wurthman, who met them at the station.

Early this morning a telephone call was received by a physician who has offices a short distance from the apartments. He hurried to the Estell and found Mrs. Jones to be a victim of bichloride of mercury and in a dangerous condition. When he asked her name he received only the answer: "We'll pay cash for this call."

The doctor deemed Mrs. Jones's condition so dangerous that he called a police ambulance and sent her to the Emergency Hospital.

Mr. Jones accompanied his wife to the hospital and told her physicians there that she had taken the poison because she was despondent. He told Bray and Wurthman, according to their statements, that she had taken an overdose of nerve medicine, which she used when she could not sleep and when confronted with the two statements he said if his wife had taken bichloride of mercury she did so believing it was the nerve medicine.

Wurthman said he had known Mr. and Mrs. Jones eighteen years and the husband was a wealthy real estate dealer of Los Angeles. This statement was borne out by that of the husband. Mrs. Jones wore a diamond valued at about $1000 and her clothing was of the best. The husband was well dressed and had all the marks of a prosperous business man. When seen in Wurthman's apartment, on the return from the hospital, a long, newly-made scratch marred his right cheek.

That Mrs. Jones could have taken the bichloride of mercury in the belief that it was a nerve tonic was said to be hardly possible by the physicians in the case this morning. In fact, the husband told Dr. Pond that she had taken the poison because she was despondent and the physician so entered it on the books of the Emergency Hospital.

Exciting.

ATHLETIC SALESMAN BATTLES WITH BURGLAR AT HIS HOME.

CONFRONTED with a burglar as he entered his home last night, about 10:30 o'clock, J. B. Cornwall of No. 3001 Wilshire boulevard, a salesman for the real estate firm of Mines & Farish, gave battle to the intruder while Mrs. Cornwall telephoned to the police. The burglar proved the strongest and got away before the arrival of the police.

The Cornwalls, who live in a fine home, had gone to a theater. On their return, Mrs. Cornwall stepped forward and turned on the lights in the front parlor. She caught a glimpse of the burglar and screamed.

Before he began swinging real estate deals, Cornwall was something of an athlete. He still prides himself or his physical prowess, and fear is a stranger to him.

When he saw the burglar slipping out of a window at the sound of Mrs. Cornwall's scream, Cornwall boldly ran forward and caught the fugitive by the leg. With a mighty pull he hauled him back into the room.

From then on the programme was lively. Burglars, as a rule, do not like to have their legs pulled by real estate men any more than do persons in legitimate business. The burglar in this particular instance did not seem to have accumulated enough loot to enable him to prolong a session with a real estate salesman of athletic ability. He grew ugly in his efforts to leave.

The men went to the mat—that is, the carpet of the best room of the home. They rolled here and there, trying strangle holds, hammerlocks, toe holds, half-Nelsons and plain choke holds.

Mrs. Cornwall did not hang around to cheer her knight to victory. She is not the sort that wrings her hands and wails when danger is near. While Cornwall was fighting, she was busy with the telephone. She believed her husband had the burglar hard and fast and may have slipped headquarters this, urging, however, that an officer be sent at once.

But the fact is that Cornwall was not in his best form. He recently recovered from severe illness. His strength did not hold out. After a few plays on the rugs, the burglar tossed Cornwall aside, and slid out of the window from which he had been pulled. When a wagonload of officers arrived, the only trace of him was the muss he had made.

It was discovered that a rear and a side window had been broken open with a jimmy. At midnight neither the Cornwalls nor Detective Fitzgerald were able to say how much had been stolen.

NEW RACE IN WESTERN KANSAS.

Adverse Conditions Productive of Great-muscled, Active-brained Strain of Humanity, Says Professor.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NORTON (Kan.) April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "The Kansan of the future will come from the broad prairies in the western part of the State, where is being developed a big-muscled, active-brained human strain with the stamina, persistence and energy which will make its men and women leaders in the affairs of state."

This is the opinion expressed at a public meeting at Colby last night by J. W. Longstreeth of the United States Department of Agriculture. Longstreeth was one of the lecturers of the dry-farming special train which has just closed a five-weeks' tour of the semi-arid sections of the Southwest.

"This fighting against scant moisture and the high winds is developing the most independent, healthiest and most healthful people in America, right here on the plains of western Kansas," said Longstreth.

"They will be a force to be reckoned with in the future of our great State. Eastern Kansas has no conception of the great work that is going on here among you people to make these plains productive. You have overcome conditions that would frighten farmers accustomed to a life of comparative ease."

ORE RAILROADS INDICTED ON REBATING CHARGES.

Government to Press Cases As Test of Elkins Law and Is Conviction Is Secured Can Collect Millions of Dollars in Fines and Penalties. First Investigation.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CLEVELAND, April 26.—Ten indictments on 107 counts, charging four iron ore-carrying railroads entering Cleveland with rebating, and alleging that two were guilty of conspiracy to violate the Elkins law were returned by the Federal grand jury here today. Indictments of individuals also were returned.

The railroads are the Pennsylvania, the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern, the Bessemer and Lake Erie, and the New York, Chicago, and St. Louis (Nickel Plate.)

The indictments were returned as follows:

Dan R. Hanna, president and R. L. Ireland, second vice-president of the M. A. Hanna Company, Cleveland, and D. T. McCabe of Pittsburgh, fourth vice-president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, conspiring to violate the Elkins law. The Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railway Company, the Pennsylvania, the Bessemer and Lake Erie, and the New York, Chicago and St. Louis railroads.

The cases are Interstate Commerce Commission actions brought to insure that published ore-shipping rates are effective. The government will seek to show the indicted railroads owned docking facilities in Ashtabula (O.) and Conneaut (O.) harbors; that these were operated by companies in effect "hired" by the railroads; that the roads paid excessive rates to the docking companies, paid over a portion of the moneys received to the shippers, and that the whole constitutes a conspiracy in violation of the Elkins law.

The penalty for rebating is a fine of not less than $1000 nor more than $20,000, with imprisonment not to exceed two years.

The penalty for conspiracy is not to exceed a fine of $10,000 and imprisonment not to exceed two years.

In addition, under the Elkins law, the government has the right to bring civil suit for three times the amount of money rebated. It would be possible, in case of conviction, for the government to collect many millions of dollars.

The investigation leading up to today's action is the first government inquiry into ore transportation methods in the lower lake regions.

About forty witnesses were examined by the grand jury, including officials representing the railroads and ore companies and of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Co., Pittsburgh; the Carnegie Steel Company, Pittsburgh; the M. A. Hanna company, Cleveland; the Wheeling Steel and Iron Company; the Ashland Iron and Mining Company; the American Steel and Iron Company and the National Tube Company.

POLICE AT THE WEDDING.

Black Hand Threats Caused Wealthy Chicago Resident to Take Extra Precautions for his Daughter.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, April 26.—A score of detectives in evening clothes mingled with the fashionable crowd at the wedding of Miss Minnie Cuneo, daughter of Andrew Cuneo, millionaire Italian commission merchant, to Dr. Frederick Wetterer, when the ceremony was performed at the Church of the Assumption, a few blocks from the "Little Hell" Italian district this evening.

At the Cuneo home following the wedding the detectives formed a bodyguard for the bride and her father. In addition a squad of police was detailed to form a cordon around the church while the ceremony was being performed, to prevent "Black Hand" agents carrying out death threats made in several letters which have been received by Mr. Cuneo.

Since the last letter from the "Black Hand" was received three weeks ago Mr. Cuneo has ben in constant communication with the police.

Mr. Cuneo, who is one of the wealthiest Italians in the West, has been a target of "Black Hand" letters for several years. When Mrs. Carrie Zuorelli, first of his six daughters to be married, was wedded, threats of violence were made in letters. The "Black Hand" agents a short time later waylaid and shot Mr. Cuneo, inflicting severe wounds. Almost immediately upon his recovery, threatening letters were again sent to him.

BIG PRICES FOR BOOKS.

A Tome That the Great Napoleon Ordered to Be Destroyed Disposed of in New York City.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, April 26.—American bidders continued to take the cream of the offerings at the second day of the auction of the late Robert Hoe's collection of rare books.

The highest price reached was $9000, at which the original edition of William Blake's poem, "Milton," was sold to George D. Smith, presumably acting for Henry E. Huntington of California. The first French edition of a Boccaccio work which Mr. Hoe acquired for less than $4000 was sold to Smith for $7000.

Miss Belle Green, librarian for J. P. Morgan, paid $3500 for a copy of "The Marriage of Heaven and Hell," by Blake.

One of the most startling jumps in a book's value was taken by William Cullen Bryant's "Presentation Copy of the Embargo," bought by Mr. Hoe in 1888 for $24 and sold to W. F. Wallace today for $3550.

A romance written by Lucien Bonaparte and addressed to Madame Juberthon, whom he married in 1802, was sold to Quarich for $1725. This work, of which only three copies are known to exist, was bought by Mr. Hoe for $1200. Napoleon Bonaparte caused the edition to be destroyed, but three copies were preserved.

Four Armed Robbers in Chicago Beat Proprietor and Steal Plunder Worth Fifteen Thousand Dollars.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, April 26.—Four armed robbers, who had a limousine car, entered the jewelry store of Edward Alberti, No. 1246 Milwaukee avenue, today, beat the proprietor and a clerk helpless and escaped with plunder valued at $15,000.

Alberti and the clerk were left tied to chairs in a room back of the store. The jeweler's son and two other persons also were beaten by the robbers. The car in which the robbers escaped was stolen by them in a distant part of the city a short time previous.

PAY DIRT IN THE WYE.

Detroit Man Thinks He Is About to Solve Shakespeare Riddle.

[Associated Press Night Report.]

CHEPSTOW (Eng.) April 26.—Dr. Orville W. Owen of Detroit and his lieutenants started afresh today delving into the mud of the River Wye for Bacon's secret. The American is thoroughly optimistic and believes that the boat-like structure discovered in the bed of the river contains the Baconian manuscripts. Today's operations were confined to an area enclosed by logs enclosing something in the nature of a coffer-dam. Deposits of stones were removed and the layer of clay reached.

Sounding rods were put down and struck a hard surface. No further developments are expected immediately as it will take two tides to clear away the clay covering the hard bottom touched by the sounding rods.

Dr. Owen believes that he has discovered the key to a cipher in which Bacon reveals the hiding place of documents to establish that he (Bacon) wrote not only the Shakespearean plays, but other works long credited to various authors.

HERE'S A TALK
FROM ME TO YOU
RED APPLE LANDS.

MY talk here is addressed to farmers, and if it so happens that they be GOOD farmers, so much the better. Then they'll appreciate, even more, the force of what I have to say.

I'm quite willing to admit that there is other farm land that will produce just as big crops as this. Most always one has to go to Maine to equal our overage potato yield, to Illinois to duplicate our corn, to Iowa to match our oats and to Oregon to find apples that compare with ours. But here and there you will find soil that will, as ours will, equal or surpass the products of several States.

But without water in quantities and at low expense, that splendid soil of ours, or of any one's else might just as well be Death Valley. And right here is where OWENS VALLEY begins to draw away from other lands. Right up in the high Sierras to the west of us (you can walk up their slopes to a point 11,000 feet above the sea and back again the same day) lie hundreds of mountain lakes of pure, soft water. They're inexhaustible. They're fed by never-ending snows and by myriad springs.

And they've been made to do work for mankind through an irrigation system; gravity, steel and concrete; that was built by the same engineers who made the best irrigating plants for Southern California's orange groves.

Now, by the time you take Owens Valley's marvelously fertile soil, and add water, add it not in downpours and cloudbursts and floods, but add it as you want to, and as it is necessary, you are getting hold of the possibilities of such apple and farm land as you never dreamed of before.

Another point, and it's an important one, climate! In our valley we have 300 days of sunshine, with extremes neither of heat nor cold. Those "cool summer nights" that you read about become here a reality. Along about 3 o'clock in the afternoon you'll feel the breeze change until it comes down the whole valley, fresh and keen and bracing from the snow fields above. Winter here is crisp, not cold.

The money-making possibilities there are another story. Books could be written about them and then the whole tale would not have been told. Apples have not been called the "farmer's Klondyke" for nothing. They're the most profitable crop you can possibly raise here or anywhere else. And this land is GOOD apple land. Trees yield heavily. They yield fancy fruit. nAd there's a spice and tang to their product's flavor that you find in the apples coming from just three other States—Oregon, Washington and Colorado.

For general farming OWENS VALLEY is as good as for apples. We have in our offices samples of OWENS VALLEY crops that it will do your heart good to see. And they're really SAMPLES. They're NOT mere examples.

Our booklets, maps and photographs are free for the asking.

And I hope I've interested a few good, live farmers to the extent that they will ask.

JAMES R. H. WAGNER,
329 South Hill st.

ONE OF THE BEST VALUE-GIVING INVESTMENTS
IN CALIFORNIA,
LOOK INTO VAN NUYS-LANKERSHIM
LANDS NOW.

Would appeal to any logical far-seeing investor from the money making opportunity alone. Just consider a 5, 10 or 20-acre ranch only four miles from Los Angeles, 45 minutes by car, with soil and climate so near perfection that they will produce nuts, peaches, apricots, deciduous and other fruits without irrigation. Also garden produce, poultry, dairying and hog raising thrive here. Just consider what opportunities are here for the man who invests now with no intention of ranching, when Los Angeles has her million population in 1920 or even before then, when the land is subdivided. You're losing valuable time and valuable opportunities if you've not seen these lands. Don't waste any more time. Come out today in one of our machines that go every two hours.

OWENS RIVER LANDS—

FOR SALE—

A PARTICULARLY
IN THE
APPLE BELT.
Apples, Alfalfa, Dairy, Hogs.

We offer 510 acres of highly improved land in the Owens Valley, with an abundance of free mountain water, that will pay good interest upon the purchase price. It is essentially an income proposition and it holds out also very strong attractions to him who would invest in the hope of quickly increasing land values.

This farm has the best house in the valley, 10 rooms, a fully-equipped creamery, a milking barn, and a fifteen-acre apple orchard, in which there is now set on the trees, a $5000 crop of fruit. A hundred acres are in alfalfa, 40 in corn, 30 in wheat.

About ½ of the land is in a high state of cultivation, the balance is sagebrush, and is the best sort of apple land when cleared. The fifteen acres now in apples, will pay interest upon the cost of the entire property.

On this farm there are 250 acres of fruit land of the very highest grade, which can be planted and brought to full bearing, purely from the earnings of the property as it now stands. 250 acres of full-bearing apple orchard, would yield an income almost staggering. Yet such an income is within easy reach of the man who will work this farm to its capacity.

We can deliver this property for $50,000. A small cash payment will handle it and easy terms will be given on the balance.

Near-Fatal Ending of Romance Begun in Poland.

Wedding Set for Saturday, But Groom 'Phones No.

Brooklyn Girl Seeks Embrace of Chill Death.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] One of the most remarkable romances in the knowledge of the Brooklyn police came to an end early today, when Anna Kushman swallowed poison at the home of her employer, Maurice Grossman.

The man for whom she fled from her home in Poland had just called her up on the telephone.

"I cannot marry you on Saturday night," he told her. "My heart is breaking. I shall kill myself."

He told her he thought he had consumption and should not marry. Ten minutes later her employer found her in a faint in the hall, beneath the dangling receiver of the room. An hour later she was found unconscious from the effects of a bottle of chloroform she had swallowed. She was removed to a hospital, where the physicians think she may live.

The police investigation revealed a remarkable story. Miss Kushman is the daughter of a well-to-do family in the interior of Poland, her father being a professor at one of the smaller universities there.

Stephen Bohack was a student at the institution and the young people fell madly in love. Two years ago Bohack was drafted for service in the Russian army. In desperation the lovers determined to escape and came to America.

Miss Kushman made her way through a window at midnight, in true romantic style, and, wrapped in a fur robe, the pair drove twenty miles over the snow in a sleigh until they reached a town from which their departure for America was possible.

On their arrival here both secured employment, saved their money and had planned to marry Saturday. Then the tragedy intervened.

Chicagoan Celebrates Civil War Enlistment of Fifty Years Ago by Wedding Old-time Sweetheart.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The fiftieth anniversary of his enlistment in the United States Army at the outbreak of the Civil War was celebrated Saturday by Albert Dickinson, 69 years old, a seed merchant, by his elopement and marriage to an old-time sweetheart. The wedding was the result of a romance which had its inception more than twenty years ago, when Miss Emma L. Benham, now Mrs. Dickinson, was a student in the Northwestern University Dental College.

Mr. Dickinson was 19 years old when the war broke out, and he enlisted in Battery D, of the Chicago Light Artillery. After the close of the war he engaged in the grain business in Durant, Iowa, later coming to Chicago and engaging in the seed business.

Spokane Girl Says Wealthy Man She Had Rejected Engaged Another to Throw Acid on Her.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SPOKANE (Wash.) April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Infuriated because pretty 22-year-old May Porter had refused to marry him after she had accepted his suit, Zac Tischer, a wealthy man, aged 55, is alleged by the girl to have employed a man unknown to her to throw ether vitriol or sulphuric acid over her clothes Tuesday night, while she and Tischer were walking home on Riverside avenue. The police arrested Tischer.

"Tischer has been wanting me to marry him a long time and begged a definite answer by six o'clock last night,' said Miss Porter.

"We had supper down town together last night and I told him I would not marry him. When I went out of the hotel where I am employed I noticed him talking to another man. Suddenly I felt something hit me hard across the back and screamed. I caught a glimpse of the man I saw Tischer talking to. He carried what appeared to be a liquid pistol in his right hand.

"'Somebody has hit me,' I told Tischer. He held me so that I could not see the man who threw the acid. Then he took me home. Later my mother told me he had threatened that I would not wear my new suit after a few hours."

MONTANA WOMAN MURDERED.

Pioneer Resident of State Found Dead in Bed With Throat Slashed. House Fired to Cover Up Crime.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MILES CITY (Mont.) April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Jane Wood, aged eighty, a pioneer resident of eastern Montana, was found murdered, by a policeman yesterday morning. The aged woman's throat had been cut and her bed fired, apparently in an effort to burn the house and cover the crime.

The officers are looking for a sheep herder of immense stature who was seen sitting in the door step with the woman the night before. As Mrs. Wood was known to be practically destitute, the authorities are puzzled for a motive for the deed.

HOLY SEE AND PORTUGAL.

Church at Rome Officially Ignores Proclamation of Republic—Clergy May Not Submit to Separation Law.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ROME, April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Speaking to the Los Angeles Times correspondent today on the religious crisis in Portugal, Cardinal Vincenzo Vanutello, for many years nuncio in Lisbon, and now the Pope's chief adviser, said:

"The Holy See officially ignores the proclamation of the republic of Portugal, which was not communicated to the Vatican, according to diplomatic usage. Cardinal Merry del Val was notified in an informal manner by the Portuguese Charge d'affaires, who left a note at the Papan secretary's office containing a copy of the telegram from the provisional government. While diplomatic intercourse between the Holy See and Portugal theoretically has been unbroken, it has been practically interrupted, and, naturally, the Vatican has not recognized the republic.

"Pope Pius has not decided whether to instruct the clergy to submit to the law providing for the separation of church and state. He awaits the complete text of the proposed law and its approval by the National Assembly. It is almost certain that this body will not approve it, as it is hostile to the fundamental principles of the church, and is animated by a sectarian spirit of persecution."

ONE AT A TIME, PLEASE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OKLAHOMA CITY (Okla.) April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Supreme Court will be asked to pass upon the legality of suits brought against the owner of a building who leases it to liquor dealers in the cases against Robert Heath, who was sued in Okmulgee county last week, for amounts totaling $262,000. The District Court sustained Heath's demurrer holding that the property owner must be convicted of violating the liquor law before civil suit could be instituted.

With Noose Around Their Neck They Drag 'Phone Lines Through Conduit.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "You can buy anything in Chicago from steel work for an Eiffel tower to a menagerie—and even rats," said Deputy United States Marshal Edward Marsales today. "The rat market was a new one to me, however, until today, when Frank Ebey, who is manager of the telephone exchange at Rockford, sent me word that he wanted twenty live rats.

"We are laying several miles of our wires underground in Rockford," said Ebey over the phone. "We have to find some way to fish these wires through the conduits from one manhole to another.

"We take a live rat, tie one end of a ball of string around its neck and turn it loose in the conduits. It makes a straight shoot for the other end of the conduit and what it thinks is liberty, and there we trap it again. Then we pull a heavier cord through with the string and with this heavier we pull our cable of wires through the conduit."

BEAUTIFUL GIRL CONVERTED INTO CRIPPLE.

Young Man Who Placed Her Under a Lingering Spell Is Alleged to Have Employed Her As a Blind Begger to Solicit Alms That He Took From Her.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Before Edith Sumner, a society girl and daughter of one of Bellingham's best known families, met Arthur Lewis of Portland, a year ago, she was an attractive, intellectual and promising student in the State Normal School of Bellingham, near here. Today she was sent temporarily to the State Asylum for the Insane in Steilacoom, although the examining board of physicians admitted she was sane on every matter save that of hypnotism.

Edith told the physicians and the court the most pitiful tale ever heard in Washington's judicial circles. She spoke frankly, concisely and intelligently. She said that, following a disagreement with her mother a year ago, she left the Normal School, where she was preparing for a teacher's certificate, and went to Portland. There she met Lewis. With him she went through a marriage ceremony, which was afterwards found to be void.

Lewis taught her hypnotism and made her a subject. First she traveled the roads north of here as a mendicant, imitating, under hypnotic spells, the acts of a blind person. She gained considerable amounts, which Lewis took from her. Later he turned her into a cripple and she was finally deserted in Sand Point, Idaho, Lewis taking all her earnings as a beggar. A Sand Point physician discovered her plight and cured her. Friends brought her back home, but still under the hypnotic spell. A lunacy commission was summoned with the result stated, but all the doctors agree that with care and treatment the once beautiful girl will recover.

REFUSES TO COMPETE.

Seattle Electric Company Will Let the Municipal Owned Line Enjoy a Complete Monopoly.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Seattle Electric Company, owning this city's street car lines, through James B. Howe, general counsel, served notice today in the City Council that it would not carry out its franchise to build ten miles of double track railway on Rainier avenue, traversing the big district recently annexed and known as Southeast Seattle. Over the route covered by the company's franchise the city of Seattle proposes to build its first municipally owned street car system to cost $800,000.

The plan to build a municipal car line was recently adopted by the voters after the local traction company had been granted a franchise. No bidders have appeared for the $800,000 city bond issue. The traction company, owned and financed by Kidder, Peabody and Company and Lee Higginson and Company, old banking houses of Boston, refuses to enter into competition with the Seattle municipal street car line. Thirty thousand people reside in the district, and are now without adequate transportation.

"JACK" MAY ARRIVES.

Woman Agriculturist Who Wears Trousers Will Farm on Big Scale in British Columbia.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WESTMINSTER (B. C.) April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Jack" May, a prominent woman agriculturalist, from Norfolk, Eng., has just arrived in this country to take up farming on a large scale. Miss May had some difficulty with the immigration authorities at Halifax on her arrival, due in part to the officials failing to realize that it was her right to wear a heavy knitted man's sweater, a peaked cloth cap, square-toed boots and corduroy trousers.

The tr——, nether garments, worn—not affected— by "Jack" May are not freakish hobble pantlets, or demiculottes, but the real thing. She has been wearing this garb for ten years in England, where she has been farming ever since she was old enough to have her own way.

Finding skirts a nuisance one afternoon while haying, she walked into a nearby barn and shut the door. When she came out her brother's trousers had replaced the skirts.

For a time after this, Miss May wore trousers in the fields and skirts when going out or driving, but it was not very long before she discarded the clinging draperies altogether.

"Jack" May is said to be a daughter of Admiral May.

A jury was selected and the hearing was continued until tomorrow. In addition to Col. Kilson and Galbraith, those named in the indictment are:

Samuel S. Bogart, former vice-president of the company; W. W. Tompkins, sales manager in Seattle; Francis H. Butter, former attorney; George H. Parker, western agent, and William A. Dibbel, director.

ORDER TILDEN'S ARREST.

Chicago Packer and Others Alleged to Be in Contempt of Senate in the Lorimer Investigation.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) April 26.—Edward Tilden, Chicago packer, and William C. Cummings, and George M. Benedict, president and cashier of the Drovers Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago, were ordered arrested on a contempt charge by the Illinois Senate tonight. The vote was forty to seven.

This action was taken on recommendation of the Senate Bribery Investigation Committee after Tilden, Cummings and Benedict, through their lawyers, had refused to produce Tilden's personal bank accounts for May, June, July and August, 1909.

The committee believes these accounts will show evidence of the use of money in the election of William Lorimer to the United States Senate. Tilden had submitted an affidavit by the committee saying these accounts show nothing directly or indirectly bearing upon the election of Lorimer. He also had offered to allow one member of the committee, to be designated by himself, to examine these accounts.

Warrants for the three were placed in the hands of E. M. Hatfield, assistant sergeant-at-arms. Attorney Sears, counsel for Tilden, before leaving the Senate chamber, told Senator Jones, floor leader, that habeas corpus proceedings would be started in Chicago tomorrow morning.

Former State Senator Cyril L. Jandus, of Chicago was a witness before the Senate Committee tonight. Jandus appeared with his bank accounts for the year 1909. They showed that Jandus made two deposits aggregating $4125 in June and July, 1909. He was unable to give the source of these deposits. In no other months in 1909 did Jandus's deposits amount to more than a few hundred dollars.

Omaha Youth Tells Thrilling Tale of Abduction, in Which Chloroform Figured as Sedative.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

OMAHA, April 26.—Dazed by the influence of chloroform, Bernard Smyth, 18 years old, walked into his home early today and told a remarkable story of his escape from kidnapers.

In fulfillment of many blackmailing letters demanding large sums from the boy's father, C. J. Smyth, former Attorney-General, two masked men seized the youth early in the evening while he was walking home from a tennis club. They bound and gagged their victim, threw him into a closed carriage and took him to a deserted shack in a little suburb.

According to young Smyth's statement, one man departed, saying he was going to get Frances Hostetter, the 16-year-old girl chum of Smyth, who also had been threatened. The remaining kidnaper was overcome by the fumes of the chloroform he was administering to his captive.

At that juncture the lad escaped to a street car, which took him home. He is in a serious condition of nervous fright and stupor.

The affair marks a climax to a mystery, which has alarmed the city for three weeks. Letters demanding $2000 on threat of kidnaping the boy and girl had been persistent up to Sunday and detectives guarded both the threatened families.

ACCUSES HIS WIFE'S MOTHER.

San Francisco Contractor Says She Keeps Divorced Wife and Shack and Gives the Children Beer.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Alleging that his mother-in-law, Mrs. Anna Mahoney, is keeping his invalid divorced wife in close confinement in a refugee shack and using undue influence to get property valued at $9000, owned by the sick woman, thereby taking it away from his two minor children, John J. Binet, a building contractor, today was appointed guardian of the children by Judge Mogan to protect their interests. Immediately following his appointment as guardian he filed suit to have a deed of gift from his divorced wife to her mother for a residence worth $6000 set aside. He also applied for an injunction to restrain his mother-inlaw- from disposing of any of the property.

Binet alleges that since his wife, Elizabeth, was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce ten months ago she has been held a prisoner by her mother in the shack and that no one is allowed to see her. He says his former wife is very ill and may die at any moment. Several weeks ago, he alleges, he sent his children—Ursula, 9 years old and Joseph, 8 years—to see their mother and they were given beer by Mrs. Mahoney, the mother-in-law, to discourage him from sending them there again.

Recently his ex-wife made a deed of gift of the property at Diamond and Twenty-third streets to Mrs. Mahoney, and previously had given the mother-in-law $1500 in cash. He says Mrs. Mahoney is of a violent temper and was once an inmate of an insane asylum.

HERE'S PHILLIPS AGAIN.

The Man Who Once Cornered Corn Serves Notice that He Will Again Enter Arena.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Emerging from the obscurity into which he had been cast ten years ago by the failure of his firm on the Board of Trade for $200,000 after he had cornered the corn market and had startled the country by his sensational daring, George H. Phillips is about to enter the grain arena once more, backed by a following of out-of-town capital.

"I have assurance of $100,000 capital, providing I interest the grain dealers of the country in the company, and they in turn interest the farmers," said Phillips. "My idea, which I have dreamed over for ten years and which I am just getting into shape, is to get better prices for cash grain by keeping the elevator man in touch with the market and keeping up a report system the same as that maintained by the government."

Washington Indian Owns a Saloon and Has Right to, But Nobody Can Sell Him Liquors.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OLYMPIA (Wash.) April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] While there is a law against selling liquor to an Indian there is no law against an Indian selling liquor, so if an Indian can get liquor he can run a saloon, but the person selling him the intoxicants is liable to prosecution.

So holds W. V. Tanner, Attorney-General, in an opinion given today to John M. Wilson, prosecuting attorney of Thurston county. There is a half breed at Bucoda, a small town south of Olympia, who has an interest in a saloon, and now unless he disposes of it, the firms selling the place liquors are likely to be prosecuted, for the law is strict and absolutely forbids the sale of intoxicants to Indians.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

OKLAHOMA CITY (Okla.) April 26.—The body of an Indian boy with two heads, four arms and four legs was discovered in a cave near Okmulgee, Okla., yesterday, by Emmons Lowe, a farmer boy, while hunting rabbits. The body is nearly five feet tall. The arms are all of the same length and reach far below the knees. The flesh on the bones has dried and apparently there has been no decay.

Old residents in the vicinity of the cave where the monstrosity was found say they remember such an Indian boy and that he has been missing nearly ten years. He was kept out of sight by the other members of his

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

Pasadena.

LOUDLY SOUND BONDING CALL.

Keen Campaign Is on for the Various Issues.

Arroyo Bridge Commands Much Attention.

Private Secretary Appointed for Mayor-elect.

(Office of The Times, 26 S. Raymond avenue.)

PASADENA, April 27.—What is enthusiastically declared to be the most persistent fight ever waged in the city for progress, advancement and civic betterment is now on. The services of every able-bodied voter have been solicit d to assist in the work of carrying the election, which will be held tomorrow, to get permission to bond the city for $316,000.

This fight is being engineered by the Board of Trade, which now has a membership exceeding 1000. A campaign committee has been appointed and the work of carrying the bonds has been thoroughly mapped out. Willing workers from every section of the city and from every walk in life have rallied valiantly around the flag of progress and are working like beavers.

The total amount desired is divided into five parts. That is, there are five separate oropositions before the people. They have been lumped together to be voted on at one time, although the ballots will contain all five projects and the individual elector can vote for any or all, as he wishes.

The most important of the projects is the Arroyo Seco bridge, which, it is proposed, to build, to span the Arroyo at the foot of West Colorado street. If built, this bridge will run from the top of the hill at the corner of Colorado street and Grand avenue to the top of the hill on the west side of the Arroyo Seco and connect directly with the beautiful new county boulevard running to Los Angeles, San Fernando Valley and to the sea via Hollywood. The total cost of the bridge will be $217,000, but the county has agreed to stand half and the people living outside the city, to the west, have agreed to pay $13,000. If the bonds for the $100,000, Pasadena's share in the project, are turned down tomorrow it means, according to the city officials and County Supervisors, that no bridge will be built and those who wish to travel in that direction will be compelled to wend their weary way down and up the precipitous canyon walls or else make a long detour through South asadena and over the beautiful bridge now being built there by South Pasadena, Los Angeles and the Salt Lake Railroad.

Another of the propositions is the acquiring by the city of Carmelita playgrounds on West Colorado street and a beautiful plot in North Pasadena known as Monk's Hill. The Carmelita Gardens were purchased by a syndicate of citizens some years ago with the intention of making them into public grounds. Two years ago the city rented the ground for public playground purposes. They are excellently adapted for such purposes. Monk's Hill is a beautiful place from which a fine view of the city can be had.

The other three propositions are, a new fire engine and a lot of fire hose for the engine-house on Mentor avenue, which is greatly needed for the protection of the rapidly growing East Side; buying a brick building adjoining the City Hall to be used by the Municipal Lighting Plant and a strip of ground alongside Carmelita.

It is the consensus of opinion by nearly every one of the progressive citizens of the city that all these propositions should be bought and owned by the municipality; that the future welfare of the town depends on it; that Pasadena, to maintain herself as one of the most beautiful of the cities in Southern California, must keep her face to the front.

Of all the propositions the bridge is considered the most important because it would form the connecting link in the scenic foothill boulevard, which is now being built from San Bernardino to the sea. Outside of Pasadena the boulevard is being built by the county and within six months it will be completed. It is then that the bridge must be done if the people are to get full benefit of the boulevard and if the travelers are to pass through Pasadena in making a tour of the great boulevard system.

The past winter has proven that the boulevard system will be one of the chief drawing cards for tourists to visit Southern California and especially Pasadena. Almost every tourist during the past season recommended the good roads in the highest terms and asked anxiously regarding their completion. The new bridge, it is believed, will enhance Pasadena as a tourist center materially, and, as the city's chief source of revenue comes from the visitors, many of whom eventually buy property and make their homes here, those most heavily interested in property are the ones most anxious for the bridge.

But there is opposition and a strange feature of it is that it mostly comes from the sources where it is least expected. Many non-taxpayers will oppose the bonds. Their chief reason is to fight against the majority. The Socialists will oppose the bonds because they say bonds are against their "stock in trade." There are a few of the wealthy residents who live along the Arroyo bank who declare they believe the bridge will mar their view of the wild and rustic scenery of the Arroyo canyon.

However, those in charge of promoting the bonds have taken every precaution possible, and are heading off the opposition at every turn. They feel that a big vote means success, and for that reason every available automobile in the city has been hired, borrowed or begged for election day, and every voter can have a free joy ride to the polls and return if he will but say the word.

Tonight a monster mass meeting will be held at the Maryland amphitheater. Bands, soloists, orchestras and glee clubs will participate in the programme. There will be a number of good speakers.

THUM'S FIRST APPOINTEE.

Mayor-elect Thum has taken time by the forelock and started in to appoint his assistants. The first head to be lopped off was that of the Mayor's private secretary, which position has been held eight years by Miss Anna McGrew. On May 1 she will be ousted and Robert S. Allen, chief director of the Thum Campaign Committee, will take her place. For Allen it will be purely a reward of merit because of all of the faithful Thum followers he is the most faithful. For years he has been a hard worker in political circles, but this is the first real juicy plum which has fallen in his outstretched palm.

Allen has been secretary of the Municipal Light League, which was organized by a number of city employees, and a few others, to boost the interests of the city's lighting system, since its very inceptoin. Thum has also been a director and faithful worker in that body which placed him in nomination.

In his position Allen will have a chance to make good and will be in position to render valuable services to his chief as well as to the Thum party. He is well fitted for the position and his appointmentis hailed with great satisfaction. He is said to be a member of the inner circles of the incoming administration and will have considerable influence in making up the personnel of the new official family.

Mayor-elect Thum has stated that he contemplates no other changes until he "gets onto the ropes" but there is a persistent rumor that the ax will fall heavily on the necks of several other officials. With Allen, as secretary, it is believed the job of John Beyers, street superintendent, is safe. It is believed no other official announcements will be made before next Monday, when the new Mayor takes his seat.

GIDEONS AT WORK.

W. E. Henderson, national secretary of the Gideons, who are interested in placing copies of the ible in every room of every hotel in the United States, arrived in Pasadena yesterday and has started a campaign to supply every hotel room in the city with a copy of the Bible. He will startraising money for this purpose and hopes to have a sufficient fund raised and the Bibles bought and placed before next fall. Prominent preachers of the city have indorsed the work.

VALUABLE CATCH.

The Chief of Police believes he made a valuable catch when he picked up James Burnes and Tom Jones on circus day, a week ago. Both men were caught in the act of picking pockets, according to the charges placed against them. A day or two ago a stool pigeon was placed in the cell with the two men. He is said to have played his part well and states both men have admitted they belong to a gang of pickpockets who have followed circuses all over the country.

The Citizens' Suffrage League has organized for business. A meeting of the Executive Committee was held last night and plans for holding t! straw election tomorrow were mapped out. The object of the straw vote will be to find out the strength of woman's suffrage in the city.

The police department has received positive instructions to make : careful watch for smokers on the front seats of street cars. Notices will be posted in all cars and conductors asked to assist in having the law obeyed.

There was .45 inch of rain fell in Pasadena yesterday morning and .56 inch in Altadena. The rain will do much good to the growing crops, orchards and lawns.

Among the affairs of yesterday was the dinner given last night by Mrs. Paul M. Roth at her home, No. 82 South Marengo avenue.

Mrs. Stone of No. 1103 Columbia street, was hostess yesterday afternoon at a small luncheon given in honor of Mrs. Robert Boyle of Seattle.

Mrs. Harry P. Pyle entertained at bridge at her home, No. 640 South Grand avenue, yesterday afternoon.

Miss Mary Raney of No. 440 Arroyo Terrace left for Europe yesterday morning. She will meet Mrs. A. W. Armstrong and Miss Marian Armstrong at New York. They will do Europe together.

INSTALL PASTOR.

Impressive Ceremonies Conducted at the Presbyterian Church in Santa Monica—Musical Programme.

SANTA MONICA, April 26.—Rev. W. H. Cornett, who was recently called from Pasadena by the congregation of the Presbyterian Church here, was tonight duly installed in the pastorate. The new shepherd is no stranger to the seaside flock, as he has been filling the pulpit during the past three years. The installation ceremonies tonight were largely attended, the affair having been made pleasing by the preparation of a musical programme and the active participation by a number of divines. Rev. W. H. Young of Los Angeles, clerk of the Presbytery, acted as moderator. The sermon was delivered by Rev. J. A. Stevenson of Santa Ana. Rev. R. Freeman of Pasadena read the charge to the church, while that to the congregation was delivered by Rev. W. E. Dodge of Pasadena.

Large Delegation of Sierra Madre Organization Attends the Funeral of a Member.

SIERRA MADRE, April 26.—The funeral of Mrs. George H. Latteau was conducted this afternoon at her late residence on Central avenue by Dr. George H. Cornell, rector of the Episcopal Church here. The remains were taken in a special car and interred at Inglewood cemetery, where at the final services Rev. Dr. Campbell of the Sierra Madre Congregational Church officiated. A large delegation of the Woman's Club of Sierra Madre attended the services at both places. The floral pieces were exquisite. Mrs. Gertrude Cook of Sierra Madre rendered a solo.

REDONDO BEACH.

REDONDO BEACH, April 26.—The Institute of Electrical Engineers of America, which is holding its national convention in Los Angeles, held a banquet last evening at Hepburn & Terry's cafe. On the way here a party stopped at Hollywood and Santa Monica and then visited the power plant of the Pacific Light and Power Company. The engineers were greatly interested in the condensing system used in the big plant.

Laurence Edwards was given a preliminary hearing before Justice Wells this morning on two forgery charges. He was bound over to the Superior Court on bail of $2000 for each of the two cases. Edwards is alleged to have written two fictitious checks for $10 each Sunday and after making two small purchases at drug stores, to have received the change from each check.

Long Beach.

SHORE LAND PEACE LIKELY

Hoping for Settlement of Long-Drawn Fight.

First Full Cargo Coming to the City Docks.

Is of Lumber Ordered for Building Concern.

LONG BEACH, April 26.—After all the preliminary trouble of both sides regarding the settlement in the courts of the beach title question, there arose hopes today that this may probably be avoided. This is a situation much desired by the average citizen who has watched the continual squabbling over this question which has been in existence since the organization of the city and with several "settlements" which apparently settled nothing. It is understood that the strand company which has heretofore held that there was nothing to arbitrate as it felt secure in its absolute title to the land in controversy has now begun tentative inquiries as to what kind o fa proposition the city would entertain as a basis for settlement of the existing troubles.

Mayor Windham was out of town today, but one of the city officials said that the city officials were willing to do anything in reason to settle the question fairly. The importance of doing this as soon as possible board who were defeated believe is fully realized as the uncertainty of many matters of development. The apparent willingness of the Strand company to consider proposed terms of adjustment is regarded as a hopeful sign that the solution of the problem will soon be reached.

MAY SEEK SCALP.

Gradually a rumor is spreading to the effect that a majority of the new School Board recently elected does not favor the retention of Superintendent James D. Graham, and that the two vacancies to be filled will hinge upon the willingness of the two who will be named to join in a polite request that the superintendent resign. This news comes as a surprise, as the members of the old beach ownership is holding up that Graham was not interested in their return to office.

Following this the recent issuance of a new set of rules by the superintendent has also caused comment. One of these is that no principal of a school shall interview any member of the Board of Education or submit to an interview by any member of the School Board unless the superintendent is present, and that no meeting of the Board of Education shall be held in his absence, as he is ex-officio a member of the board. The new members of the board will take office next Monday morning and their first act will be the selection of two members to fill the vacancies occasioned by the resignations of members Early and Rominger, who retire to allow the new board full swing in the conduct of school affairs and a thorough investigation of the record of the old board.

PROMOTING COMMISSIONS.

Following the organization of the City Club, which from its personnel seems to be the organization of a faction of the old Charterite party, announcement was made today by advocates of the commission form of government of an open meeting to be held Saturday night at the City Hall. The purpose is to effect a permanent organization of a commission club, whose mission is a campaign of education for commission government.

FORMER COUNCILMAN DIES.

The city was saddened today by the news of the death last night of Frank W. Stearns, ex-Councilman, at his home on American avenue. Death followed a long struggle with recurring pulmonary abscesses. Coming here nine years ago on a cot he regained his strength and was in good health until three months ago, when the old trouble returned. Battling against it he went to the desert and recovered, but answering a press of business he came, back two weeks ago, slept all night in a tent at Newport and went into a decline, whose fatal ending was recognized at once. Mr. Stearns was a native of Iowa and for many years lived at Fort Dodge. He leaves a widow and five children. He came here in 1901, and engaged in the realty business, during which time he was president of the Stearns-Counts Realty Company and vice-president of the Inner Harbor Gas Company. Four years ago he was elected Councilman from the Fourth Ward. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

FIRST FULL CARGO.

The first full cargo to enter the ocean entrance of the inner harbor and land at the city docks will be a full shipload of lumber direct from northern mills, which has been ordered by the Long Beach Improvement Association, a $1,000,000 corporation of local capitalists and business men, formed to build and sell homes to people of moderate means. It is said that the shipping in of this lumber means a considerable saving on the price of the material, in addition to opening the way for other commerce to enter the port. The cargo is expected the first part of May.

FOR TREE PLANTING.

Members of the Civic League met yesterday and discussed municipal tree planting. In order to interest the people in a general movement of this character all over the city, the league has invited Prof. Reed of Riverside to visit Long Beach and deliver a lecture on tree planting. Prof. Reed is tree warden of Riverside and is credited as an expert on the subject.

DETECTIVE UNDER CLOUD.

R. E. Buckley was brought back from San Diego last night, and today was arraigned on two charges of obtaining money under false pretenses. His preliminary hearing is set for next Monday. After victimizing his friends, so it is alleged, some time ago Buckley left town and could not be located. Recently he went to San Diego and has been acting as special detective for the police department, under an assumed name. Wishing to join a secret order he had to give his real name and his arrest followed. Buckley, it is said, has been doing effective work in running down blind pigs and gambling dens, and when arrested yesterday by a constable the latter had to wait until Buckley gave evidence in one of these cases.

BAPTISTS TALK NEW CHURCH.

ASSURE BUILDING OF HOUSE OF WORSHIP.

Two Hundred Rejoicing Members Celebrate at Banquet the Completion of Arrangements for the Proposed Structure—Site Purchased Two Years Ago.

MONROVIA, April 26.—Two hundred rejoicing members of the First Baptist Church celebrated at the annual banquet last night the completion of arrangements for their new house of worship. A total of $16,000 was pledged for the building, which, when completed at a cost of about $25,000, will, it is expected, be free of any incumbrance. The valuable site which it will occupy on Palm and South Encinitas avenues was purchased two years ago in anticipation of the time when a larger and more centrally-located structure would be needed. Now that sufficient funds are assured, the contract for the building will be let at once.

Dr. Brougher of Temple Auditorium was the guest of honor last night and by his brilliant address assisted in swelling the total of contributions. Dr. H. Russell Greaves, former pastor of the church, acted as toastmaster. The banquet was served by a bevy of young ladies in the church annex from flower-laden tables.

FIRE GUTS HOUSE.

Fire gutted the residence of M. Miller on North Ivy avenue last night, causing a loss of $1500. The remarkable efficiency of the auto-chemical fire engine was again demonstrated by its speedy subjugation of the flames even after they had gained great headway. The fire started in the second story and is believed to have been caused by defective electric wiring.

PLAN NEW HIGHWAY.

One Hundred Residents of South Pasadena Sign Petitions for Route Without Railroad Crossings.

SOUTH PASADENA, April 26.—A new highway between Los Angeles and South Pasadena is asked by the Automobile Club of Southern California, and by residents of Hermon. The petition to the Board of Supervisors has more than 100 signers from this city alone. It is planned to have the road connected by a short cut and will not cross either steam or electric tracks. The general route would be an extension of Griffin avenue to the city limits, thence along the country road proposed to be constructed through Hermon, thence into this city via Pasadero de Monterez, Pasadena avenue, Monterey road, etc. The entire question has been referred to Supervisor Pridham, in whose district it lies.

A special meeting of the newly-organized South Pasadena Annexation Association is to be called this week, and efforts will be made for an election in the near future. According to the statements of the committee, sentiment seems to have completely reversed upon the subject and many have joined the annexationists. They say that people are tired of wrangling over the sewer and water questions, and there seems to be only one solution, that of annexation. The plan to build a sewer tank along the San Gabriel River is declared to be impossible. It is believed that the property owners in the vicinity of the proposed sewer farm would rise up against any such movement. Then, too, it is charged that the Marengo Water Company cannot supply the necessary water for the whole city. It is also stated that 5-cent car-fare into Los Angeles would be another advantage.

CHURCH WOMEN'S FEDERATION.

Monorovia Ladies Meet and Carry Out Programme Interesting to Those Waged in Church Work.

MONROVIA, April 26.—The Federation of Women's Church Societies of the city were entertained yesterday by the Christian Church with a luncheon in the church parlors. One hundred and twenty-five were present at the luncheon and the reception rooms were crowded both at the morning and the afternoon sessions.

Mrs. C. A. Wright of the Baptist society and president of the federation occupied the chair and the music for the day was furnished by Miss Aileen Northup and the choir of the Congregational Church. Mrs. Roseburg, president of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, conducted the opening devotional exercises. Dr. Wishard of Los Angeles gave an interesting talk on home missionary work. Mrs. Milo Halsey contributed a vocal selection which was followed by reports from each society on work accomplished during the past year.

Rev. Clark H. Marsh, pastor of the Christian Church, spoke of his impressions of Christian work in foreign lands. Mr. Marsh has only recently returned from a trip to the Orient and his address was listened to with marked attention.

Following the luncheon, Mrs. H. Russel Greaves conducted devotional exercises. Mrs. C. A. Wright spoke of the aims and purposes of the federation. Mrs. Wright's address was followed by a business session after which Mrs. Maurice R. Conable of the Episcopal Guild reported on the work of the Visiting Nurse Association and presented the needs of the organization. A liberal sum was contributed for this charity.

Mrs. Beardslee sang an appropriate selection during the interlude preceding the address made by Rev. McComas of the Methodist Church on foreign missionary work, dealing with the special subject of work in Peru. The meeting today is the first of a series which will be held during the year in the several churches.

COLEGROVE IS QUITE ANGRY.

Say the Board of Public Utilities has Been Indulging in Buncombe Regarding Promises.

COLEGROVE, April 26.—Property owners and residents generally are highly incensed at what they regard as the vacillating course of the Board of Public Utilities and City Council relative to street car matters. They do not ask for an inauguration of the millennium but do insist that official action accepted here as definite promises ought to be lived up to.

At last night's meeting of the Colegrove Board of Trade, after the Transportation Committee and others had recited the things they felt justified in expecting would be done, and which had not been done, the following preambles and resolution were unanimously adopted.

Whereas, on the tenth day of November, 1910, the Colegrove Board of Trade, composed of citizens, property holders, taxpayers and voters of the city of Los Angeles, adopted a resolution appealing to the City Council to fix by ordinance a rate of fare of 5 cents for a single trip on the cars of the Los Angeles Pacific Street Railway Company on the Colegrove line within the corporate limits of said city, and

Whereas, the said resolution was duly certified and presented to the City Council and Board of Public Utilities and was approved by said board, and

Whereas, the City Council on the 15th day of November, 1910, in open session passed an order directing the City Attorney of Los Angeles to prepare an ordinance fixing such rate of fare on the cars of said street railway to the western limits of said city, and

Whereas, up to this time no such ordinance has been prepared, nor any good and sufficient reason been given for such neglect, now therefore be it

Resolved; That the Honorable City Council of Los Angeles be urgently requested to immediately declare and enforce the rate of fare at 5 cents on the railways within this city.

Colegrove people already have a 5-cent fare by walking to the Melrose line at Radium Springs. The Committee on Transportation reported progress in its endeavors to have the Pacific Electric Company extend this line west to Vine street and north on Vine to Santa Monica boulevard This would bring the line within easy distance of people living in the southern part of Hollywood.

CRUSHER MACHINERY ARRIVES.

Carload of It for Use in Breaking Rock for County Highways Reaches Redondo Beach.

REDONDO BEACH, April 26.—A carload of machinery arrived yesterday for the rock crusher to be installed in the quarry on the Venable ranch, four miles from this city. The crusher, which is owned by the firm of Venable, Steel and Sprinkle, will be in operation by May 10 to furnish rock for the county highway between here and Wilmington. The crusher cost $5000 and will have a capacity of 300 tons a day. The company has a contract to furnish 30,000 tons of crushed rock to the contractor for the Wilmington road. The removal of one of the pieces of the machinery of the crusher, weighing seven tons, which must be hauled by wagon from here to the quarry and then hoisted many feet up the side of the steep hill, will be quite a feat of engineering.

OSTEOPATHIC PICNIC.

The School of Osteopathy of Los Angeles will picnic here Friday, May 5. Between 300 and 400 are expected to attend. The annual field meet of the college will also be held here that day and a programme of athletic events, swimming races, and a baseball game is planned. Lloyd R. Reeks, president of the Student Athletic Association, has charge of the programme.

TELLS OF LONG FAST.

Los Angeles Man at Ocean Park Says Forty Days' Abstinence From Food has Effected Cure of Catarrh.

OCEAN PARK, April 26.—Edward E. Kusel of Los Angeles today broke a self-imposed fast of forty days. He tells his own story, which is generally believed, although during his stay here he took none into his confidence and the fast was finished before it was known here that such a "stunt" was in progress.

The feat was undertaken by Kusel, he says, because he was sick. He carried it along for a week or ten days in Los Angeles and then came to the beach. Only during the first three days did he suffer any from the pangs of hunger, although during the forty days he says his weight slumped from 145 pounds to but little over a hundred. He was able to sleep but about three hours each night and was not weary, although he was on his feet and walked several miles each day. No solid food passed his lips during the forty days, according to his story. His only sustenance consisting of water and lemon juice. Today he surprised his stomach by treating it to shredded biscuits and cream, having previously taken some grape juice. Later in the day he partook of two eggs. Catarrh was his ailment. The faster says he is certain that his abstinence from food has effected a complete cure.

POSTOFFICE FOR COLDBROOK.

DAME NATURE HINTS
When the Food Is Not Suited.

When Nature gives her signal that something is wrong it is generally with the food; the old Dame is always faithful and one should act at once.

To put off the change is to risk that which may be irreparable. An Arizona man says:

"For years I could not safely eat any breakfast. I tried all kinds of breakfast foods, but they were all soft, starchy messes, which gave me distressing headaches. I drank strong coffee, too, which appeared to benefit me at the time, but added to the headaches afterwards. Toast and coffee were no better, for I found the toast very constipating.

"A friend persuaded me to quit coffee and the starchy breakfast foods, and use Postum and Grape-Nuts instead. I shall never regret taking his advice.

"The change they have worked in me is wonderful. I now have no more of the distressing sensations in my stomach after eating, and I never have any headaches. I have gained 12 pounds in weight and feel better in every way. Grape-Nuts make a delicious as well as a nutritious dish, and I find that Postum is easily digested and never produces dyspepsia symptoms."

The Doctor's Answers on Health and Beauty Questions

BY DR. LEWIS BAKER.

The questions answered below are general in character; symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply to any case of similar nature.

Those wishing further advice, free, may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Building, College-Ellwood Streets, Dayton, O., enclosing self-addressed stamped envelope for reply. Full name and address must be given, but only initials or fictitious names will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well-stocked drug store. Any druggist can order of wholesaler.

Mr. G. L.: Your whole system is diseased by catarrh. Beginning with nasal catarrh the disease has affected your stomach, causing foul breath and indigestion, gas, etc., while the kidneys and bladder are in bad condition, causing burning, painful, frequent and uncontrolable urination, with dull headache and backache. For nasal catarrh, obtain 2 ozs. antiseptic vilane powder. Put a half teaspoonful in a pint of warm water. Snuff the water from the palm of the hand through the nostrils two or three times daily. Then use a level teaspoonful of the powder to one ounce of vaseline, mix and apply a small portion into each nostril. Also take a teaspoonful four times daily of the following: Syrup sarsaparilla compound 4 ozs., comp. fluid balmwort 1 oz., and fluid extract buchu 1 oz. Mix and shake well.

Harry O.: You can increase your weight and strength and improve the general health greatly by a thorough course of treatment with three-grain hypo-nuclane tablets. Take one after each meal and one at bedtime. Drink plenty of water slowly, between meals. You should not expect a great increase in weight quickly. Remember, it takes time to change the cells and tissues of the body, but you can depend on it as a thoroughly effective flesh producer.

Robert: Write me more fully or send for my free examination chart, and I will gladly do my best for you; always give full name and address. I never publish the correct name.

Mrs. A. L.: You need a good, mild laxative, tonic and blood purifier to correct chronic constipation and the general debility of which you complain. The weakness, numbness, loss of appetite, headache, neuralgia and fainting spells can be corrected by using three-grain sulpherb tablets (laxative,) as per directions accompanying, and also the following: compound syrup hypophosphites 3 ozs., tincture cadomene compound 1 oz., and compound fluid balmwort 1 oz. Mix. Shake well and take a teaspoonful before meals and at bedtime. This is a valuable tonic, and will vitalize the nerves, increase the strength, calm the mind, improve the quality of the blood and remove the exhaustion of body and mind. Don't fail to begin at once, if you value good health.

Ruth M.: Your stomach distress after eating should be immediately corrected. Obtain a package of triopeptine tablets and use pink after breakfast, white after dinner and blue after supper. Triopeptine will correct most any stomach disorder, help digest the food, tone up the stomach, increase the gastric juices and enable you to eat whatever you like. The larger drug stores can supply you with this excellent specific treatment, for the stomach disorders, common to so many, such as pain under the ribs, belching, bloating, wind, gas, heart palpitations, shortness of breath, etc.

SUFFRAGE QUESTION BEFORE THE PARLIAMENT.

Women's Gathering Indorses the Work of the State Marriage and Divorce Commission—Delegates Elect Officers and Go on an Automobile Ride.

RIVERSIDE, April 26.—Just before the closing of the Woman's Parliament this morning, the Resolutions Committee brought in the result of its labors in the committee room. Among the resolutions was one favoring the submission to the people at a special election, as provided for by Amendment No. 8, of the question of allowing California women the right of suffrage.

Miss Minnie Benson, representing the Southern California Anti-suffrage Association, at once offered a resolution in effect killing that of the committee, but this was promptly voted down. There were a few adherents to Miss Benson's opposition, but the resolution concerning suffrage was almost unanimously carried in the final vote. A resolution was also adopted indorsing the work of the State Marriage and Divorce Commission.

This resolution originally carried with it an indorsement of the manner in which this subject was presented yesterday afternoon by the commissioner, Francis M. Moody, but this clause was stricken out and the chairman went so far as to offer an apology to the convention for not having called Moody to order when he was presenting the subject at the Tuesday meeting, giving as a reason for her decision that such action was right, that his presentation of the subject was undignified, sensational and personal in his address, and that he also introduced into his subject woman suffrage, thus departing from the subject which had been assigned to him.

The discussion of the resolutions, while waxing quite warm at times, was considerably one-sided and the clause was promptly stricken out, while the remainder of the resolution, that referring to the doings of the commission, was heartily adopted.

The delegates were taken during the morning for auto rides through the most attractive portions of the city. The ride was somewhat abbreviated because of the mistiness of the morning. The election of officers resulted in the re-election of all of the officers by the parliament excepting that Mrs. P. S. Graham of Santa Ana was chosen treasurer, vice Miss Sedalia Cubbison of Santa Ana, and a new general secretary is yet to be chosen by the Executive Committee.

The general officers are: Honorary president, Mrs. D. G. Stephens of Santa Monica; president, Mrs. Eliza Tupper Wilkes of Los Angeles; vice-president-at-large, Dr. Louise Harvey Clarke of Riverside; general secretary, to be supplied; treasurer, Mrs. P. S. Graham of Santa Ana; auditor, Mrs. M. M. Fette of Los Angeles; chairman Legislative Committee, Mrs. O. Shepard Barnum of Los Angeles. WOULD HEAD OFF RECOUNT.

Attorneys for Democratic Mayoralty Candidate Take Steps in San Bernardino—Technical Points.

SAN BERNARDINO, April 26.—The attorneys for J. S. Bright, Democratic mayoralty candidate, who is defendant in the local election contest, took additional steps today to head off a recount of the ballots until after Bright can take his seat. Two demurrers to the contestant's petition and the intervenor's for a recount, were filed. In the former demurrer the question of jurisdiction until after thirty days has expired is raised. In the latter demurrer the charge is made that no citation has been served upon Bright by Mr. Ewing.

Mr. Bright also files an answer to both petitions, in which he joins in the prayer for a recount of the ballots, alleging that votes were counted for Richardson, Socialist, and Swing, Republican, which were cast for Bright, and illegal votes were counted for the contestants.

Bright's attorneys also file a formal objection to the recount, based upon the grounds that the court has no jurisdiction to commence the recount until after the expiration of the thirty-day limit, for the reason that other contests may develop.

INNOCENT PURCHASER WINS.

Decision in Orange County Case Involving a Crooked Land Deal—Man Hurt at Lumber Mill.

SANTA ANA, April 26.—Judgment has been rendered in the Superior Court in favor of L. A. Evans in the suit that grew out of a crooked land deal, in which Henry J. Martens was concerned. Martens persuaded J. L. Updike of Anaheim to trade Updike's ten acres, worth $4000, at Anaheim, for 160 acres in Kern county. Updike traded, and afterward found that Martens had no title to the Kern-county land. Martens meantime had left the State.

Martens sold the land to Henry Hodel, who traded it to L. A. Evans of Anaheim. Updike sued Hodel and Evans, and the case was tried before Judge West, who has given judgment for Evans, who showed that he was an innocent purchaser.

ARM AGAINST SAW.

H. J. Bradford received a bad cut in the forearm while at work at the Griffith Lumber Company mill this morning, and another man, A. Waggoner, nearly died. Bradford's arm accidentally came in contact with a saw, and blood spurted freely. At sight of the blood, a fellow employee, Waggoner, fell over in a faint. After continuous effort Waggoner was partially revived, but he again became unconscious. He was taken to a physician's office in an automobile, where he was revived.

MANY VICTIMS VIEW EDWARDS.

HARD TO GET POSITIVE IDENTIFICATIONS.

Brutal Assailant of Miss Koebig Is Taken About City in Auto and Exhibited to Women and Girls Attacked Within Past Few Weeks—Is Much Like The Fiend.

The efforts of the police yesterday to have John Edwards, confessed assaulter of Miss Julia Koebig, identified by the other victims of the recent outrages, bore little fruit and Detectives Jones and Boyd stated last night that they had secured no definite results.

Edwards was taken to Miss Koebig's home yesterday morning and there positively identified by the young woman. Edwards was taken to the home despite the man's confession, in the hope that when confronted by the young woman he would be led to make additional confessions.

Miss Clara Metcalf, No. 1813 Millard street, and George Caswell, a boy friend, visited the City Jail yesterday, but neither was able to positively identify Edwards as the man who attacked them last Friday night. The young woman said that he looked somewhat like the man, but that she thought he was slightly smaller and not quite so heavy as her assailant.

Detectives Jones and Boyd, however, declare that Edwards is able to change his voice and the difference in stature they think may possibly be attributed to the state of excitement into which the young people were thrown when attacked.

Shortly after noon, the detectives placed Edwards in an automobile and visited the homes of two of the other victims. Mrs. Christina Sandidge had formerly stated that she did not believe she would be able to identify her assailant even if she was confronted with him. When shown Edwards yesterday, she declared he somewhat resembled the man, but she was not certain. The name of the last victim to whom they showed Edwards, the detectives would not divulge, but they said the result was about the same.

"Whether we get other evidence against him or not is immaterial, unless we can prove the Messer affair against him. We now have enough evidence to send him to prison for life. If we can prove that he killed Messer, we will charge him with murder in the first degree."

This morning Edwards will be taken to the homes of the other victims to see what light they can throw upon his identity. He was carefully examined yesterday, but no scratches were found on his face. He had a small scratch behind his left ear, but it looked almost too new to be credited to one of Miss Metcalf's thrusts.

No reward will be paid for the capture of Edwards, as he was in custody an hour before the matter was taken up by the Council.

Miss Koebig continues to improve very rapidly, and no fears are now entertained that she may not ultimately recover.

SERVES WARRANT IN COURTROOM.

AGENT IN DEAL IS ACCUSED OF PERJURY.

Alleged to Have Failed to Make Proper Accounting in Deal Covering Ore Claims and Involving False Testimony—Arraigned Before Justice and Heavy Bail Fixed.

William L. Holland, formerly a partner in the real estate business with L. S. Barnes at Long Beach, was yesterday arraigned before Justice Reeve on a perjury charge, preferred by J. C. Langston. He was released under bond of $2000, and his examination was set for May 10.

Holland is alleged to have perjured himself while testifying April 20, in the case of E. H. McCullough and Langston versus L. S. Barnes and others, who are being sued for an accounting before Judge Woods in Department Extra Sessions No. 2 of the Superior Court.

Holland was in court when Constable Thomas arrived yesterday afternoon, to serve his warant.

The complaint was issued by Deputy District Attorney Asa Keyes.

According to it, Holland swore he gave $50,000 in cash to J. E. Kreps, when, in reality, he indorsed five $10,000 cashier's checks to the credit of Grace D. and L. S. Barnes.

Barnes and Holland are said, in the action being fought out before Judge Woods, to have made a deal with the former as agent, to sell to E. H. Harriman, iron ore claims in Riverside county for a consideration of $189,000. In these claims McCulough and Langston had an interest. Added to these were other claims, considerably more valuable, for which Barnes is said to have been the sales agent.

He is alleged to have failed to make proper accounting to Langston and McCullough, as well as to other persons, and to have misrepresented the amount for which he sold the claims, with a resultant shortage in the cash turned over to them.

Holland is said to have been used by Barnes as a go-between, and his conduct in this capacity was being investigated when he was on the stand.

The question whether he paid the $50,000 to Kreps, or indorsed the checks to Barnes and the latter's wife, is said to have an important bearing on the result of the case.

The plaintiffs before Judge Wood are represented by Attornays Sherer, Meserve and Wilson. Attorney Pope is handling the defense.

DISCUSS TELEPHONE QUESTION AT CONVENTION.

Take Sides Whether Calling by Number or Automatic System Most Satisfactory—Trip Made Up Mt. Lowe and Valley Viewed by Searchlight.

Are telephone systems were numbers are called by girl operators as satisfactory as the newer automatic systems?

This question was vigorously debated at the convention of the members of the Pacific Coast division of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers at the Alexandria Hotel yesterday afternoon. Each side had many supporters and, at the conclusion of an hour and a half's discussion, the debate was declared a draw.

The question developed from the reading of three papers on the telephone. These papers dealt with the old system, the semi-automatic system and the automatic system.

Kempster B. Miller of the Chicago firm of McMean & Miller, builders and designers of telephone plants, presided at yesterday's session. The three papers read and discussed were "New Automatic Telephone Equipment," by Charles S. Winston, chief engineer of the Kellogg Switchboard and Supply Company of Chicago; "The Semi-automatic Method of Handling Telephone Traffic," by Edward E. Clement; "Some Recent Developments in Railway Telephony," by Gregory Brown.

R. W. Pope of New York, general secretary of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, and A. H. Griswold of San Francisco, chief engineer of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, discussed the first two papers. A. H. Babcock, electrical engineer of the Southern Pacific Railroad, discussed the third paper.

Adjournment was called shortly before 4 o'clock and the members were taken in automobiles on a trip to Pasadena and Mount Lowe. Dinner was served at Alpine Tavern and the homeward trip was taken by way of Echo Mountain for the purpose of giving the electrical engineers an opportunity to view the valley by searchlight.

At today's session three more papers will be discussed. They are: "A Power Diagram Indicator for High Tension Circuits," by Harris J. Ryan; "Continuity of Service in Transmission Systems," by Magnus T. Crawford, and "Electricity in the Lumber Industry," by E. J. Barry.

Time will also be taken to discuss papers previously read before the convention. There are no special entertainment features scheduled for today.

That more facilities for developing electric power are urgently needed to keep pace with the constantly increasing demand for power in this city, is the declaration of several local electrical experts who are attending the sessions of the convention.

These experts declare that for several years each of the three big local electric power companies have been compelled to annually greatly increase the producing power of their plants.

At the present time 100,000 horse power is the combined capacity of the three Los Angeles companies. This capacity is being increased by the addition of 50,000 horse power, which will be developed by steam. Of the 100,000 horse power utilized at present, 40,000 horse power is being developed by steam and the rest by water.

According to the past estimates of engineers of national prominence, it has been declared that the acqueduct when completed will make possible the establishment of a plant here of a capacity of 120,000 horse power. This is 20,000 more horse power than the present capacity of the plants of the Southern California Edison Company, the Pacific Light and Power Company and the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation.

TALK ON THE ECLIPSE.

Prof. E. E. Allen, head of the department of mathematics and astronomy at Occidental College, is to have the assembly Friday morning. The public is invited. Prof. Allen, with the help of slides, will describe some of the conditions which cause and accompany eclipses.

ANGELENO WEDS IN OKLAHOMA.

George B. McLain Wins Daughter of One of States' Wealthiest Women, of Pioneer Family.

George Brundage McLain of this city was married in Muskogee, Okla., yesterday afternoon to Miss Marie Indianola Gavigan of that city. The marriage was an informal affair at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Simon Gavigan, one of the wealthiest women of the State.

Immediately after the wedding ceremony, which was attended only by members of the family, owing to the recent death of the bride's father, the bride and groom left for Los Angeles, where they will make their home.

Members of the Gavigan family were pioneers in Indian Territory. The late Simon Gavigan, by munificent gifts of property and money, made possible the establishment of the first Catholic Church in Muskogee. He was a banker and capitalist and died leaving an immense fortune to his widow and two daughters.

The romance which ended in their marriage is believed to have started in Los Angeles, where Miss Gavigan's father maintained a home at which his wife and daughter passed the greater part of their time.

Gavigan started a drug store in Muskogee in the early days, and later dabbled in real estate, making the greater part of his million-dollar fortune in that way. There is a brother to Miss Gavigan who shares the father's fortune.

SLICK SLEUTH LOSES TICKER.

FELLOW DETECTIVE TOUCHES HIM FOR WATCH.

Veteran Enemy of Light Fingered Gentry Falls Victim to Smooth Reach of His Side Partner, Who Then Takes Him to Pawnshop and Helps Get Description.

If Detective Roberts had the authority there would be another entry made in the records of experts pickpockets and Detective Ingram would be forced to sit for a picture for the rogues' gallery. But inasmuch as Roberts cannot force that step and Ingram will not consent to be "mugged," the gallery must remain as it is.

Roberts, accompanied by Ingram, was riding on a Boyle Heights car yesterday morning when Ingram saw an excellent-chance to remove Roberts's watch from his pocket. Roberts has always declared that people who take good care of their valuables need not fear pickpockets. Shortly after that he reached for his watch to see that he was on time and uttered an exclamation.

"What's the matter?" Ingram asked. "Lose something?"

Roberts did not answer for several minutes. Finally he admitted that his pocket had been picked.

Ingram assumed a greatly surprised expression. He suggested that they hasten to the pawnshops, as in all probability the thief would try to pawn it at once.

In the nearest pawnshop they asked to see the good watches. Ingram winked at the shopkeeper and quietly handed him Roberts's watch.

"Have you had any watches pawned here in the past hour?" demanded the latter nervously.

"Yes, I just got a cheap, brass affair," the man answered as he produced the watch.

"Don't you call that a cheap, brass watch," declared the detective heatedly as he grasped the timepiece and proved his ownership to it. He put the watch in his pocket and extracted his notebook.

"What kind of a looking fellow was it who pawned the watch?" he queried.

"Oh, he had a gum shoe walk, a ten-cent moustache and a foolish look." Roberts took it down.

"That pawnbroker is a smart guy. I'll get the fellow who stole my watch. I'll bet he has a record," he confided to Ingram as the two hurried back to the station.

DENOUNCES FIENDS.

The board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon adopted a resolution denouncing the recent outrageous attacks on defenseless women in this city by brutes and expresses confidence in the chief and police department to hunt down the fiends. Financial aid to the Mayor and City Council is promised, if required, to detect the criminals.

THE STACK CASE AGAIN.

Hiding Place of a Los Angeles Woman's Children Involved in Ruling of Missouri Supreme Court.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

JEFFERSON CITY (Mo.) April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch] The Missouri Supreme Court Wednesday issued a writ directing Circuit Judge Hugo Grimm of St. Louis to show cause on May 15 why he should not be prohibited from proceeding with the habeas corpus case to direct Richard B. Stack to produce his son, John King Stack III, in court.

The writ of prohibition was obtained following Judge Grimm's action Tuesday in overruling motions to quash the habeas corpus writ. The motions alleged that the writ was not properly issued and served. It did not show that the Wa[illegible] court, which gave the custody of the son to the mother, now Mrs. E. Burbank of Los Angeles, was a court of competent jurisdiction, that it was served on Stack while he was in St. Louis to defend himself on a kidnaping charge, and that he was not subject to other court processes.

Stack, a millionaire lumberman of Escanaba, Mich., recently was acquitted of the kidnaping charge.

St. Louis Lawyer Annoys Fat Woman But How Was She to Know He Couldn't Control His Eyelids.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS, April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Sciatica and a fat woman taking up nearly all the seat in a trolley car are blamed by Carl Ungar for his dilemma in being charged by a policeman, a passenger, with "mashing." His case was continued today in Police Court until May 3.

Mrs. Louisa Eshing of No. 4711 Virginia avenue is the woman in the case, but she said she had no desire to prosecute, and had not asked the arrest of Ungar. Mrs. Eshing said she is convinced the lawyer had not intended any familiarity, although he had spoken to her in the car.

Ungar, a well-known lawyer and former assistant city counselor and writer in economics said: "The seat I had to take in that car was far too limited for two persons of our size. My rheumatism gives me great twitches at times and to obtain relief for the pain in my hip I have to move my feet and legs about a great deal. This I knew was probably annoying to the fat woman, but she did not utter any complaint."

Friends of Ungar point out the lawyer is too gentlemanly and gallant to be guilty of "mashing." He has an affliction of the eyes which embarrasses him occasionally as the lids are given to "winking"—an effect which is apt to deceive women unacquainted with his near-sightedness.

Cancers and Tumors
A Simple, Safe, Reliable Method That Cures Without Drugs, Caustics or Operation—No Knife, No Pain.
A Well-Known Physician Offers His Services Absolutely Free; See Him Before It Is Too Late.

Mrs. George Bredow, 1239 E. Twenty-second Street, City, says:
"Some years ago I had what the doctors pronounced a fibrous tumor. They estimated that it would weigh at least thirty-five pounds. To my knowledge it had been growing for about five years. It caused me a great deal of suffering and anxiety. On September 4, 1902, I called on Dr. Randall, now physician in charge of the Therapeutic Institute, 946 S. Broadway, for consultation and advice. He made a careful and thorough examination of my case and, to my surprise, said he could cure me without an operation. I took treatment from him for six months and in that time I was reduced to my normal size and completely cured. It has been now nearly nine years since I took the treatment, and have never had any return of the trouble. The treatment was absolutely painless. I consider this wonderful, because the leading physicians and surgeons that examined me before all said the only thing to do would be to go to the hospital for an operation, and it would be doubtful if I would recover from the shock owing to my weakened condition. I can say to the ladies of Los Angeles and vicinity that I feel that I owe my life to Dr. Randall's skillful treatment, and can highly recommend him to the afflicted."

We have on file hundreds of testimonial letters similar to the above. If you are afflicted and interested, you are invited to call and investigate.

We have successfully treated the following diseases: Cancers, Tumors, Goiter, Consumption, Asthma, Catarrh, Deafness, Weak Lungs, Chronic Cough, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Piles, Fistula, all Skin and Blood Diseases, Paralysis, Locomotor Ataxia, Spinal Trouble, all Nervous Diseases, Diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, Nervous Debility.

Our treatment is applied directly to the weak and affected parts. It is mild, soothing, healing and has immediate effect. Some cases are cured with one or two treatments. There is no shock, no pain. A cure from this treatment is guaranteed to be permanent. Our home treatment for those who can not call is furnished under an absolute guarantee.

S.S.S. PERMANENTLY CURES BLOOD POISON

One reason why S. S. S. is so successful in the treatment of Contagious Blood Poison is that this medicine strengthens and builds up the stomach and digestive members while it is purifying the blood. A great many medicines used in treating Contagious Blood Poison are composed largely of mercury and potash, and are recommended to the sufferer because they are intended to dry up or remove the humiliating outward symptoms. But such treatment cannot cure the disease, and its continued use will often so weaken and disease the stomach as to make a nervous wreck of the patient. And too, when these mineral medicines are left off the smoldering poison takes on new life and soon the old symptoms of ulcerated mouth and throat, brown, scaly splotches, falling hair, sores and ulcers, etc., return with increased virulence. Then the disease makes more rapid headway because the weakened system offers less resistance to its ravages.

I didn't find out that I had contracted Contagious Blood Poison until it had made considerable headway, and fortunately for me the friend that I first consulted had had some experience with the disease, and advised me to take S. S. S., so I didn't fool with any doctors, but began at once the use of your medicine, taking it as directed. My friend told me to stick to it, and that was what I did, and got along splendidly from the very first, and my recovery was rapid. I took only about one dozen bottles, and am now as well as ever. When I began S. S. S. my face was so full of sores and eruptions that I could not shave, and now there is not a blotch or pimple on my body.

CHANGES NAME AND WIFE.

Husband Charged With Bigamy, Returns to Lawful Spouse and Number Two Has Him Arrested.

Richard J. Grace, who lived for a time at No. 723 Gladys avenue, was arraigned yesterday before Justice Young on a charge of bigamy preferred by his wife, formerly Miss Emaline Dray. His examination was set for May 2, and he went back to the County Jail in default of $3000 bond.

Mrs. Grace says she married Grace in 1907, and that he lived with her until last June. He had met Miss Carrie Lockridge a month earlier, and August 8 he married her under the name of Robert Kaywood, while she thought him a single man. He deserted her in October. In January he returned again taking the name of Grace and working for the Chicago Transfer Company.

On Monday the second wife appeared in Justice Young's court and swore to a complaint, charging Kaywood, as she knew Grace, with desertion.

ROW AIRED IN COURT.

Women Ordered Out When Plaintiff Related Lurid Names He Had Been Called by Defendant.

The action of Theodore Wiesendanger, a real estate dealer living at No. 705 West Seventh street, against M. F. Birdwell, whom he charged with making threats to do him bodily harm, brought out details of a neighborhood feud of some dimensions. It was heard before Justice Summerfield yesterday, and the case was dismissed.

Birdwell bought land from Wiesendanger near Seventh street and Golden avenue. He and his witnesses testified that Wiesendanger had dug up ground they must pass over to reach Seventh street and that he had piled lumber before their doors and done other acts not friendly in nature.

Wiesendanger asserted that Birdwell had three times sawed holes through a fence he had built to keep him from crossing to Seventh street, and that he had called him abusive names. Women were requested to leave the court when witnesses recited these things.

Justice Summerfield sized up the two men physically, and decided that Wiesendanger was not in immediate danger of extermination. He said the charge should have been one of disturbing the peace, if any was made.

RAIN IN WHEAT BELT.

Western Section of Iowa and Nebraska Soaked by Ten Hours' Pour That Breaks Long Drouth.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OMAHA (Neb.) April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A good rain fell over the entire west wheat section of Nebraska and Iowa today, greatly benefitting the plant and placing the ground in elegant condition for corn plowing and planting. This is the first heavy rain for months. Grain growers were becoming alarmed over the crop condition and all farmers with last year's wheat and corn on their hands, had ceased selling, expecting a shortage in this year's crop because of the long drouth. The rain fell steadily for almost ten hours and completely soaked the entire State.

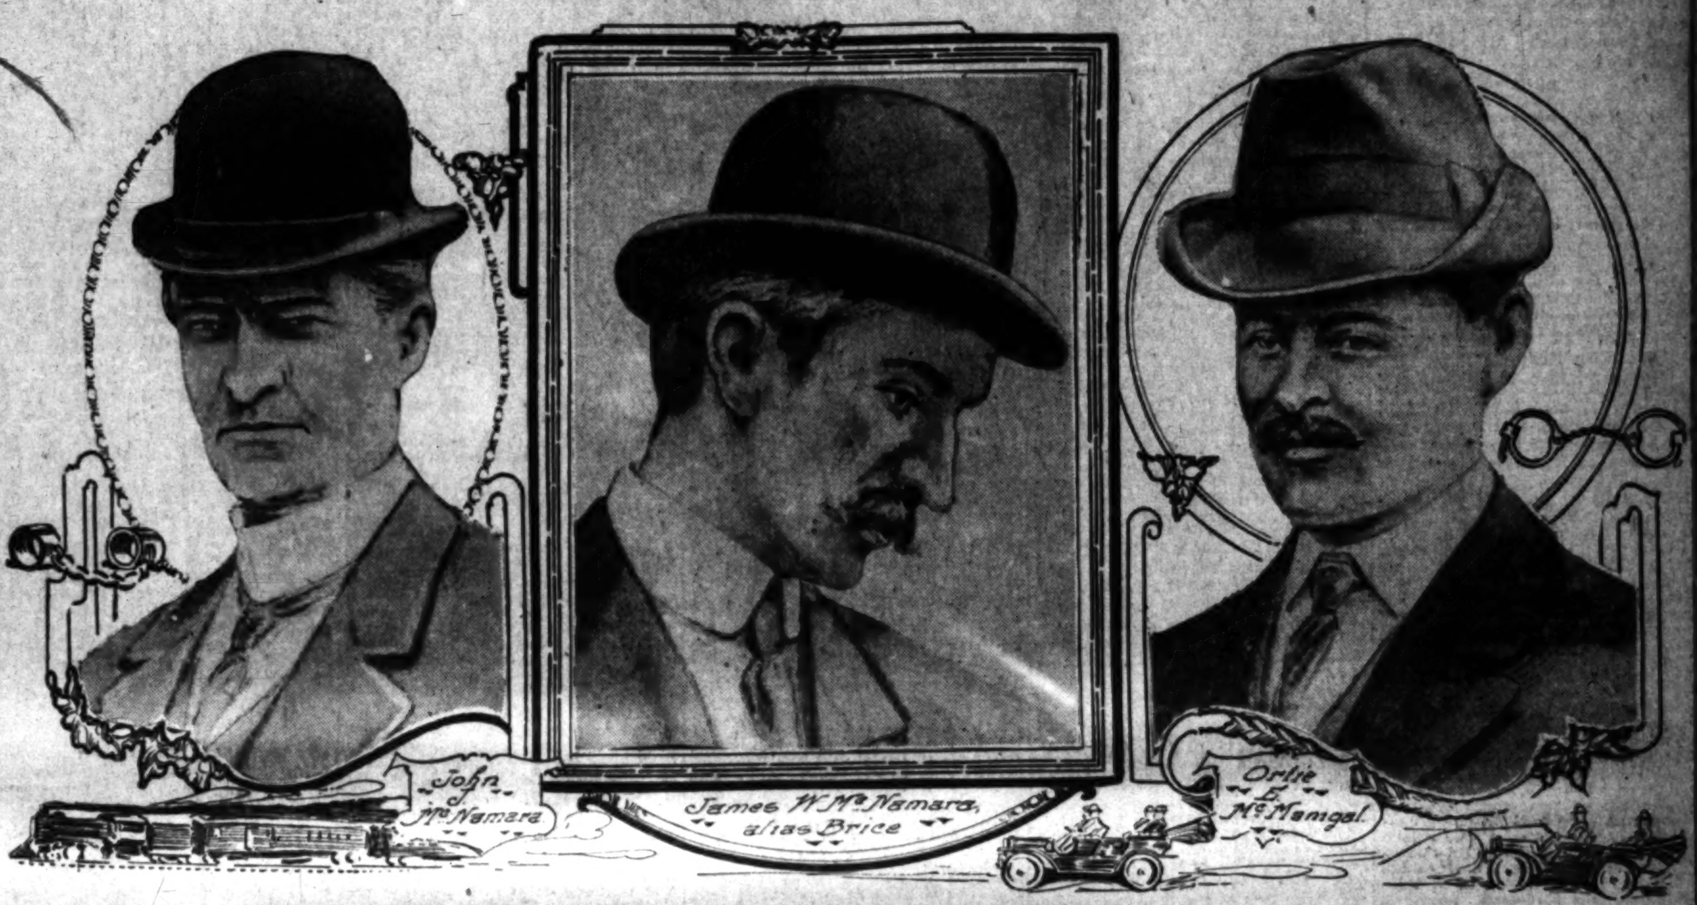
COUNTY JAIL HOLDS TRIO OF ALLEGED DYNAMITERS; CONSPIRACY TO DESTROY LOS ANGELES CONFESSED

Prisoners Taken From Train at Pasadena and Brought in by Automobile.—Mrs. Ingersoll Practicall Identifies One as Brice, Who Blew Up the "Times" Building.—Mixed Detail of Police and Deputies for Constant Guard.

WITHOUT DISQUIETING CIRCUMSTANCES of consequence the three alleged dynamiters of the Times Building—a disaster in which twenty innocent men's lives were snuffed out—were lodged in the County Jail yesterday afternoon. They were taken from the California Limited on arrival at Pasadena from the East and transferred to the city by automobile. The men are John J. McNamara, secretary of the International Association of Structural Bridge and Ironworkers; James W. McNamara, alias Brice, his brother; and Ortie E. McManigal, all under indictment for the Times Building tragedy and the attempted destruction of the Llewellyn Iron Works. At Pasadena Mrs. D. H. Ingersoll, with whom Brice made his home in San Francisco while planning the dynamiting recognized "Jim" McNamara and practically identified him as Brice. She will make a closer inspection today to be certain. McManigal's confession shows that a reign of terror and destruction without parallel was to have been brought about in Los Angeles. The confession, as stated by C. J. Smith, Burns's assistant manager, cites that the aqueduct was to have been blown up, a score of open-shop industrial plants dynamited, and even the City Hall laid low in an effort to subjugate the city to labor-union rule. The dynamiting of the city's very heart and the killing of many persons were plotted, according to the confession. Definite arrangements for the arraignment of the accused men have not been made, but it may be this week.



These Men, Alleged Dynamiters of Property and Ruthless Destroyers of Human Life, Now Prisoners Here.

They are charged with the plot that resulted in the ruin of the Times Building and the death of twenty persons, October 1, last year. John J. McNamara, secretary of the Internation Association of Structural Bridge and Ironworkers, is the alleged financier of the crime; the other McNamara, his brother, is supposed to be Brice, the actual perpetrator; McManigal the confederate of both, and who exposes, through his confession, a diabolical and astounding conspiracy of terror and destruction.

Once across the Colorado River the caution of the officers of justice who had in their charge John J. McNamara, secretary of the International Association of Structural Ironworkers; James W. McNamara, his brother, and Ortie E. McManigal, charged with the dynamiting of the Times Building, relaxed. Ever since the flying trip with the alleged destroyers of life and property began there was constant fear of the invasion of an officer from some State Federal Court, with a writ of habeas corpus, which would have interrupted the plans to bring the men to Los Angeles without a stop.

Over the California line on the last leg of the long journey, that showed its wearing effects on prisoners and their guards, the officers felt relief. For sixty-five hours there had been constant vigilance, and none slept more than a few hours at a time. The prisoners had all the advantage as to rest.

"We are now in California," the prisoners were told. The information seemed to relax them also. Even "Jim" McNamara, who had been sullen and ugly all through, improved in disposition. The long stretch of desert between Needles and Barstow gave opportunity for further relaxation.

But at Barstow the California reception began. There a score of newspaper reporters and photographers were in waiting and all boarded the train, and were made welcome. No courtesy was denied them unless it conflicted with duty.

NO ATTEMPTS EITHER WAY.

Capt. Flammer, chief of Los Angeles detectives, in charge of the squad of officers, said: "Our prisoners are in our custody for the purpose of delivering them to the court at Los Angeles." If they do not wish to be interviewed or photographed we will not permit any intrusion. It is not our duty to ply them with questions or to seek confessions, and we have not done so. Except for the sullness of 'Jim' McNamara, the prisoners have been models throughout, and there has been no attempt on their part to escape, and none on the part of others to attempt to rescue. But in spite of this we have been extraordinarily cautious, and until we reached our own State, no one was permitted to bother them."

Requests that the men receive interviewers were met with the statement of Capt. Flammer that he would arrange it if the prisoners consented. He said they had already asked that no photographers be permitted to intrude. He also said he would not permit photographs unless they were taken outside the train.

These statements were verified by the prisoners, who, all said their treatment had been the most solicitous.

A. J. Meiler, the Pulman conductor who brought the entire train from Chicago to Los Angeles, said the party might have been unknown as one of prisoners and police if the invasion of newspaper men at the stops had not

PLOTTED TO BLOW UP HEART OF THE CITY.

Confession of Ortie McManigal Discloses Conspiracy for Dynamiting Aqueduct, City Hall, Important Open-Shop Industries, and Killing Many Persons. How They Destroyed "Times" Building.

A REIGN of terror to break the heart of industrial liberty in Los Angeles, diabolical in scope and disregard for human life, was the climax of the designs of the McNamaras, according to quoted expression from the confession of Ortie McManigal, one of the participants in the dynamite conspiracies. These were the finalities of devilish strategy:

Blow up the Los Angeles aqueduct in many places and the vital source in the distributing system of the Los Angeles Water Department.

If this did not subdue them to cause, simultaneously in all parts of the city a score or more of explosions, similar to that which destroyed the Times Building and killed twenty employees; the victims to be the most important unsubdued industries, and the City Hall.

HAD PICKED A VICTIM.

This was a finality. Preceding it, according to the McManigal confession, as quoted by Charles J. Smith, assistant manager of the Burns agency, who heard it.

The volcanic climax was to be preceded by general turbulence, strikes, picketing, and a period of unrest during which, from time to time, extreme violence would manifest itself in explosions of dynamite at different points and the death of many persons.

According to McManigal's confession, as quoted by the Burns assistant manager, the one disappointment of "Jim" McNamara was that he and "Cocky" Schmidt had failed to "get" Chandler while setting the fiendish machines for the Times Building and Gen. Otis and Secretary Zeehandelaar, of the Merchants and Manufacturers Association.

Lamenting this, McNamara explained that it was not wholly the fault of the two when they were here on October 1, 1910. He said they had Chandler on their list and had a machine ready for him, but that they did not know his address and the directory did not help them. In haste on that night they had entered a drug store and searched a telephone directory and telephoned to Chandler's house to see if he was at home. McNamara did not say what he found out, but he explained that he and Schmidt were so anxious to get to the train—McManigal says he believes McNamara said it was the Lark—that pursuit of Chandler was not made after the Times Building infernal machine explosion.

IN THE TIMES BUILDING.

McManigal's confession corroborates much of the testimony and theory of the first month's work on the Times Building disaster by the detectives. McNamara, known in the search as Brice, told McManigal that he and Schmidt came along from San Francisco to Los Angeles by train, bringing the explosives and other materials in suit cases. They went about their work quickly and systematically. While McNamara did not name the hotel, he indicated by description that it was the Rosslyn, they stayed at while here, and the Burns detectives say the hotel register of the date confirms this, though the names then used are not divulged.

McNamara explained to McManigal that when he and Schmidt entered the alley on the Broadway side of the Times Building with the engine that was to destroy it, they were interrupted by the night watchman, who asked them their business. McNamara answered that they were hunting a department, which he named, but which McManigal did not remember. The watchman, disarmed, gave them proper directions.

"I wish he had been got out of the way," McNamara told McManigal, "for he had a good look at us and would know me if he saw me. He ought to have been put out of the way."

Later when the two were in the basement, according to McManigal's representation of what McNamara said, a boy employed in the place stopped them and asked them what they were doing. At this time Schmidt was breaking a gas pipe in the basement in order that the effect of the explosion might be enlarged. He explained that he was fixing the pipes, and the boy passed on.

McNamara also told McManigal that he and Schmidt had "beat it" back to San Francisco on the train, and that he had called Mrs. Ingersoll by telephone. This corroborates Mrs. Ingersoll's statement, made soon after the relationship of her mysterious boarder with the dynamiting became known.

CONFESSION SECURE.

The McManigal confession was transcribed and exists in several secure places. It is understood one copy was furnished to Deputy District Attorney Ford, who is now in Indianapolis, and that others are in the possession of the Chicago police and Burns. Little by little the contents of this confession are escaping the guardians, but the statement of Smith, made after the party was across the California line, is perhaps the most informing to the people of Los Angeles as to what was in store for them if the Times Building dynamiting, and the subsequent attempt of McManigal at the Llewellyn Iron Works, did not break all resistance the domination of unionism.

According to McManigal, the fin inferno was to be staged a year aft the Times Building explosion, at th latest.

Smith says there is no doubt at a that "Jim" McNamara is the "Brice of the Times Building disaster.

"He was known as Brice to M McManigal," said Smith, "before h came West to perpetrate the Time Building horror, but when he returne to Chicago she was given to under stand that he had become 'Mr. Sulli van.'

"It is my judgment that we have th most complete case against the men ar rested that may be developed throug a long, systematic search of every de tail and it is simply a question o producing the proof in court to brin about a conviction."

SAYS SHE'S ALMOST SURE THAT M'NAMARA IS BRICE.

MRS. D. H. INGERSOLL of San Francisco practically identified J. W. McNamara as J. B. Brice, the Times Building dynamiter, yesterday. Mrs. Ingersoll, at whose house in San Francisco Brice stayed twelve days preceding the disaster here, was taken to Pasadena by one of the District Attorney's officers to see the prisoners as they stepped from the California Limited.

As McNamara, pallid and fearful of the crowd, crossed the station walk to the automobile, Mrs. Ingersoll gave an involuntary gasp—the initial notice of recognition. McNamara winced.

"I'm almost sure that is Brice," said the woman, as she turned wistfully toward a feminine attache of the District Attorney's office who had accompanied her. "If he had not raised his hand in front of his face as he crossed the sidewalk I would have established his identification beyond a doubt. However, I am pretty sure it is he."

On the way back to the city she talked and laughed gaily. She recounted several incidents the week prior to the dynamiting, when Brice had entertained her. Little trips down the beach, and through the road-house realm in San Francisco with Brice were discussed in a manner that showed the absence of all sentiment in the woman's heart for Brice.

Mrs. Ingersoll is regarded by the District Attorney's officers as a woman of willowy nature. She seemingly cares little concerning her flights of fancy or change of decision. That is why Capt. Fredericks, upon learning that she was staying at the Hotel Chapman—the unionite nest—insisted on shifting her residence. Now she is staying with friends of one of Capt. Frederick's detectives.

Expecting to obtain a statement of the absolute identification of McNamara from the woman's lips, the District Attorney will have her see the prisoner today.

Immediately after her visit to McNamara Mrs. Ingersoll will be rushed to the District Attorney's office, where an affidavit will be prepared for her to sign. After that she will be permitted to return to her home in San Francisco pending the summons of the District Attorney.

Capt. Fredericks says he can bring a dozen other witnesses who knew McNamara prior to the Times Building destruction when he was masquerading in San Francisco under the alias of J. B. Brice.

COUNTY WINS IN BUILDING FIGHT.

JUDGE RULES DECISIVELY ON CITY'S DEMURRER.

Long-Drawn-Out Dispute Over the Surgical Ward for Hospital Is Concluded by Decision That Municipality Cannot Interfere With the Building Operations.

The fuss between the city and the county over the construction of the surgical ward at the County Hospital was brought to a close yesterday, when Judge Rives made a ruling in favor of the latter political division.

Although the decision was only on a demurrer, it practically determines that the county is at liberty to construct buildings on any specifications it sees fit, as long as they are safe, on its property within the city limits.

The county did not consult the city building ordinances when it let a contract for the construction of the ward. After the contractor had begun work, J. A. Backus, building inspector, compelled him to desist, under threat of arresting him. It was alleged that in many respects the specifications were not in accord with the city ordinance.

Deputy District Attorney Hanna then applied to the court for an injunction to prevent interference. A temporary restraining order was granted. The city demurred to the complaint and the case was submitted to Judge Rives. He concluded that the pleadings of the county officials were good.

Assistant City Attorney Young stated yesterday that there is no dispute as to the facts and that the only difference was in the construction of law. As the legal phases of the question have been disposed of by Judge Rives, there will be no further procedure on the part of the municipality and the contractor will be permitted to complete the structure without molestation.

DEAD MAN'S SECRET.
SURETIES SAY THEY PAID.

A trial which harks back to the construction of the Third-street tunnel in 1900 was begun before Judge Oster in Department Six yesterday.

J. A. Hill and Anton Swenson were the contractors. They had insurance with the Maryland Casualty Company to the effect that they would be reimbursed for any damages they were compelled to pay as the result of accidents. Several persons were killed.

W. F. Powley was fatally injured on January 21, 1900. His relatives recovered a judgment for $4091.50 for his death, with $106.20 interest.

Swenson was killed on the desert and the partnership was dissolved. Alleging that he had paid the judgment, Hill began proceedings against the surety company.

The case was tried before Judge Wilbur and he rendered judgment for the defendant. It was appealed and the District Court of Appeal reversed the lower court. The hearing which is now in progress is the second trial. The defense is that a settlement was made with Swenson.

SHE'S ADMINISTRATRIX.
MILLIONAIRE BRIDE NAMED.

Special letters of administrtaion for the estate of Mrs. Jessie Neumeister were yesterday granted to Mrs. Carl J. Skinner. Mrs. Skinner was the step-daughter of the deceased, and was the daughter of John G. Neumeister, the late "cheese king."

Neumeister died on January 19, and his wife passed away two days later. Her estate consisted of personal property valued at about $2500, and an interest in her husband's estate.

The step-daughter alleges that the personal effects are likely to be lost while pending the granting of the regular letters of administration unless special provisions are made for their care.

Mrs. Skinner was not in court, she now being in Chicago on a honeymoon trip. She was married last week to the son of the former president of the All Night and Day Bank.

COMES TO FEW.
COURT GOES TO HER HOME.

Because Mrs. R. H. Sayers is too ill to go to court to give her testimony, Judge Fred V. Wood of extra session No. 1 will conduct his court at her home, No. 903 Grattan street, today.

The woman's husband is an important witness in the suit of E. H. McCullough against L. S. Barnes, a grubstaking case which has been in progress for a week. As it has been impossible for process servers to locate him, it has been decided to interrogate her as to her knowledge as to his whereabouts.

STILL PERSONABLE.
"CAMERA GIRL" ARRAIGNED.

Mearing a suit similar to the one in which she has so often been pictured as the "camera girl," Marie Thomas, who says her true name is Mabel T. Johnson, was arraigned before Judge McCormick yesterday on a charge of grand larceny.

Photos of the girl have been used by one of the larger camera factories to advertise their products—throughout the United States. She is extraordinarily good looking. Her large hat, set far back on her head, and her tasty sailor suit add to her attractiveness.

She is charged with having stolen lingerie and other articles valued at $500 from Mrs. C. Irving Wright on March 27. She will be allowed to enter a plea today.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.
BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

PROSECUTOR, TOO. Because Asst. Dist.-Atty. Ford is held on a kidnaping charge in Indianapolis, the trial of E. C. McDode on a charge of burglary could not proceed in Department Twelve yesterday. Ford was preparing to conduct the prosecution and he was the only member of the District Attorney's office who was thoroughly familiar with the evidence. The hearing was postponed until next Tuesday.

DAMAGES FOR SON. Frank C. Van Vorce yesterday filed suit for $20,246.70, against the Pacific Electric, Henry M. Boehme and John Fielding, alleging that their negligence caused the death of his son, Frank C. Van Vorce, who was killed in the Pacific Electric station, on October 1, 1910. Frank was employed as a newsboy to gather papers which were thrown from cars for the Robert Green & Company news agency, which has a stand in the station. The rear car of a train split a switch and ran him down. Boehme had charge of the levers which operated the switches. It is alleged that he was incapable of performing the duties properly as he had only one arm. Fielding was the station agent.

ATTACK ORDINANCE. Attorneys for H. W. Gunston, who was arrested on a charge of having conducted a dyeing and cleaning establishment within the fire limits of South Pasadena, yesterday attacked the validity of the ordinance he is charged with having violated. The question was raised on the hearing of a writ of habeas corpus before Judge McCormick.

ADOPTIONS. Mr. and Mrs. William Rawlings of Watts were yesterday permitted to adopt Richard Hamilton. Judge Rives heard the petition of Dr. and Mrs. A. T. Hembree of Redondo to adopt Georgiana Quinton. The child's parents are dead. She was for a time kept by the Masonic Home. The judge said that he desired to know whether a recent statute provided that the consent of the home must be procured.

SAYS RAIL BROKE. S. A. and Cynthia A. Habill, husband and wife, are seeking to recover $10,000 damages from the Los Angeles Railway for injuries suffered by Hrs. Habill on February 10. She endeavored to board a car at Fourth street and Broadway. She declares that a hand-rail broke and allowed her to fall on the pavement, striking her head and seriously injuring her.

LOST HIS FINGERS. Fingers are worth $2000 each, according to the allegations of W. D. Barckdall, whose suit against the Simons Brick Company went to trial before a jury in Judge Houser's court, yesterday. He was employed as a laborer by the brick company on January 31, 1910, when his right hand was caught in the machinery. The member was so badly crushed that it was necessary to amputate the fingers and the larger part of the thumb. He asks for $10,000 damages.

CONFIRMS SALES. Thirteen sales of realty of the Baldwin estate were confirmed by Judge Rives yesterday. The receipts were $36,919.74.

ESTATE DISTRIBUTED. An order for the final distribution of the estate of Mrs. Gertrude Colden Ruggles Rose, who was the wife of Police Judge H. H. Rose, was issued by Judge Rives yesterday. The property was valued at $20,000, one-half of it being given to the magistrate by will, and the remainder going to the only son, A. R. Rose.

SETTLE IT. Judge Craig yesterday dismissed the suit of Mrs. William H. Reithmaier against Frank Drake, the parties having reached a settlement out of court. The litigation grew out of an automobile collision. In her complaint, Mrs. Reithmaier alleged that she was driving on the extreme right of the road when she was run into. She was thrown out and seriously injured. She accepted $1500 in settlement of the case.

SUES ATTORNEY: Attorney Edward L. Hutchison is the defendant in a suit placed on trial before Judge Craig yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Kessler are seeking to recover $1550 damages from him because of his alleged negligence in handling a case for them. They were tenants of Benjamin F. Atwood and were evicted. They retained Hutchison to represent them in an action to recover $1500 damages from Atwooód. They were defeated. The case now in hearing is based on the allegation that they could have recovered if Hutchison had handled the case properly.

HURT HER LEG. Mrs. Ella K. Sprinkel yesterday filed suit against the Los Angeles Railway for $10,000 damages for injuries to her left leg, which she sustained when she stumbled over some rails as she left a car at Third and Fremont streets.

NATURALIZATIONS. The following persons were naturalized yesterday: William Leonard Lindquist, Hans William Max Vockeroh, John Walfried Lind, Walter William Cooper White, William Daniel Singleton, William Feigelborer, John Lagreco, Daniel Holmes, Morris Herman Greenburg, Charles Edwin Schulz and Louis M. Brogiure.

SUIT FOLLOWS TRAGEDY. Suit was begun in the Superior Court yesterday for $45,000 damages for the death of Mrs. Mary J. Quesenberry, who was killed by a Pacific Electric car at Thirty-ninth street and Long Beach avenue on February 24. She left a Watts local and walked behind it. A flyer struck and killed her. The plaintiffs are the widower, George W. Quesenberry, and two minor children, George W. and John W. Quesenberry.

INCORPORATIONS. Articles of incorporation were filed yesterday by J. A. Ellis Amusement Company, directors, J. A. Ellis, Almyra Paxton and F. F. Hahn, capital stock, $20,000, subscribed, $300; Bender Piano Company, directors, C. C. Bender, Margaret E. Bender and S. T. Mock, capital stock, $75,000, subscribed, $21.

SPEEDER TO FIGHT CASE.

Bank Cashier, Arrested at Wilshire Boulevard Trap, Believes Timing of Officers Is Defective—Other Victims

A. M. Danberry was fined $10 yesterday in Justice Summerfield's court for speeding. Officer Blaylock said he had caught Danberry doing thirty-five miles an hour on Wilshire boulevard.

The case against J. A. Clark was dismissed, on motion of Deputy Dist.-Atty. Richardson, who stated that the evidence was insufficient to convict.

D. M. Longyear, cashier of the Security Savings Bank, will face a like charge this morning. He will be defended by Attorney Kuster.

The cases of Clark and Longyear were brought to notice at the time Justice Summerfield and Deputy Dist.-Atty. Graham examined the speed-trap on Wilshire boulevard. The men were among those who objected to the system of timing, which was disapproved by officials of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

They see in the acquittal of G. K. Darling Tuesday, on proof that he had not driven through the speed trap, as asserted by Blaylock and Samuelson, an instance of the defective timing that they believe to have been evidenced in their own cases. Longyear will fight the accusation.

OBSTACLE IN PICKETS' TRIAL.

EXCUSING SICK JUROR PAVES WAY TO CHALLENGES.

Laborites' Attorney Takes Advantage of Technicality and Challenges Four Jurors Who Are Excused—Long Delay in Filling the Box Is Anticipated.

The illness of W. H. Black, a juror in the trial of the thirty-five unionite pickets charged with conspiracy, paved the way for the laborite attorneys to reopen the peremptory challenges. Five of the original twelve jurors were excused. It is now believed that the rest of the week will be required to refill the jury box.

No reference was made by Job Harriman, who is conducting the defense, to the recent developments in connection with the Times Building disaster, and though in previous questioning of talesmen he frequently referred to The Times, he now maintains a discreet silence.

The talesmen all appear to be eager to avoid jury duty, as the length of time it will require to try the case cannot be determined.

The defense attempted to carry the new challenging of jurors by storm and release the entire panel but Police Judge Chambers put a stop to it and forced an argument.

The court finally decided that the proper interpretation of the law allows the defense ten challenges in all. Harriman contended that an entire new jury was required, but he was overruled.

Knowing then that he had but ten challenges he used four in excusing T. R. Coles, No. 815 East Jefferson street, manager of a printing company; S. C. Dodge, retired, No. 686 South Burlington; J. Grundy, grocer, living at Ninth and Hoover streets, and L. M. Winters, No. 1940 La Salle, a real estate agent.

The entire day was consumed yesterday in the questioning of four talesmen by the defense. The prosecutor will take up his side of the work this morning.

PHYSICIAN FINED.
DIDN'T REPORT ACCIDENT.

Dr. H. C. Stinchfield, chief surgeon of the Edison Electric Company, was fined $5 by Police Judge Frederickson yesterday for his failure to report an accident in which he had been called.

He is the first physician punished for the violation of the ordinance requiring immediate notification of all traumatic cases.

The doctor was called last Saturday to the home of Lena Barrow, 9 years old, No. 4811 West Barrow street, to treat her for a gunshot wound which she had received while playing in the yard.

The girl was struck in the arm by a stray bullet. Dr. Stinchfield treated the injury, and a patrolman later hearing of the accident, started an investigation. Later Dr. Stinchfield was cited to appear in Police Court.

DENTISTS ARRESTED.
ILLEGAL PRACTICE ALLEGED.

Five dentists, charged with having practiced without a State license, appeared before Police Judge Frederickson late yesterday afternoon as a result of the crusade of the State Board of Dental Examiners against illegal practicing in the southern portion of the State.

The dentists were: Dr. W. I. Burney, of the Broadway Dentists, Fifth and Broadway; Dr. C. E. Cutz, of the Eastern Dental Company, Fourth and Hill streets; Dr. H. M. Silverberg, of the National Dentists, Third and Main streets; Dr. Rogers, proprietor of the Twentieth Century Dental Parlors, Fourth and Spring streets, and Dr. Kinsella, proprietor of the Arcade Dental Establishment, near the Arcade depot.

As they all owned the equipment in their offices they were released on their own recognizance to appear tomorrow morning for trial.

THE FEDERAL COURTS.

Contraband Chinese Tells of Inner Workings of Underground Coolie Smuggling System.

There were but four witnesses examined yesterday in the Chinese exclusion case before Judge Wellborn. The government alone has a list of forty to be heard. Gin Wit Wah, the informer, will not go on the stand and tell his story of Coolie smuggling before tomorrow, unless unusual celerity is displayed.

The testimony of Jow Ne One, the only member of the colony of four Chinese laborers smuggled into the United States, gave the details of the methods pursued in bringing contraband Chinese across the line. He reached the port of Manzanillo, Mex., in the summer of 1910, from Hong Kong and thence to Ensenda. He said that the trip was made from Ensenda to San Diego in a covered wagon. From the latter city the long journey was made on foot by the four Chinese and two Mexicans, Pena and Villa, to Riverside, fifteen days being spent on the walk. He said that they slept by the roadside during the day and tramped all night. The Mexicans only left them long enough to get food for the company.

The understanding was, he said, that he was to pay $200 for being brought across the line, and as an evidence of his indebtedness he gave Pena a note for that amount. The party had been told that there was plenty of work in Los Angeles and they would be able to pay the money.

Reaching Riverside they were shifted into three different houses, before being captured by government officers, and Jow Ne One said they were compelled to remain in a darkened room during the day so as to elude the officers. Letters were introduced tending to show that Pena and Villa were the agents of the defendants, Wong Wing Hing, Wong Sing Tai, Quan Hong and Ng. Fun, and that money was paid the Mexicans for bringing the Chinese into this country.

Acknowledges Guilt.

Hom Gin Duck, one of the Chinese merchants doing business on Marchessault street, indicted with Ham Woy, Quan Wing, and Sam Wing, for concealing and dealing in opium, has thrown up his hands, and withdrawing his plea of not guilty entered his plea of guilty to the information. He was sentenced to four months in the County Jail.

The charge against the quartette of Chinese shows that a box containing fish was received by the party from Oceanside. In the bottom of the receptacle snugly packed so as to avoid exposure, were a number of boxes of opium. In one of the boxes was a letter from an opium dealer in Oceanside, telling how the stuff was to be disposed of.

Bankruptcy Petitions.

In the United States District Court yesterday, creditor's petitions against the San Diego Gem Company and R. B. Woodside, in business at No. 3605 Central avenue were filed asking that they be declared bankrupts. The petitioners in the first instance are the Himalaya Mining Company, Theodore W. Lyons and Carl Kley. The alleged amount of debts due and unpaid is $2,295.97. Woodside, according to the petition signed by the Stetson-Barret Company, the United Wholesale Grocery Company, and the Pioneer Paper Company, owes $675.83.

SAYS CHARGE LACKS TRUTH.

GOLD BRICK ARTIST'S RELATIVES COME TO RESCUE.

Old Man, Who Is Alleged to Have Figured in an Attempt to Despoil Widow of Her Wealth, Under Bail for Minneapolis Affair—Papers on the Way.

C. W. Caddagan, alleged gold-brick artist, appeared before Justice Summerfield for arraignment yesterday on a charge of grand larceny, as a result of a fugitive warrant issued through Deputy District Attorney Blair. Bond was provided at $5000. He will appear again this morning, at which time a date will be set for his examination.

Extradition papers are now on their way here from Minneapolis, where Caddagan, under the alias of John Armstrong, in October, 1909, is said to have sold to H. F. Chaffee, a wealthy milling man of Amenia, S. D., two brass ingots for $25,000, asserting that they were gold.

The fugitive warrant was sworn out by E. W. Chaffee, a son of the victim, who came here to identify Caddagan, after accounts had gone East of his alleged attempt to sell a gold brick at Ocean Park to Mrs. Ida H. Kendall, a wealthy widow who has been living at the Lankershim Hotel. The warrant bears the alias, John Armstrong.

Young Chaffee registered at a local hotel under the name of Carson, in order not to arouse Caddagan's suspicions.

Members of Caddagan's family asserted last night that the Minneapolis charge has no foundation in fact. He will resist any attempt to take him East, until extradition papers arrive.

STRIKER AS WIFE DESERTER.

Is Brought Back From Oakland by Deputy Constable, Charged With Failure to Provide for His Family.

Deputy Constable Harvey W. Bell returned yesterday from Oakland, bringing with him Harry W. Moore, wanted here on a charge of failure to provide for his wife and family. He was released on his own recognizance, after a hearing before Justice Summerfield.

Moore is a striking brewery worker, who says he went north when he lost his position here. He claimed to have told his wife where he was going. He has promised to go to work, and to provide for his family.

The Oil Industry.

MARCH FIGURES OF THE AGENC

Production Is Increased Consumption Falls Off.

Midway Passes Coalinga the First Time.

General News of Inter From Oil Fields.

The report of the March oil produ tion caused more or less constern tion among the oil operators of t State. The production was in exce of seven million barrels—to be e act, 7,089,955—while the consum tion was only 5,047,551 barrels. Wi thirty-one days in March and on twenty-eight days in February, th consumption of oil in February w nearly one hundred thousand barre greater than in the month of Marc Practically two millions barrels we added to the oil in storage in Marc

The March average daily produ tion was 228,708 barrels, and the av erage daily consumption was onl 164,115 barrels, making an averag daily surplus of 64,598 barrels. Ac cording to the agency figures ther was above ground, in stocks, o March 31, a total of 35,690,872 barrels of oil.

For the first time the productio of the Midway field was greater tha that of the Coalinga field. The March figures for the big fields were: Kern River, 1,257,980 barrels; McKittrick, 624,719; Midway, 1,696,316; Sunset, 479,539; Coalinga, 1,513,973; Santa Maria, 700,566; Salt Lake, 244,890; Whittier-Coyote, 83,868; Fullerton-Brea Canyon, 436,084. The March production of the Los Angeles city fields was 36,076 barrels.

It would seem from the above showing of the official figures that it is up to the independent agency, the Standard and the associated to extend the market for fuel oil. There is a report that the Pacific Mail Steamship Company has decided to equip three of its freighters for the burning of oil, and that this will be followed by the installation of oil burners on all of the vessels of the big company as fast as it can be done, but, as yet, there is no tangible evidence of a contract having been made for oil with the agency or the associated. However, this is no time to be pessimistic, and it is very probable that the big marketers have a few cards up their sleeves that they will play at the proper time.

There are many California oil men who are earnest in the belief that it is necessary to have many millions of barrels of oil above ground to insure the extension of a permanent market for fuel oil, and they are not dismayed because the surplus has increased to over thirty-five million barrels. While the decrease in consumption in March as compared with February is not susceptible of easy explanation, the fact that the Midway and Sunset fields, which adjoin, produced over two million one hundred thousand barrels of oil in March was due to the bringing in of many wells that are flowing anywhere from one thousand to five thousand barrels a day each. In the Coalinga field it has been the policy of many of the big operators to curtail production for some time because of the inability of the pipe-line companies to handle the output, and that fact accounts for the falling off in the March production. Coalinga has long been recognised as the banner field of the State.

In Little Sespe Canyon.

Frank O. Wood of Los Angeles and J. G. Elliott of Pasadena have organized the Van Linda Oil Company, and will operate on a tract of 1420 acres in the Little Sespe Canyon in the Santa Paula district. This land adjoins a large acreage owned by the Union Oil Company.

Gusher at it Again.

The Consolidated Midway gusher on fractional section 30, which came in for the second time some days ago and soon sanded up, is again in evidence. On Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock the well began to flow at a terrific rate, and it was estimated that it was producing approximately 25,000 barrels a day. The management believes that if the well again sands up it will be but a temporary matter, and that the gusher is now in the class of permanent producers.

Nichols Sends Warning.

Allen G. Nichols, well known to the oil men of California, who is now in the Mexican oil fields, has written a letter in which he warns oil well drillers and toolers to keep away from the fields of that region unless they have permanent places in sight before leaving this country. It seems that every company operating in Mexico has its own picked crew of men, and there is no work for free lances. Some expert drillers who went there without being under contract found no work in their chosen line and are working on the streets for $1.50 a day Mexican money.

T. M. Hardy, an oil operator of Port Arthur, Tex., accompanied by his family, is occupying a suite at the Hayward. While here Hardy is taking a look at the California oil industry.

T. G. Turner, manager of the transportation department of the Guaranty Oil Company, and C. H. Burdick, field superintendent of the same company, were in the city for several days consulting with General Manager R. L. Cox.

Clarence Berry, who owns several oil properties in the Midway-Maricopa field has be,en making frequent trips to Kern county since the bringing in of the big Mammoth well. This well is still doing several thousand barrels a day.

John V. Hoffman of San Francisco, who also maintains an office in this city, is one of the busiest men engaged in the oil industry. He spends much time in Pullman cars going to and from the oil fields.

Yesterday was his 75th birthday anniversary, and the Methodists in this city and vicinity, headed by Dr. Locke, Dr. E. H. Larkin, superintendent of Los Angeles district, Rev. W. M. Mr. Tarr of his anniversary. A substantial purse was presented to him by the women of the First Methodist Church; and there were guests from Long Beach and Compton.

Rev. Mr. Tarr was born in Mansfield, O. After having served ten years in the Northwest Indiana conference he came to Southern California, and of this conference he has been a member forty years. The first charge he served was Compton, which at that time was the only self-supporting charge in the Southern California conference.

Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Tarr have been married forty-eight years, and their multitude of friends in the church hope to have the privilege of helping them celebrate their golden wedding.

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES."

Another Outrage.

LOS ANGELES, April 24.—[To the Editor of The Times:] It may be of interest to the readers of The Times to learn that in addition to the numerous other reports given in The Times of the destruction of property and lives by dynamiters employed by the leaders of union labor organizations, of the destruction by dynamite in 1909 of several carloads of iron belonging to the Milwaukee Bridge & Iron Company, which was side-tracked near where a new bridge was in the course of construction across Fox River in Green Bay, Wis.

The iron work on this bridge had been let to the Milwaukee Bridge & Iron Company by Greilling Bros. of Green Bay, the contractors for the building of the bridge. C. G.

Our Parks.

LOS ANGELES, April 26.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I suppose your city parks are intended to please the tourists as well as the residents? If so, would your park commissioners accept a suggestion?

After reading in The Times of Tuesday about the plans for Westlake Park, would say that the three things myself and family like to meet with in your parks are:

First, comfortable, clean seats; second, flowers blooming outdoors in winter, and third, swans, peacocks, birds and other unconfined animals. These, with nice toilet facilities, for which a penny or two should be charged, less "green sward" and stagnant water, will suit best one of many.

CHEAP RATES TO THE COAST.

SUMMER TOURIST RUSH STARTS IN ANOTHER MONTH.

Railroads Distributing Folder Describing Beauties and Advantages of California Through the East to Give Easterners the Westward Fever—Fast Steamships for Coast.

The heavy tide of Eastbound passenger traffic occasioned by winter tourists returning East will soon make way to the Westbound traffic prompted by the reduced summer tourist rates. There will also be the heavy movement East caused by the rates that will go in effect the middle of next month to Eastbound points.

The Santa Fe has scheduled only one more second section of its California Limited train, which will leave Los Angeles Monday, after which it is believed the regular trains on all of the railroads will take care of the winter tourists going home. May 16 the cheap roundtrip rates will go into effect, causing another rush of traffic.

June 1 the regular summer tourist rates from the East will become effective by which it is expected that hundreds will be attracted to Southern California.

The Salt Lake Railroad is distributing 40,000 copies of a folder entitled "California in Summer." It contains views of mountain and seaside resorts, and is calculated to inspire a wish to visit the Pacific Coast. The Santa Fe and Southern Pacific are also distributing a great quantity of summer literature throughout the East.

MORE STEAMSHIPS.

THREE TO BE CHARTERED.

While Capt. James H. Bennett of the Pacific Navigation Company, persists in refusing to discuss the proposition, the report is gaining ground in shipping circles that the Company has chartered three new fast passenger steamers to supplement the Yale and Harvard in the fast steamship service between San Diego, Los Angeles and San Francisco. With the addition of the three new boats, the company will probably extend its service to include Puget Sound ports.

Some mystery was attached to the sudden departure of T. B. McGovern, passenger traffic manager of the company, for the East two or three weeks ago. Now it is believed that he has successfully closed a mission that had for its purpose the leasing of the Massachusetts, Old Colony and Bunker Hill, steamers which have been in the Atlantic coastwise service for the last four years; and that the boats are now on their way from New York with the prospect of arriving at San Pedro harbor about June 1.

McPherson's Successor.

F. L. Annable will succeed J. C. McPherson as assistant superintendent of the northern division of the Pacific Electric Company, which includes jurisdiction over the city lines in Pasadena. The announcement of the promotion of McPherson to be superintendent of the division, was made yesterday. Annable has been general superintendent of the Arizona & Swansea Railroad, with headquarters in Swansea, Ariz. The appointment will become effective May 1.

Appointment Made.

E. L. Lomax, passenger traffic manager of the Western Pacific Railroad, has announced the appointment of F. R. Kane as traveling passenger agent of the company, with headquarters in Los Angeles. The appointment was made in pursuance to the policy of the Western Pacific to develop passenger traffic in Southern California.

Returns to Montana.

Ex-Senator W. A. Clark, president of the Salt Lake Railroad, finished his semi-annual visit to the headquarters office in this city yesterday, and will leave this morning for Butte.

Steel Trolley Poles.

The Pacific Electric has begun the installation of steel trolley poles on Sixth street east of Main, to comply with the requirements of a city ordinance forbidding the use of wooden poles.

At Chico this week a man identified a rdered brother by a bit of skull and hu- n flesh. Now, this man really did not ntify his brother, for never did he see brother or any man with human eyes. that he could do was to identify the dful of broken dust once animated by brother's spirit and occupied by that ich is a man. No woman is 110 pounds flesh and blood. No man weighs 140, 160 180 pounds. There uld be an improvement in sermons if re work was put in on them. The faith- church-goer can usually put down from mory a score of the worn phrases of the tor. As Hamlet once remarked: "Re- n it altogether."

GOOD WORK.

In a cell beside that occupied by the confessed assailant of two little girls the fiend who assaulted a young Los Angeles woman Monday afternoon has been placed. At least two of the moral degenerates who have been terrorizing the city are behind the bars. Hanging is too good for a man guilty of such an offense. The whole city should be aroused until every perpetrator of these deeds has been forever removed from human society. We know of no worse blot upon any city than the fact that its womanhood is not safe from the contamination of such diabolical fiends. The police force would be justified in any expense leading to their capture. We heartily congratulate the detectives of this city on their excellent work in arresting the perpetrator of Monday's outrage.

THE DIGNITY OF LABOR.

Human labor is the creator of all values and the source of all national and individual wealth. Every dollar that rings upon the counters of commerce is a certificate that the owner of it, or those from whom it was derived, at some time or other, somewhere or other, performed 100 cents' worth of services to society. Those services have been performed by strong arms, or deft fingers, or bright brains. They have been performed in the depths of the mine, amid the trees of the forest, upon the foam-crested seas, in field, in orchard, in the humming factory, at the red forge, amid humming spindles, in the glow of furnaces—wherever man toils to support his wife and babies. Armies and navies, Presidents and Senators, judges and courts—all the complicated structure of civil society is sustained upon the broad back of labor. Palsied be the hand that would strike it down. Accursed be the councils that would reduce it to industrial slavery, or link it with crime, or cause it to wallow in the embraces of the Delilahs of closed-shop unionism, who would shear the locks of brave Samson and bring the Philistines of graft and greed upon him.

Is there an honest worker in all the land who does not, in his heart and soul, condemn the action of the union-labor leaders who incite dynamiting and murder and beatings? Is there one who does not repudiate responsibility for their action and loathe the methods they adopt to coerce their followers?

The present is an opportunity for honest laborers who have been beguiled into closed-shop unionism to arise in their might, abandon the affiliations they have been deceived or bullied into making, disclaim all fellowship or sympathy with the criminals who have fastened themselves like leeches upon them and are sucking their life blood, and stand forth in their honest manhood as men and no longer cringe as complaisant slaves.

Let the home-makers stand forth in their manhood and dissolve partnership with the criminals who disgrace them.

The great majority of the members of labor unions are honest laborers—The Times has always said so; and now is the opportunity for them to place the seal of their honest disapproval and indignation upon the assassins and grafters who have dishonored and abased the dignity of honest labor.

LEGITIMATE LOAFING.

No sight is more saddening than that of a young and able-bodied man loafing away his time dully, fruitlessly, heavily, deaf to the call of life and action. Almost as distressing, however, is the spectacle of the old man, worn out with the weight of the yoke and the chafing of the harness, vainly pitting himself against younger and more vigorous competitors. The proper place for the man who can work and won't is the rock pile and the big stick; the right treatment for the aged who are willing, but have lost their grip, is a California home among the roses and the oranges. The loafing of the young warrior who has yet to win his spurs is a crime against society; the loafing of the toil-worn veteran is a sacrifice to nature.

Therefore, all credit is due to John C. Stubbs, vice-president and traffic-manager of the Harriman lines, for his decision to quit the ranks, after forty years of active service in railroading circles, and to leave the continuance of his splendid work to younger and stronger men. John C. Stubbs may honorably join the ranks of the legitimate loafers. "I am tired and I'm going to loaf," says this railroad veteran. "I'm going to sit on the fence and watch the trains go by." Yet one can well believe—knowing the man and his work—that his loafing days will be useful, too; that he will simply change the high pressure of active service for the low pressure of passive co-operation.

It isn't the desire to drop altogether from sight that prompts a man old in years and experience to slacken up, and for the sake of the enterprise whose interests he has at heart to allow its more active manipulation to fall into younger and more active hands. His heart will be bound up in its success as wholly as when his own hands held the helm. To grow old gracefully, to retire with dignity, to wind up a career before his own wheels are all run down, this should be the finish for all active men to bear in mind. For, sooner or later, to one and all, however robust and energetic, will come the time for the sloughing off of business toils and worries, for that late Indian summer of life when tired nature will be ready just "to sit on the fence and watch the trains go by."

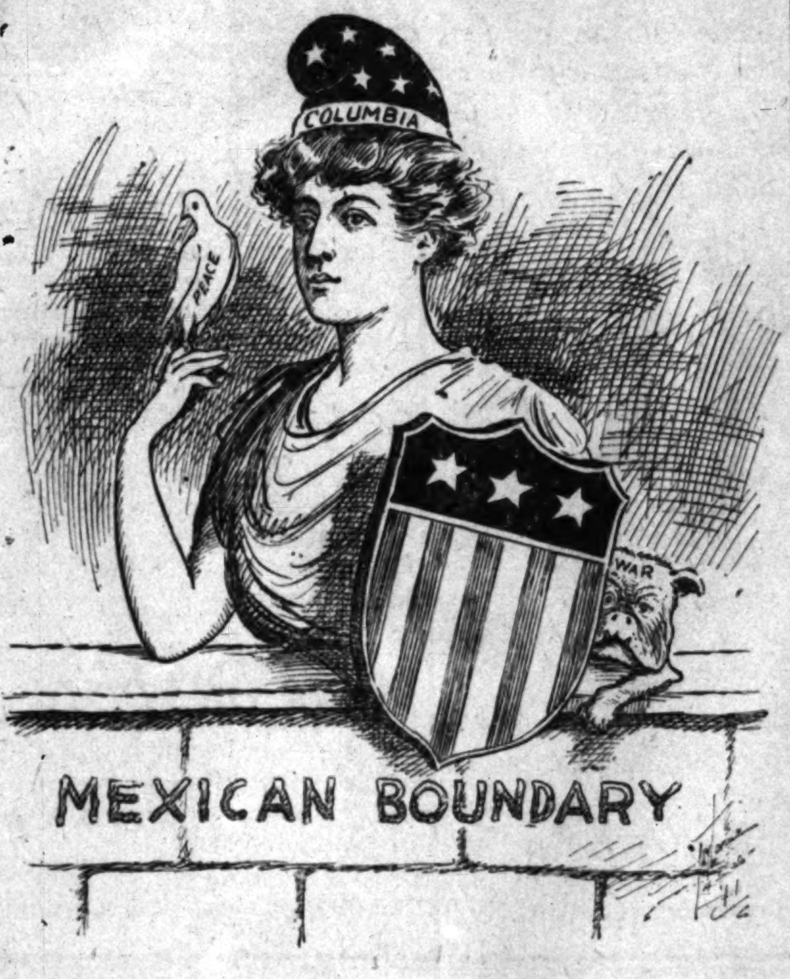
WAGES AND COST OF LIVING.

Prof. Streightoff, in his work on the "Standard of Living Among the Industrial People of America," concludes that a reasonable standard of living can be maintained by an average family in a southern city for $600 per annum and for $650 in northern, eastern and western cities, but a larger sum will be required in New York City, because of the high rents which prevail there. He asserts that 5,000,000 workers, engaged in industrial employment, are not earning $600 per annum. He asserts that one-fifth of the adult male workers are unemployed for three months in each year.

The professor proposes, as a remedy for these conditions, that men shall be hired for public work only during those months when it is difficult to obtain private employment. To this he adds a suggestion that the government shall establish minimum wage boards and provide for workman's accident compensation.

There are always benevolent would-be helpers of the workers, of which helpers Prof. Streightoff appears to be one, who, disregarding the truism that the world is governed too much, propose all sorts of plans for relieving mankind from the primal decree, "In the sweat of thy face shalt thou earn thy bread." Most of these Utopians propose some sort of governmental interference with or regulation of the industrial relations of employer and workman. It does not appear, however, that any experiment along such lines has ever been successful in promoting the interests or establishing the rights or remedying the wrongs of workers, or that there is any better method of conducting business than to protect the right of free contract between employer and employee, and permitting every man to conduct his own business in his own way, subject only to the laws of his country.

Which?



ACCESSORIES TO CRIME.

An accessory before the fact to a crime is a cowardly villain who advises, abets, aids and plans its commission by another, while he himself remains secreted in the background and sometimes, after it has been perpetrated, seeks to blind the public by offering $7500 reward for the detection and conviction of the braver villain who placed the bomb.

An accessory before the fact is classed by the Penal Code of this State as principal and is liable to punishment as such. He cannot, as can the man who commits the deed, exonerate himself by proving an alibi, for personal presence at the scene of the crime, or even presence in the State at the time of its commission is not necessary. An accessory may plan in Indiana or Illinois or Michigan a crime that is committed in California and yet be liable to punishment by a California court and brought here by extradition to answer for it. Mrs. Botkin, who, while in Washington, D. C., deposited in the mail a package of poisoned candy directed to her victim in California, was, by extradition, brought to San Francisco, tried, convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment there. Parsons, who, while in Wisconsin, wrote an article which was published in his Chicago paper, advising socialists to kill policemen who attempted to interfere with their freedom of speech and who was not in Illinois when the policemen were murdered, was classed as principal. Relying upon these facts to procure him immunity from punishment he returned from Wisconsin and surrendered himself, was tried with the others, convicted and hung.

Numerous other instances of the operation of the law concerning accessories and the law of extradition might be cited. The arrest of Burns and of his deputies, and especially of Deputy District-Attorney Ford, for "kidnaping" is a puerile piece of business, unworthy even of a first-class criminal, for the arresting and deporting officers acted under the authority of the Governors of two States and of the local judge who granted the warrant of arrest.

The cowardly murderers who planned the dynamiting of The Times and the murder of twenty of its workmen may clutter and obstruct and delay the progress of justice for a time, but in the end they must face a jury. They cannot and will not be convicted unless proved guilty beyond a reasonable doubt and, if convicted, they will expiate their crimes upon the gallows beyond all peradventure.

The solicitation of contributions from organized labor, either locally or generally, is but another means of extracting by false pretenses money from the pockets of workers to furnish more funds to swell the private bank accounts of the union-labor leaders. The accused men have, according to their own showing, access to ample funds to pay extravagant fees to lawyers to defend them and to obtain evidence for their defense. It would be impossible to use $250,000 or $100,000 or even $10,000 except as a fund with which to bribe witnesses and jurors. Contributions for such purposes would disgrace every man who gave a dollar towards it and, if made, they will be utterly ineffectual. The people of Los Angeles are thoroughly aroused and thoroughly determined that justice shall take its course. They are willing and indeed anxious that the accused men shall have a fair trial, with every presumption in their favor that the law accords them. But any attempt to corruptly baffle the due course of the law will be closely watched and, if detected, will make outlaws and pariahs of those who participate in it.

There is this to be said in favor of ordering your garden stuff by telephone. It has ample time to ripen by the way.

UNCLE WALT.

The Poet Philosopher.

Hercules had done his labors in the slickest sort of style, and a bunch of awe-struck neighbors came to jolly him awhile. "Colonel," said the village sages, "you have won a fame galore, that will snort along the ages for a billion years or more. You have won immortal glory, won renown beyond compare; you are strictly hunky-dory, you are right side up with care." "Peradventure," said the colonel, as he took a fine-cut chew, "my renown will be eternal, wherefore, cockadoodledoo! But the fates I'm not forgiving that all things are out of tune; for it's plain that I am living seven thousand years too soon. Let my fame o'er worlds be sounded—what, then, shall the profit be? There are no Chautauquas founded, and the platform's not for me! Cheaper skates in later ages, men who travel on their gall, will draw in all kinds of wages in the blooming concert hall. I might lessen my distresses if I started writing books, but there are no printing presses—thunderation and gadzooks! All my hopes are down to zero, death to me would be a boon; it is bum to be a hero seven thousand years too soon!"

WALT MASON.

[Copyright, 1911, by George Matthew Adams.]

THE COST OF LIVING IS LOWER.

Comparing the highest quotations of 1910 with the recent wholesale cash prices of leading necessary articles, one notes such changes as these:

Wheat, $1.33½ to 96 cents—decline, 37½ cents a bushel.

Corn, 76½ cents to 57½ cents—decline, 19 cents a bushel.

Flour, $6.30 to $5.10—decline, $1.20 per barrel.

Family beef, $19.50 to $16.25—decline, $3.25 per 100 pounds.

Pork, $27.50 to $21.50—decline, $6 per barrel.

Lard, 14½ cents to 9¼ cents—decline, 5¼ cents per pound.

Sugar, 5.25 cents to 4.80 cents—decline, .45 cents per pound.

Iron, No. 1 foundry, $19 to $15.75—decline, $3.25 per ton.

Cotton, 20 cents to 14.60 cents—decline, 5.40 cents per pound.

The readjustment in commodity prices is highly beneficial to the country as a whole. It seems destined to proceed somewhat further, in consequence of general conservatism in business, which is impelled by the special session of Congress, and by the economies introduced by important railways in consequence of the Interstate Commerce Commission's veto of an advance in freight rates.—[Munsey's Magazine.

RECIPROCITY AND AMERICAN LUMBER.

BY WALTER J. BALLARD.

The bill favoring reciprocity with Canada has passed the Democratic House of Representatives and now goes to the Republican Senate. Its fate there is uncertain. Whether it receives approval there or not it is well for us to understand what we are giving up if we make this great concession to Canada, covering, as it does, the opening of our thirteen times as large market to the products of that country.

Take lumber, for instance. The present "revised-downward" tariff—the Payne tariff—reduced the duties on lumber items an average of 37½ per cent., leaving the advalorem equivalent of present duties only 7 per cent., which is one of the lowest duties in the entire "revised-downward" tariff. There seemed to be a purpose to "get at" the few fortunate owners of large timber tracts, and the average lumber manufacturer is left with but a small margin of profit. That was the status before the present proposal for reciprocity with Canada further imperiled the American lumber industry.

If the bill passes the Senate the duties on lumber from Canada will be further reduced and no reciprocal advantages gained. It will hit lumber the hardest of any of our industries. The total value of articles admitted from Canada into the United States in 1910, upon which concessions would be made, was $47,333,158, of which 49.9 per cent. was lumber, while of the total to have favored admission into Canada, lumber has less than one-tenth of 1 per cent. Where is the "reciprocity" (even exchange) in that?

Canada will continue to enact a duty of 25 per cent on dressed lumber, while our duty will be only 6¾ per cent. Where is the "reciprocity" in that? We are to give the Canada lumber producers a market thirteen times as large as they give us and at one-fourth the cost. Where is the "reciprocity" in that?

Our exports of lumber, timber and furniture to Canada in the past three calendar years were (Bureau of Statistics:)

Exports in 1910.

Lumber	7,670,201

Lumber	3,770,066
Total for 1909	$5,805,050

Total for 1908	$4,919,898

It will be seen at a glance that these exports have more than doubled in only two years, and that their total for 1910 was $4,200,000 more than for 1909. Such being the case, why do we need reciprocity with Canada in connection with our export lumber trade? Why pay a premium for a trade that has come, and is still coming, to us, any way?

On the other hand, why, by opening our doors to Canadian lumber, make it still harder for the American lumber manufacturer to earn a living profit and still pay high-rate American wages?

Canada has lots of timber of her own and would not buy ours if she did not really need it. There is no need for us to offer her "trading stamps" to induce such purchases.

In Canada the logger has a great advantage over his United States competitor in the cost of stumpage, that which is privately owned being cheaper there, while the great forests are owned by either the provinces or the Dominion and worked under lease or license. In this country the taxes, cost of fire patrol, losses by fire and storm and other risks are all carried by the private owner; there, by the government.

Canadian lumber manufacturers on the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts or navigable streams are able to contract for cheap foreign tonnage to our ports, while their competitors on this side of the line must employ United States vessels in the coastwise trade at a much higher cost. It is said that the freight rate from Seattle to San Francisco is from $1 to $1.25 higher than from British Columbia ports to San Francisco. Thus our present duty of only $1.25 per thousand on rough lumber is nearly or quite offset by the Canadian advantage in shipping.

The several Canadian governments prohibit the exportation of logs from public lands. The proposed reciprocity agreement does not change this. Their purpose—a very proper one—is to cause their timber to be manufactured at home. The President did not seem to realize this, for, in his message transmitting the proposed reciprocity agreement to Congress, he said: "By giving our people access to Canadian forests we shall reduce the consumption of our own." The National Lumber Manufacturers' Association of the United States corrects this and says that Canada, in return for the free admission of her lumber into the United States, does not even permit the unrestricted shipment to us of logs. Where is the "reciprocity" in that? To show the hardship of this, take this statement, which the president of the St. John Lumber Company has furnished to that long-tried and valiant defender of a full protective tariff, the Home-Market Club of Boston:

"We have large saw mills located at Van Buren on the St. John River, in northwestern Maine. As you know, the St. John River is the boundary line. Under this bill (the proposed reciprocity agreement) many millions of feet of logs which have been cut in Maine and would this year pay a duty of $1.25 a thousand after August 1, when transported to St. John and manufactured there, will now become duty free; and it would seem in all justice that we should be allowed to cut our logs on the Canadian side of the St. John and manufacture at our mill; but Canada absolutely prohibits the exportation of these logs to be sawn on United States territory." As this prohibition is not to be removed under the proposed reciprocity agreement, where is the reciprocity in that?

It must also be remembered that the wages paid in Canadian mills and forests are considerably below ours. This makes an additional handicap for the American lumber manufacturer. Canadian manufacturers and middlemen will absorb that difference in wages and also the saving of duties, as they did under the Democratic Wilson tariff, and our consumers will not get cheaper lumber.

VISITING BAND GIVES NEW MUSIC.

LTSCHULER OFFERS MANY STRANGE WORKS.

Orchestra Shows Effects of Long Ensemble Work and Systematic Musicianly Leading—Thousands of Children Attend Afternoon Concert—Dramatic News.

Modest Altschuler's orchestra, in concerts at the Auditorium yesterday, demonstrated that it possesses not only a splendid tonality and great ensemble ability, but that it is dominated by a conductor who is unique in quiet force and scholarly musicianship.

There are a number of orchestral leaders in America who are perhaps more picturesque than Altschuler. There are some who are doubtless more dynamic and dramatic. But there are few who can rank with him as an interpreter in general, and as a specialist in the music of the modern Russians.

His band plays with the precision and unity of an aggregation whose members have been long accustomed to each other and thoroughly acquainted, not only with the gestures but with the subtle meanings of their leader.

There are about fifty men. Of violins first and second there were fourteen yesterday afternoon, and in the other strings, brasses and woods there were complete quartettes.

The afternoon programme was devoted almost exclusively to youthful patrons, though two or three of the numbers were distinctly upon the educational order. The house was filled early, and the restless thousands of youngsters from all parts of the city evidenced their eagerness by hand-clapping, and even a few scared and belated whistles.

There was dainty new music to set before them, too, in the prelude to the second act of Humperdinck's "Die Koenigskinder," the picturesque Rimsky-Korsakow "Tsar Sultan," and the quaint "Child Life" suite of Conus. Of course, as far as most of the pupils were concerned, the dream-music from "Hansel and Gretel" was equally new, and the beautiful "Dance of the Fairy Dolls," and the "Sleeping Beauty" waltz, of Tschaikowsky. In the latter the orchestra demonstrated a most exquisite lyricism and showed absolute obedience to Altschuler's ever-shading baton.

Altschuler opened his programme with the Weber "Jubel" overture, and when it came to "God Save the King" the people instantly arose—just as they always do when they mistake the tune in this instance—distinctively British strain for our own national anthem.

Altschuler's soloists are no better and no worse than those who accompany most touring orchestras.

Of the four the tenor, Frank Ormsby, is the best, being possessed of a light voice of most delightful quality, used in the main in an extremely artistic manner.

Lealia Joel-Hulse, contralto, is the possessor of a good natural organ, but her contralo is far from perfect and she still seems in the student stage. Bertram Schwan, baritone, is a fair-capable singer.

Mme. Nina Dimitrieff, Russian soprano, sings pleasantly, and is an interesting interpreter, though she too has minor faults of voice production.

As an entertainer of children Altschuler hardly equals the wonderfully resourceful Mr. Damrosch, who prefaces everything he does with his quaint and wholly original talks.

From the musical standpoint, however, the Altschuler orchestra and the Damrosch orchestra seem to be at a balance.

Altschuler introduces several new instruments. The oddest among them being the "celeste," in appearance exactly like a small reed-organ, and in tone approximating a college-educated xyphone.

One of the pleasant features of the afternoon was the accompanying of Mrs. Gertrude Ross. The Altschuler accompanist apparently being missing, several make-shifts were resorted to until Mrs. Ross's arrival, when, absolutely without rehearsal, she swept to a triumph that was a great local gratification.

In the evening Altschuler tendered a scholarly and magnificent programme to an audience which manifested not only interest, but enthusiasm.

It included the Tschaikowsky fourth symphony, Liadow's "Enchanted Lake," the Tschaikowsky "Dance of the Fairy Dolls," the Liszt Second Rhapsody, and the thunderous "1812," with an interspersion of vocal selections.

As there were a number of teachers and children unable to gain admittance yesterday, the management wishes it understood that the same rate, for individuals, will be in force today.

Today's concluding programmes follow:

Though the Hamburger Majestic Theater is "dark" this week, it is nevertheless a very busy place, as afternoon and evening rehearsals are being held with great regularity for "Wan o' the Wood," the first drama of the children's theater movement, which is to have two representations, Friday evening and Saturday afternoon. The cast is headed by Helen Eddy, a beautiful young girl, as Wan, while Lucille Hutton and Ollie Walters—the latter known to the professional stage by many appearances at the Burbank and Belasco—will assume the secondary role of Tioma for one performance each.

The music of the piece has been written, in twelve numbers, by Mrs. Mary Payson, with orchestrations by A. D. Hunter. The complete cast numbers more than sixty individuals.

The production is under the general direction of Frank C. Egan, who has the able assistance of William Bernard, Alfred Allen and Mme. Mathildita Ferrando, while Adolf Lowinsky will direct the orchestra. The seat-sale will be inaugurated at the Majestic boxoffice this morning. The entire proceeds will be devoted to the forwarding of the children's theater movement.

PROFESSOR OSLER IS RIGHT;
YOUTH ALWAYS SUCCEEDS AGE

Gray Hair First Sign of Age. Harmless Remedy Restores Natural Color.

Osler isn't the only man who turns down old age. In the business world the "young man" is always the one who picks the plums. It is an age of "new thought," "new talent," etc., and the old man is passed by in the race.

One of the first signs of coming age is the appearance of gray hairs. When you see them, act promptly. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy will correct this sign, which so often deceives people into thinking that age is really upon them. It is a well-known fact that Sage and Sulphur will darken the hair. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur combines these old-time remedies with other agents, which remove dandruff and promote the growth of the hair.

The manufacturers of this remedy authorize the druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special Agent, Sun Drug Co., 2nd & Broadway, 6th & B'dway, 1658 Temple St., 2nd & Spring Sts., 228 S. Broadway.

WOMEN'S WORK, WOMEN'S CLUBS.

BY SYDNEY FORD.

If, in your circle of acquaintances, you happen to have an invalid friend, do not forget to send her a May-basket next Monday. It is a quaint and pretty custom that once heralded the birth of May—this hanging a basket of flowers on the door—and still survives in many of our villages and rural districts, but is not nearly as much in vogue as the May pole dance or the crowning of the May Queen. No longer are May-fires lighted, and Robin Hood games and May Day jousts survive only in historical records. All this seasonable and fascinating revelry is fast sinking into folk-lore.

The current issue of the Designer tells how to make some simple and picturesque May baskets which may vary from small boxes covered with fluffy tissue-paper to large market baskets which may be filled with delicacies, fruit or tempting food for indifferent appetites, and all cleverly smothered in flowers—for flowers always figure conspicuously in the May-basket, as the fundamental idea, originated with the Egyptians, is a carnival of flowers.

Yesterday morning, The Times suggested editorially that we should have a "blossom festival"—an out-door carnival during one week of springtime while all our fruit trees are in bloom, and wild flowers blaze from waste places—when all the city children should spend at least one day in Elysian or Griffith Park in the open.

Such a May fete, opening on May Day, would be a glorious festival. The ancient Romans called their May fete the "Festival to Flora." It marked the fulfillment of spring then, just as it does today.

In England whole villages repaired to the woods as soon as the first hour of May was sounded and this explains the anxiety of Tennyson's May Queen lest she oversleep—"Call me early, call me early, mother dear." Lads and lassies went a-Maying and every flower plucked that day brought good fortune.

Why not revive the ancient May Day festival here in Southern California next year and have a regular spring carnival beginning with the first day of May? The opening ceremonies could include the crowning of a May Queen and the winding of May poles by the children in the parks, and the hanging of May baskets on every door, and the lighting of May-fires in the twilight from all our picturesque hills. Why the possibilities of such a celebration are almost endless.

Club Courtesy.

A number of club and social functions scheduled for next Saturday have been called off, out of courtesy to the Friday Morning Club women who present the Pottery Pageant on that day for the benefit of the Model Village.

Among these deferred entertainments is the programme of art interpretations which was to have been given in Cumnock Hall by Mrs. W. H. Housh, chairman of the Art Committee of the California Congress of Mothers and of the Federation of the Parent-Teacher Association.

An interesting feature of the pageant is the Chinese group on account of the magnificent oriental costumes to be worn. One of the actors, Mrs. Soley-Morle, will wear a necklace and gown which she possesses, and which was originally owned and worn by a Chinese Princess of the reigning dynasty.

Entre Nous Club.

The Boyle Heights Entre Nous Club met yesterday at the home of Mrs. Mary Danes, No. 2536 East Third street. Readings from the late Mark Twain's humorous writings were a feature of the entertainment. Mrs. Gleason, the club parliamentarian, was present for the last time this season.

Let Us Have Fair Play.

The reported declaration at a recent suffrage symposium that "there is but one side to this question" smacks of narrowness and intolerance and, coming from a man and a minister at that, is somewhat surprising. The woman who honestly and sincerely does not regard suffrage as a duty and does not want it as a privilege has just as much right to her views as the suffragettes.

Ministers and brethren, let us be fair about this.

A Dozen Dresses at Once.

Carlyle said "Clothes, as despicable as we think them, are unspeakably significant," but the advice that Mrs. Burdette is quoted as giving to those Chicago college girls the other day is somewhat startling to the college girl of average means.

"Find a dress which suits your style of beauty and then have a dozen made," she remarks nonchalantly.

Good heavens! Does Mrs. Burdette think that college girls are millionairesses? A dozen gowns at one fell swoop! What richness, what prodigality! It's a whole trousseau in itself.

Summer Schools Popular.

Los Angeles maids and matrons will have abundant opportunity this summer to improve their spiritual, intellectual and physical well-being judging from the number of summer schools scheduled. In July an interdenominational School of Missions will be held at the First Methodist Church led by Mrs. Wells of Chicago, an expert in mission studies.

The Y.W.C.A. will conduct, not only its general summer school of the educational department which opens July 5 and continues till August 16, but will also conduct this summer a school of physical education. This is a new undertaking on the part of this association and, to insure its positive success, prominent specialists have been engaged, which include leading men and women in the physical training field of the country.

Dr. William J. Anderson and his brother, Henry S. Anderson, of the department of physical education at Yale, will give courses in athletics, gymnastics and apparatus work.

Dr. Oscar Collin, instructor in the department of physical education in Wellesley College, will teach the theory and practice of Swedish gymnastics, and Miss Adele Rabinowitz, a Russian, will have charge of rhythmical games, folk dances and artistic exercises.

Prof. Thomas Wilkinson of the Royal Life Saving Society of London, will teach the art of swimming, and Miss Marguerite Miller will give instruction in English field hockey.

Nor are all these privileges to be limited to maids and matrons; men will be admitted to the classes also. This will furnish excellent opportunity to any young man or woman who is interested in physical training, or wishes to become a playground director, which vocation is fast coming into demand with the increase of play centers in our own city. A regular normal course will be given in the above subjects, and Charles B. Raitt, superintendent of our city playgrounds, will give a course on their organization and administration.

Two German engineers, stationed in Japan, registered yesterday at the Alexandria from Tokyo. They are F. Hartmann and G. F. Lohe, the former of the J. M. Voith Company of Heidenheim and the latter of the Siemans Schuckert Company of the same place. They are on their way to Germany, and at present are on a leisurely tour of the United States.

New York has recently established roof garden for working girls to pass a happy hour at noon time n't that glorious?

I have often wondered why roof gardens are not popular in Los Angeles. This is the place par excellence for such beauty spots and yet we do not have them. Is it that the city is so much of a garden itself? Scarcely, I think, for many live in apartments where there is little opportunity for out-of-doors. Many live down town almost entirely and would certainly appreciate roof gardens. Is it that no one has realized the opportunity?

With our seasons, it seems to me that such recreation spots would find constant favor with all classes. Will some one please try it?

Fashion Show Gown.

One of the very handsome gowns imported for the Fashion Show will be worn next week at the Burbank by Miss Adair. It is a beautiful creation—one of the most admired at the Fashion Show. The tunic is of orchid chiffon, embellished with cut steel and crystal bugles in a strikingly dainty manner. There are short under sleeves of French filet lace in a delicate pattern and the under slip with its long train is of very heavy soft cream-colored satin. With it the actress will wear a huge bouquet of orchids.

Bridal Gowns.

The vogue for the kimono effects in sleeve and surplice neck has led still further to the adoption of the "surplice tunic" if one may thus express it—the crossed tunic which is used in making many of the wedding gowns this season. An evolution again, you see; even fashion, arbitrary dame that she is, after all is logical in her conclusions, in this age of reason.

No material ever takes the place of white satin for the wedding gown, and whatever slight modifications there may be as to skirt, tunic or bodice, the long slender lines which are the traditional thing for the girl bride will not be relegated; for all brides are supposed to be girls and so—slender. Little ornamentation is permitted to the wedding gown, although the family lace—if it be possessed—will always find its way into this costume supreme. If there be embroidery, it should this season be extremely delicate and preferably of silver bullion in finest threads.

Peter Thompsons.

After all, there is no style of dress more becoming to young girls and misses than are the Peter Thompson suits. One of the high-class Broadway stores is holding a sale of these dresses at present. They are in washable goods such as linene, gingham, madras, khaki and all linen, with the Peter Thompson emblems in colors. Whenever I see a girl wearing one of these pretty dresses, I think that it is perhaps best to adopt that style for all ordinary occasions and some extraordinary ones, and avoid all bother as to changing styles.

It is too bad to see any one bankrupt, but since these things do occur, it is well to remember the adage that one's loss to one being another's gain. This certainly seems to be illustrated in the case of the sale of bankrupt goods, which opens this morning in one of the Broadway department stores. This is said to be the stock of a fashionable modiste.

FACTS FEATURES AND FANCIES FOR WOMEN.

By ~ Olive Gray

DAILY BEAUTY HINT: "Be sure to wear an ambient" is the advice given by a celebrated beauty specialist, "as it adds greatly to the beauty of the face." Do you know what an "ambient" is? I did not at first, but I learned that it is anything filmy or effective which may be used around the face to frame the features. Some use the automobile veil as an "ambient," some use the lace of the Spanish scarf, others frame the face in coquettish curls. It takes art to select an ambient, and art again to live up to it. At present the wide brim of the hat is used as an ambient by many girls who know the value of framing the face. If this brim be faced with black velvet, so much the better.

New York has recently established a roof garden for working girls to pass a happy hour at noon time. Isn't that glorious?

I have often wondered why roof gardens are not popular in Los Angeles. This is the place par excellence for such beauty spots and yet we do not have them. There are as many names for the various kinds of puffs, as there are names for men's cigars—puffs, puffs and puffs. There is an attempt, in some quarters to set the fashion for the severely plain coiffure, but it does not seem to 'take.' First of all—I think I would put it as the prime cause—dealers do not take kindly to the fashion. Of course there is no especial reason for their prejudice—(aside from the fact that if you wear none but your own hair—well any one can see the philosophy in their prejudice.) Next and quite as important is the fact that so few women look well when wearing merely their own hair. A vision arises of the fair she, shorn of all save the few tight strands licked down closely above the brows and twisted into a little stingy knot above the collar line—and it is not an entrancing vision. Even though, as in some present instances, there be three little stingy knots in a row extending from ear to ear above the collar line—still the vision does not contrast favorably with the hair styles of the past several years—and I think it doubtful if women will hasten to forego the aid to beauty which is lent by fluffiness of hair—even when it is literally "lent." They are likely to cling to this beautifier even though Dame Fashion follow Mrs. Burdette in manifesting against it.

Wax or Real?

In the window of a great Oriental store on Broadway there are two figures which attract attention from the passing crowds. One is clad in gorgeously embroidered robes of mandarin and the other in equally elaborate kimona. Their setting is truly Oriental—carved and embroidered screens, lacquers, rare bronzes and superior bric-a-brac, with a profusion of jade and hand-made Oriental jewelry scattered about. Here these two "move and have their being;" and they seem to some to live. Are they real? Are those forms and features of true flesh and blood—or are they wax? This is the question asked and looked by the crowds which gather to speculate and gaze.

Whether they are wax or real, I fancy that they say in their silence or by their jestures that just beyond the portals which they seem to guard, is the finest establishment of its kind on the continent—perhaps in the world. It has always been a fine store, but now it is extended through from Broadway to Hill—an entire block—and that block filled to over-flowing with treasures from the mysterious East. Carved teak-wood, bamboo in its many forms, gems in pottery and bronze, fabrics of rich Oriental tone and weave—in fact all those articles about which the imagination loves to linger are here assembled. The proud gestures of those Oriental figures seem to say all this and more; whether they say it by moving mechanism or by the action of real human muscles.

Some Ebell Attractions.

The Ebell Club will have a regular session of Legislature at its meeting next week when Lieut.-Gov. A. J. Wallace and Senator Leslie R. Hewitt will address the women on the work of the recent Legislature in Sacramento. Mrs. Alice Stebbins Wells, the woman city police officer, will also speak and give some sidelights on the social question.

The Ebells will tender a reception to members of the American Library Association on the afternoon of May 22, when Arthur E. Bostwick, public librarian of St. Louis, will speak on "The Championship of Books." On that same day Miss Jean M. Clerihew of New York will give a group of songs.

In the department work some especially interesting programmes are offered for May, the first in the art and travel section being on May 3, when Mmes. M. E. Hillis, Harry Purdon and Miss Edith Benton will take their listeners on a tour through Ireland, Scotland and Wales. On the last day of the month Mrs. Samuel Keese will describe the Wallace collection of paintings in London, Mrs. Rose Charles will tell about Hampton Court, that largest and, in many respects, finest of all the royal palaces of England, founded by Cardinal Wolsey, and Miss McGauhey will talk about the British Museum, the great book and curio palace of the world.

NEWLY WEDS AT HOTELS.

Three Brides and Grooms, Two Couples Eloping, Interest Guests at Three Hostelries in This City.

Miss Margaret Armstead of Wichita, Kan., and F. I. Newton of San Diego, were married in the parlors of the Hayward Hotel yesterday by Rev. J. M. Liston. Miss Armstead is the daughter of a Kansas oil operator.

At the Van Nuys announcement of the marriage of Albert Smith, one of the chauffeurs of the Van Nuys Auto Livery Company, to Grace Hutchison, at one time telephone operator at the hotel, was a matter of gossip. These young people slipped away to Santa Ana.

The Lankershim boasted of an eloping couple from Riverside. They came here in the automobile of the groom and were married in this city. The register at the hotel announced Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Franklyn.

Uncle Sam Says, "Date Growing Is PROFITABLE"

He has proved, beyond all question or doubt that there is big money to be made in the Coachella Valley, where his experiment stations are located, in growing this valuable fruit, and that the quality of the crop is the equal of the far famed Tunisian variety.

He has demonstrated that dates will pay dividends of 100% or more in that locality and he offers to show anyone there how to accomplish the same splendid results that he has obtained.

WILL YOU JOIN US and take advantage of his experiments and the knowledge that he has gained through them?

We have 378 acres of the most fertile land in the whole Coachella Valley, situated just ¼ mile from one of the Government Experiment Stations at Indio.

And we have organized a Company for the purpose of growing dates according to the proven theories of the Government Experts there.

WOULD FAIN GO TO JAIL.

Precocious Four-Year-Old Rejoices Much When Daddy Threatens Him With Thirty Days.

Be it ever so humble there is no place like a city jail to 4-year-old Arthur Coffman. He resented it very much yesterday morning when his father, George Coffman of No. 433 South Hope street, came there and took him home.

Arthur has a penchant for running away. Several times during the past two months he has been found by police officers and taken to the Central Station. He made the acquaintance of the jailers and turnkey and the trusties who are serving long terms, and it is just like meeting old friends when he is kept there while his parents are notified.

Yesterday his father thought he would frighten him, so asked Turnkey Craig if he would lock the boy up for a month or more.

"Goody! Goody!" the little fellow exclaimed, clapping his hands. "Gee, I am going to stay a month."

With a promise of future developments Coffman picked the boy up and started for home.

POLITICAL EQUALITY LEAGUE IS UP AND DOING.

Reaching The People Through Medium of Reading Rooms. Bombard Prominent Men With Letters On Woman Suffrage—Tea to be Given and Speeches Made.

Special effort is being made this week both by the Political Equality League and the Votes for Women Club to get their propaganda before as many organizations of Southern California as possible.

The Votes for Women Club is specializing public reading-rooms of the city, and is having copies of the Woman's Journal placed where they will reach a large number of persons regularly. They have requested the Metaphysical library, Theosophical Society's headquarters and the Christian Science reading-rooms to keep the Journal on their tables. The club was presented with twelve subscriptions of one year each by Mrs. Mary E. Kenney, of No. 2012 West Washington street. It continues to spread the propaganda by countless letters to individuals who may be interested. They have specialized persons in public life.

Former Judge Waldo M. York has been selected to address the Votes for Women Club Monday night. Miss Flora M. Wilson, daughter of the Secretary of Agriculture, will sing on this occasion.

This evening a large meeting will be held at Monrovia, at which many members of the Parent Teachers' Association are expected to be present. Among the speakers will be Mrs. Barry.

J. H. Braley will speak in favor of women suffrage at Eagle Rock tonight.

At 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon a women suffrage tea will be given at the Burlington Apartments, under the personal supervision of Mrs. Herbert Peery. Pretty girls will pour tea, and ten charming hostesses will receive. Mrs. A. S. Lobingier will deliver an address and answer questions.

An open meeting of the league will be held in Choral Hall Saturday afternoon. Speakers will be chosen from the floor, and the question box will be open to visitors.

"Resolved, that women should be given the privilege and the responsibility of the ballot," is the subject of debate. May 15 in the eighth grade of the Normal Training School. The contestants will be Harry Grannatt, affirmative, and Miss Edah Catlin, negative.

There is more than one reason why trousers should be carefully hung in a closet when the wearer removes them at night and retires. Two pairs of those garments were stolen Tuesday night by sneak thieves. With them went $420.

W. Forsyth, No. 333 South Grand, left his clothes on a chair near the window of his bedroom. When he awoke yesterday morning they were gone and with them $335 and a watch and fob.

H. J. Coger, No. 411 West Twelfth street, is another of the unfortunates who failed to make use of hangers. Some thief raised the screen in the window of his bedroom, secured his clothes and $85.

The War Day by Day Fifty Years Ago.

Gen. Joseph E. Johnston,

Who resigned as U. S. Quatermaster-General to become Major-General of Virginian Volunteers.

[illegible], by the Century Company.]

FIFTY years ago today, Virginia, though it had seceded but ten days ago, was making preparations as rapid as they were thorough, taking in days more than the other States had done in weeks and making herself ready to head the Confederacy.

How far this organization had progressed is shown by letters that passed fifty years ago today between Gov. John Letcher and Gen. Robert E. Lee commanding the State troops. The Governor instructed Gen. Lee to direct Col. Thomas J. Jackson, commanding the camp volunteer troops at Richmond, to proceed at once to Harpers Ferry "to organize into regiments the volunteer forces which have been called into the service of the State and which may be assembled in the neighborhood."

Col. Jackson was to report their condition and equipment, etc. "that the Governor may have the information required for the proper organization of the regiments and brigades according to the ordinance of the convention of April 25."

He was also to make "diligent inquiry as to the state of feeling in the northwestern portion of the State," where Union sentiment still prevailed.

Lee's Suggestions.

Gen. Lee, transmitting these orders, directed Col. Jackson to direct his particular attention to the safety of the arms, machinery and the like, saved from the fire that destroyed the armory and arsenal April 18, as he might think useful.

The same day Gen. Lee wrote to the Governor to ask "what arrangements have been made to enable the army of the State to take the field?"

"Besides the necessary camp equipage," he wrote, "some means of transportation must be provided other than that furnished by the railroad companies. It will not always be possible to adhere to the railroad routes, and provision must be made for maneuvering in front of the enemy and for supplying troops with provisions, and positions to be held or forced. Horses for the light batteries will be necessary, and wagons for local transportation. Are there any funds for these purposes?"

But Gen. Lee, although but four days in his command, was losing no time in getting into action, and that he well understood what he was to do and how to do it, every line of his letters showed. And close behind him stood Gov. Letcher and the State of Virginia.

The rapidity and enthusiasm with which the people of that State, which on April 4 had voted strongly against secession, hurried into the confederacy once Lincoln's proclamation of April 15 had convinced them that "coercion" was to be attempted, and the "inalienable right of self-government" thereby violated, was startling.

One day all was peace and quiet, the State disapproved of secession and wished to remain in the Union. Then with secession came the vote to [illegible], the seizure of Federal property, the organization of an army, a [illegible] alliance with the Confederacy.

"[illegible] one," writes Rev. J. William Jones, the biographer of Lee, "who did not witness the scenes then enacted can appreciate them. Women [illegible] the equipments, buckled on [illegible] and sent to the front sons, husbands, brothers and sweethearts. The farmer left his plow in the furrow, the mechanic his job unfinished, the merchant his books unposted, the lawyer his brief unargued and the doctor his patient unattended. The teacher closed his school, the professor his chair in the college, the student changed his midnight lamp for the camp fires o' the boys in gray, and the preacher left his pulpit, leading with him the ablebodied men of his flock.

"From her Blue Mountains to the [illegible] of her resounding seas, from [illegible] to Chesapeake, from the Potomac to the North Carolina line the tramp of her sons is heard, and they rush to defend the Old Dominion the very flower of her youth and [illegible]."

Her geographical position in [illegible] made necessary the [illegible] for military preparation. The Federal capital was on her borders. Federal troops possessed Maryland and threatened her frontier. If the North were to wage aggressive war, she would be the first State invaded. To meet it she must get ready at once.

Gen. Joseph E. Johnston.

The range of her operations is evidenced by the reports received by Gen. Lee in the days following his appointment as commander of the State troops.

From Andrew Talcott of the engineers he was informed on the construction of batteries about Yorktown and Norfolk; from Gen. Kenton Harper at Harpers Ferry of the arms and munitions saved from the arsenal and available for the State; from Gen. St. George Cooke at Alexandria of the movements of Federal troops and of his readiness to impede traffic on the Potomac by destroying lightboats and buoys; from Gen. Daniel Ruggles at Fredericksburg of his intention to prevent supplies falling into northern hands.

On April 26 Maj.-Gen. Joseph E. Johnston was assigned to the command of all the State forces about Richmond, while Maj.-Gen. Walter Gwynn was given command of those about Norfolk, where he should co-operate with the naval officers in defending the mouth of the James, up which, it was feared, might come a northern flotilla against Richmond.

Johnston, of the same age as Lee, and a brother Virginian, his classmate at West Point, a fellow officer in the Mexican War, and a life-long friend, had been serving in the United States Army as quartermaster general. Like Lee he had been opposed to secession, yet when his State had gone he had followed her and had offered his services to Virginia. He was the officer highest in rank who went with the confederacy and was to prove one of its greatest generals.

"Act on the Defensive."

Virginia, however, could not stand alone, and her secession was promptly followed by alliance with the confederacy. April 22, Jefferson Davis had telegraphed to Gov. Letcher, "Sustain Baltimore if practicable! we reinforce yau," resulting in the delivery of good men to Maryland secessionists, and the same day Alexander H. Stephens, vice-president of the confederacy, had come from Montgomery to Richmond where he found "warlike preparations at every corner and along every street."

As commissioner for the Confederate government he had, April 24, signed with Virginia commissioners a convention by which the State became virtually a member of the Confederacy and put its "whole military force and military operations, offensive and defensive," under the direction of President Davis. This was ratified by the State convention the day following.

As yet, however, with all its preparations, Virginia planned no aggression and the alarm felt in Washington was groundless.

"You will act on the defensive," wrote Lee A,pril 24, to Gen. Cooke at Alexandria opposite Washington. "Station your troops at a suitable point to command the railroad, write and give assurance of protection to the inhabitants on the rivers, cause your troops to be instructed in the use of their several arms and take immediate steps for provisioning them. You will endeavor to allay the popular excitement as much as possible."

The Blockade Extended.

Fifty years ago today President Lincoln extended to Virginia and North Carolina the blockade which he had on the 10th proclaimed against the seven previously seceded States.

In the face of such preparations as Virginia was making, even if defensive only, the extension of the blockade might appear very inadequate, yet it was all that the North could do for the present.

The capitol itself was hardly yet secure, and hostile Baltimore with its burned bridges still stood between it and the North. Safety in the rear must be provided for before anything else.

Fifty years ago, therefore, Gen. Benjamin F. Butler was assigned command of the newly created department of Annapolis, including Baltimore and that the disorder might be promptly suppressed, was authorized to suspend the writ of habeas corpus when necessary, thus providing virtually for martial law.

Gas Talks

CHAPTER 44

California Longest State, Local Gas Mains Longer

THE 877 MILES OF GAS MAINS of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation, if laid in a straight and unbroken line, would extend from the northwest corner to the southeast corner of California, and then on for more than 100 miles into Mexico.

California is the longest State in the Union—775 miles from "tip to tip" by air line—from the farthermost point in Del Norte county to the uttermost corner of Imperial. This is 102 miles under the length of this Company's mains, which carry gas to nearly 90,000 consumers, equal to the total population of the State in 1850, the year of its admission to the Union.

One hundred and twenty-five miles of new mains were laid last year, and each succeeding month is adding to the total, extending the perfect service of this system to every corner of the fast spreading city.

To meet the increased demand for gas, and to insure a constant supply to every consumer, new manufacturing and storage equipment is being installed at a heavy outlay. At the same time, the usual high quality of product is maintained, and the extremely low rate of 80c per 1000 to the consumer is continued, in face of an increased cost of production and distribution.

TAKING PRISONERS FROM TRAIN TO JAIL.

James McNamara Shows Terrible Fright on Auto Trip in From Pasadena, While McManigal Exhibits Bravado—All Cover Their Faces in Fear of Cameras.

Quietly and unostentatiously two automobiles loaded with deputy sheriffs slipped into Pasadena yesterday a few minutes before 2 o'clock, and stopped at the Santa Fe Station.

At the same time another large machine dropped down to the little way station of Raymond. All were waiting for the arrival of the California Limited bearing the three alleged dynamiters.

There was no hurry nor bustle. Everything was ominously still, and every movement swift.

Three other automobiles came hurriedly to the Pasadena station. They carried newspaper men and photographers.

The tension which existed was best exemplified by the automobiles. Not a chauffeur left his post, and every machine was kept throbbing, ready to dart away.

At 2 o'clock sharp the deep whistle of the California Limited sounded toward the mountains, and the little group of waiting men grew taut with expectancy.

The great train came panting to a stop. In an instant there was a compact group of men leaping down the steps of a coach in the middle of the train. They plunged across the flowers and lawn of the Hotel Green for the automobiles.

CONTRASTS.

In the first group was a big, deep-chested man with a sneering laugh on his face. He was Ortie McManigal, arrested in Detroit on a charge of complicity in the destruction of the Times Building.

Closely following came another group. There was no bravado here. In the center of the circle of stalwart officers was a slender, pale-faced man who shook like a person in great terror. He pulled at his hat to cover his features from' the battery of cameras. His hand shook so that he gave up the effort and spread his palm over his face. This was James McNamara, another dynamite suspect, who was also arrested in Detroit. He was a pitiful spectacle. Fright in large letters was written across his face. He stumbled as he hurried with his captors across the lawn to the machine.

Here a hiatus occurred. The chauffeur of the big Simplex, who had been given orders to start the instant the prisoners were in it, mistook the group of officers escorting McManigal for the entire load, and shot away up the street at terrific speed.

McNamara was left with the officers standing at the curb. The man's eyes were glassy, and he could scarcely stand without support. The crowd kept pressing close and he looked pleadingly at the deputies. They sent a man for a machine and hustled McNamara into a little waiting room of the Hotel Green, where he stood with trembling knees. The first chauffeur recognized his mistake before he had gone a block and came snorting back for McNamara. The man was hurriedly packed into the machine and the race for Los Angeles began.

The crowd looked in vain for John J. McNamara, the secretary-treasurer of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers.

With the consummate cunning and skill that has characterized the entire handling of the case it had been decided not to take John J. McNamara from the train at the same time as the others. McManigal and Jim McNamara did not know that the secretary-treasurer had been arrested, and to save them from learning this fact he was taken to the Raymond station, where an automobile was waiting with officers.

At the Raymond station there was no one but the officers in the waiting automobile and one reporter, and when the train slowed up three men stepped from the car. There was no show of manacles. McNamara walked upright and free between two officers, and with a careless air stepped into the automobile which was to end the dash three-quarters of the way across the continent to the waiting jail.

The trip from Pasadena to the County Jail was trying. Newspaper men, with their photographers, who had found it difficult to obtain pictures of the prisoners at Pasadena, because all hid their faces, jumped into automobiles and traveled fast. The Times machine was the only one which beat the train and reached the jail ahead of the prisoners.

When the jail was in sight Jim McNamara seemed to almost go to pieces. When the auto stopped in front of the building he could scarcely stand. He had to be assisted from the machine. Again he endeavored to evade the men by hiding his face with his hands. McManigal had the same carefree step, as he got lightly out of the machine and looked at the yawning jail door. The little party was rushed inside in a moment.

A few moments after this another automobile came up to the jail front and John J. McNamara, still unmanacled, stepped out and walked in with the officers.

As soon as the prisoners, their guards, the Chief of Police and Sheriff Hammel had entered the jail, the door was closed, and entrance denied to all except newspaper men, who while prevented from talking to the men, had a view of the booking operation.

McManigal took a hurried look around. His movements were quick and cat-like. His glances here and there were furtive, and suggested a strong desire for one small loophole where he might squeeze through to the outside.

He answered the brief questions put to him with precision. While awaiting the various routine operations, he appeared excited. Several times he glanced about, stealing a look now and then at the faces of those who surrounded him. He did not deign a word of conversation. He appeared anxious to get through.

The movements of his confrere, James W. McNamara, were different. The temperaments of the two men were mirrored in their actions. Where McManigal was quick and fretful, McNamara was composed, not to say indifferent. He appeared greatly fatigued.

The two men were booked on suspicion. While their records were being taken by Book-keeper Brown and Chief Jailer Gallagher, word came from the outside that the machine containing John J. McNamara had arrived.

Immediately the two prisoners were taken into an inner compartment by Assistant Jailer Murrell, and held there while the third man was booked. The movement elicited considerable comment. According to Capt. Flammer it was occasioned by their decision to keep the three prisoners apart until their trials shall begin.

John J. McNamara looked hurriedly about for some sign of his brother. He appeared worn out, and asked the officers to permit him to sit down. A chair was brought and, after a brief respite, Bookkeeper Brown commenced his routine of questions.

As soon as John J. McNamara's height, weight, etc., had been taken, he was taken to felon's cell No. 9 by Jailer Gallagher.

Asked by Sheriff Hammel if he wished an attorney sent for, McNamara said:

"No; not yet—I want some rest first."

Then his brother and McManigal were taken back to have the bookings completed. McManigal was taken upstairs and locked in the felons' emergency tank, while James W. McNamara was placed in a cell in the juvenile department, basement.

Sheriff Hammel stated last night that the prisoners will be treated with courtesy, but without special favor. They will not be allowed to mingle with other prisoners. To prevent possibility of aid from the outside, few visitors outside their counsel will be permitted. No delegations will be allowed in, according to the Sheriff.

The Sheriff, after a conference with the Chief of Police, decided to place a mixed detail of police and deputy sheriffs about the County Jail. The men will work in three shifts, the night and early morning details being doubled.

TO STARTLE THE WORLD.

Worst Facts in Confession Not Yet Given Out, Says Brain.

The lie was given yesterday by Under Sheriff Brain to the garbled press reports spread throughout the country by unionite agents, tending to cast an atmosphere of doubt about the confession secured from McManigal by Burns.

"McManigal, without a question of doubt, made the confession attributed to him by Burns," said Brain. "McManigal repeated to me the facts that were the most important features of the confession he had made to Burns.

"Burns did not give to the public the most lurid facts contained in the instrument. When the trial of the prisoners occurs, the world will be staggered by the criminal feats accomplished by the men under arrest."

FOR ARRAIGNMENT.

DATE NOT YET DECIDED.

A date has not been set for the arraignment of the three prisoners. It may be this week, however.

It is believed that the counsel secured by local unionites will call upon the prisoners today for a conference. After that they will confer with the District-Attorney, and decide upon the best time for arraignment. Attorney Job Harriman, after a long conference with ex-Judge Hilton of Pomona, announced last night that he and Hilton will represent the McNamara brothers and McManigal temporarily, but that other attorneys will be named later to defend the accused men.

"I have not yet interviewed either of the McNamaras or McManigal," said Harriman. "I expect to talk with them tomorrow, and after that conversation will know more of the plans. Until the prisoners are consulted it is impossible to say what will be done. I do not know when the men will be arraigned or what the first steps of the defense will be."

According to the warrants filed yesterday with the Sheriff by the arresting officers, John J. McNamara is charged with murder in connection with the destruction of the Times Building, and with dynamiting the Llewellyn plant. James W. McNamara is charged with one offense—murder, in connection with the Times Building tragedy, while McManigal is charged with the destruction of the Llewellyn plant.

ROGERS TURNS UP.

SURPRISES THE OFFICERS.

One of the unexplained features of the round-up of the alleged dynamiters in Chicago and Indianapolis was the appearance of Earl Rogers on the scene.

When the Los Angeles officers reached Chicago about the first man who met them as they alighted from the train was Rogers. When the greetings were over Rogers told the officers that he knew what they were coming for, and had merely met them to tender his services in any way possible.

When the detectives started for Burns's office Rogers left them. Later in the evening he met two of them again on the street, and startled them by telling them that he had learned of Brice's arrest, and that he wanted to do all he could to assist the officers.

As the detectives had not even told their wives where they were going or what they expected to accomplish, the appearance of Rogers and his thorough information completely surprised them.

Rogers began the investigation of the Times Building disaster under employment of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association on the day following the explosion, and it was he who presented the case originally to the special grand jury. About a month ago he severed all connection with the case under this employment.

made it known. "During the entire trip," said Meller, "there was not a scene to suggest the character of the group, except the visits of reporters, and these were few, as they were not permitted to bother the prisoners until the last stages of the trip."

The prisoners were not together. "Jim" McNamara, alias J. B. Bryce, and McManigal were together in the Pullman car Carrizo. The officers had taken three compartments in the middle of the car, and these were made into a suite. The doors were kept locked all the time, and an officer was ever at the side of each prisoner. Day and night this vigilance continued.

In compartment D of the Carrizo Ortie McManigal made the entire trip. In the connecting compartment C, "Jim" McNamara sat and spat tobacco juice. Within call of each other they passed three days and nights. Both were shackled with leg-irons, but their arms were free. The compartments were kept free from things which might be easily made weapons. Every comfort was bestowed and every act was humane toward them.

HOLDS HIS HAND PAT.

McManigal seemed cheerful all the time. He would talk freely and happily about everything except his own case. About that he declined to say anything, although he has been quoted. He says the quotations are exaggerations.

Yesterday he received a Times reporter with friendliness. He is a clean-appearing, stocky man of about 40, apparently, wearing a blue suit and cap. His manner seemed unusually quiet for one against whom such a heinous charge is pending. His hands were steady and his eyes firm. The expression of his mouth, when speaking, is concealed by a heavy moustache, but his chin appeared firm.

"I will talk to you gladly about anything except this case," said he. He suggested the weather as a good topic and added that Southern California weather is choice.

"In due time," he said, after the weather had been disposed of, "this will all come out. Until that time I will hold my hand pat and say nothing. I have said nothing and any representation that I have is wrong."

"What about your reported confession?"

"I told you I was holding my hand pat; you shall see."

In the next compartment McNamara rebelled against any intrusion of newspaper men. He said he would not see them. In fact he said they are the last people he wants to see, and at Kansas City he said he would "break these irons" (alluding to his handcuffs) over the head of one who insisted on seeing him.

Over the State line he seemed to relent of this reclusiveness and contented himself with sending requests away. But after San Bernadino was passed he met a Times man and treated him with civility.

SAYS NOT HERE LONG.

"I will not say anything about this case" he said, "except that I will not be long in California. I want to make it clear that if I had a statement to make I would make it to all, but I have made none at all, and any credited to me is made out of whole cloth."

He said he was treated handsomely by the officers. While he was civil, he indicated that the interview was repugnant.

While he talked his hands moved nervously and his eyes shifted. He sat with one of his manacled feet on a stool, and wore no coat.

McNamara is emaciated, and while his frame indicates a weight of about 170, it seems he weighs less than 140. He has peculiar yellow hair and moustache, and until yesterday morning, when a train porter shaved him with a safety razor, his face was covered with yellow stubble.

With hollow cheeks, sunken eyes, white, bloodless hands, and a bent body, he gives the appearance of one convalescent from a serious illness. He is not known to be afflicted with tuberculosis, but it is believed he is.

McManigal was in charge of Detective Sergeant Reed of Chicago and M. McLaren of the Burns Agency, while Under Sheriff Brain of Los Angeles and Phil Barry of Chicago, a brother of "Jimmy" Barry, the prize fighter, had charge of McNamara. Capt. Flammer shared the charge of both men.

THE BIG FELLOW.

In the companion car "Japonica," John J. McNamara—"the big fellow"—occupied a stateroom in charge of Detective Sergeant Biddinger of Chicago and Detective Hosick of Los Angeles and Charles J. Smith, assistant manager of the Burns Agency in Chicago.

Unlike the others, John J. McNamara was not shackled—in California at least. He had the freedom of his compartment. At the beginning he was manacled, but the officers felt safe in removing them. In fact the man possessed their good will and received many favors, but never that of solitude, for either Biddinger, Hosick or Smith was at his side, day and night.

John McNamara is 6ft. 1in. in height, broad-shouldered, with a massive head and with the same peculiar yellow hair as his brother. But he shows no emaciation; he has surplus flesh; he has color and the carriage of a healthy man mentally and physically. Only in his eyes is there something to astonish.

His brother's eyes are wide apart and lusterless. They appear to be directed at different angles. They look small in comparison with his massive head. But in John's the eyes are strangely luminous. The pupil is a gray blue, straight and steady and around the pupil there seems to be a rim of fire.

McNamara was cordial to a Times reporter, but gave the Providential.

HOW CIRCUMSTANCES TIGHTENED NET ABOUT ALLEGED DYNAMITERS.

How the trio of alleged dynamiters were trapped suddenly by the detectives, under Burns's direction, and how they were sent promptly on their journey to the scene of the crime, is a story for the criminalogists. It seems to show the intervention of Providence in many ways in aiding the officers when they were in doubt as to the security of what they were doing.

Nothing illustrates this better than the way in which the men were gathered on one west-bound train. It was never a part of the Burns plan to bring the three together. He had arranged for McManigal and "Jim" McNamara to journey straight from Chicago to Los Angeles over the Santa Fe Limited. He had arranged for John J. McNamara to reach Los Angeles over any old route that could be utilized to throw off pursuit or evade [illegible].

Saturday afternoon McManigal and "Jim" McNamara were taken from the home of Detective Sergeant Reed in Chicago and started in automobiles for Joliet. It was the intention to take the train there to avoid discovery. But the automobile broke down at Frankfort and the Saturday train was missed. So the prisoners, with Reed, Under Sheriff Brain and Phil Berry, stayed at Frankfort until the following day, when they got the Santa Fe Limited at Joliet. The automobile accident put them a day behind schedule.

On Saturday also John McNamara was arrested at Indianapolis. Burns and Detective Hosick of Los Angeles and Deputy District Attorney Ford left Friday night for the Hoosier capital. Burns visited the Governor and got the requisition papers signed. Then the police were brought into co-operation. McNamara was taken before Judge Collins and given to Hosick's custody as the agent of California.

Out of the police station and into Burns's big automobile the party went. Not a minute was lost. The machine tore out West Washington street to the National road and sped to Terre Haute, on the banks of the Wabash, seventy-two miles west. McNamara was in custody of Hosick but was guarded by C. J. Smith of the Burns agency and Detective Sergeant Biddinger of the Chicago police force. Detective Sam Gerber of the Indianapolis force accompanied them to Terre Haute, which is near the Illinois line.

Here again the train was missed, and the party was required to seclude themselves during the night in rooms over a garage until they could board the Vandalia bound for St. Louis at [illegible] o'clock in the morning.

It had been planned to take the Rock Island or Burlington out of Kansas City, where the party went Sunday over the Missouri Pacific. They went on to La Crosse, Kan., intending to take the Overland, but they changed their minds when they found they couldn't make the connection. They got out at Hoisington, represented themselves to be a party of land purchasers, went by auto to Great Bend, twenty-three miles south, and there took the local train to Ft. Dodge. They had intended to transfer to the Golden State Limited at Buckling, but finding no train there, they finally decided to stick to the Santa Fe, purchasing tickets to Las Vegas.

When they made the change at Ft. Dodge they believed McManigal and the other McNamara a day ahead of them. But when they got on the Santa Fe they found the others.

The progress of the Chicago party had been so without incident that they believed they would get to Los Angeles without discovery. Getting their prisoners into the jail secretly was the plan.

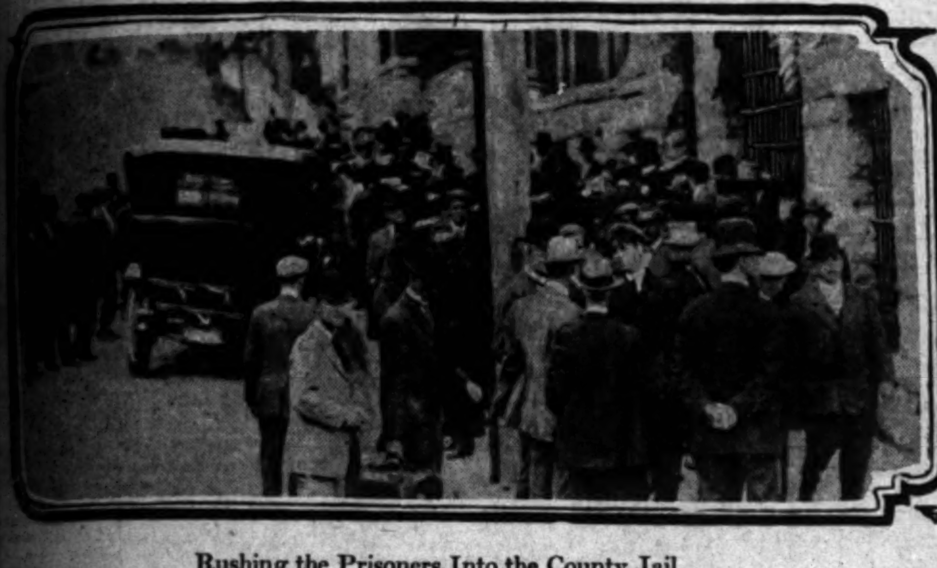
At Fort Dodge Capt. Flammer and Reed looked out the window and were astounded to see Hosick, Biddinger and Smith approaching the Santa Fe with John McNamara. But John McNamara did not see his brother and he came to California in ignorance that he was on the train. After the line was crossed he was informed of it.

With the coming of John McNamara came the pursuit of the scent that he was on the Santa Fe train. This led to the disclosure of the other party.

The officers who came with the prisoners bear a direct relation to their cases. It was Detective Sergt. Reed, a handsome young officer of the Chicago force, who was with Raymond Burns and M. McLaren, of the Burns Agency, when McManigal and "Jim" McNamara were arrested at the Oxford Hotel in Detroit and their suit cases, full of condemning evidence, confiscated. It was at Reed's home in Chicago that the two prisoners were kept from April 13 until last Saturday. They were not imprisoned, but were guarded day and night. It was in Reed's house that the McManigal confession was made.

Of the escort Capt. Flammer and Under Sheriff Brain had both worked weeks on the search for the dynamiters last fall. Capt. Flammer is almost as fully possessed of all the facts as Burns himself.

Of the squad that captured John McNamara, Charles J. Smith, now with the Burns Agency at Chicago, was formerly a Pinkerton operative and lived at Monrovia. It was he who, through information obtained by Detectives Boyd and Jones of the Los Angeles department, brought about the capture of the Monrovia Bank robbers in Dayton, O. About a year and a half ago Smith went to Chicago. Detective Hosick is one of the most efficient and discreet members of the Los Angeles force, and, as the agent of the State of California, was entrusted with the responsibility of the Indianapolis action.



Rushing the Prisoners Into the County Jail.

There were more than fifty officers about the entrance, and nobody else got near.

NO KIDNAPING.

OFFICERS MADE IT CLEAR.

After the three dynamiters were in cells at the County Jail, Dist.-Atty. Fredericks held a lengthy conference with Under Sheriff Brain and Capt. Flammer, concerning the reports emanating from the East that they had kidnaped the prisoners.

Brain and Flammer dissipated such a theory by their explanation. The officers outlined their procedure in its every detail, and displayed the necessary judicial data to prove that they observed every legal form outlined by Fredericks preliminary to their departure.

"Burns, fearing that the friends of the McNamaras and McManigal would cause a riot, or wield sufficient influence to set them free, urged us to hurry the prisoners West without placing them under arrest in the usual way," said Brain, "but I refused.

"Capt. Flammer and Detective Hosick also refused to stand for such a programme, and, as a result, more publicity was given to the arrests than Burns had contemplated."

Capt. Fredericks stated emphatically that he is positive that the police and his assistant, Ford, had not acted in error, or had been a party to a kidnaping. He stated that the arrest of Ford on that charge was merely an effort on the part of the labor unions to defeat the ends of justice.

A telegram from Ford yesterday afternoon stated that he is on the way to Los Angeles. It is not known whether he will have to return East later to answer the charge against him.

Chief Jailer Gallagher, who will have direct charge of the three prisoners.

COMMENTS ON THE GREAT WORLD STORY.

The Los Angeles Times Case.

The arrest at Detroit and Indianapolis of the three suspects in the Los Angeles Times dynamiting case indicted by the grand jury is the culmination of one of the greatest man hunts in the history of the country and brings to light a story of union labor depravity and crime, as told by Detective Burns, that is almost beyond belief. But apparently every chapter of the story has been so carefully developed that the line of evidence is conclusive.

The story of a "wrecking crew" directed from the headquarters of the structural ironworkers union, sent here and there about the country where open-shop work was being done, is strictly in line with the charges made by the Los Angeles Times. Now it seems that a private detective agency working for the rewards offered in connection with the Times disaster has developed evidence to substantiate the charges and of sufficient strength to warrant the arrest of the national secretary of the ironworkers union as the director-general of the crime organization and of two of his associates who actually performed the work.

The arrest of these men is a long way from their conviction; but Detective Burns, who has spent thousands of dollars in following up this crime, must depend upon his ability to present evidence that will convict the suspects in order to secure reimbursement for his expenditures and his profit, and as he bided his time in making the arrests, it is fair to assume that his evidence is complete.

The story of the work done by this "wrecking crew" is a staggering blow to union labor agitators and shows that they stop at nothing to force workers to join their ranks and employers to do business with them. The crimes committed in this instance are perhaps no more atrocious than those of the mine workers in Colorado and Idaho some years ago, when innocent men were murdered during a reign of terror and the Governor of Idaho was assassinated, yet the work of the "wrecking crew" of the ironworkers, according to Detective Burns's story, has been done in the large centers of population, where the lives of more people were placed in jeopardy and the property loss has been far greater.

When The Times disaster occurred, few there were who really believed that it would be possible to trace the crime to men of sufficient ability and prominence to occupy places on the governing body of any of the unions. But the work of Detective Burns indicates that not only The Times disaster but scores of other affairs have been planned and carried into effect during the past year or two, and that The Times disaster was only an incident in the awful campaign of murder and pillage and intimidation conducted to establish a labor trust supreme in that line of industry.—[Santa Barbara Independent.

The Dynamiters' Arrest.

The Times dynamiters have been rounded up by Detective Burns, the man who so successfully routed the grafters, big and little, in San Francisco. In his own way Burns went at the job and sawed wood, so to speak, until a few days ago, in Indianapolis, in the headquarters of the Structural Ironworkers' Union, he found the leader, one McNamara, brother to the secretary of the union, and the particular man, he said, who laid The Times bomb. Also he arrested in another eastern city a man named McManigal, the chief aid of McNamara.

The evidence is almost conclusive. Indeed, the admissions of the leader amount to a practical confession. These men went about the country setting off their dynamite mines on bridges, buildings and the like which had found disfavor in union building circles. Their toll of death had amounted to over 100, while the property damage had mounted into the millions. By trailing them about from job to job and investigating past jobs it was found that one man or set of men had done all the work. The task then for Burns was to find the men who would have an interest in the destruction of this kind of property. The prisoners are now on their way to Los Angeles. When their guilt is fully established they should and will get the punishment they merit, and no sort of crime is more diabolical. —[Ventura Free Press.

Deserves to Hang.

If McNamara is the right man he deserves to hang for it. No more diabolical crime was ever committed than the deliberate murder of those twenty unsuspecting employees in the Los Angeles Times office.—[Pasadena News.

Startling Accusations.

The accusations and arrests made by Detective William J. Burns, with relation to the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times Building on October 1 of last year, and numerous other outrages of like character, are startling in the extreme.

Proof is said to exist that John J. McNamara, secretary and treasurer of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Ironworkers, with headquarters at Indianapolis, has long been at the head of an organized conspiracy to dynamite establishments run upon the open-shop principle, and also buildings and bridges built by non-union labor.

The finding in Indianapolis and elsewhere of dynamite, nitroglycerine, fuse and clockwork, cunningly contrived to time explosions, is striking and convincing evidence of the existence of such a conspiracy as is charged, and of the direct connection of McNamara therewith.

Already, however, a number of prominent labor leaders have come forward with declarations of faith in the innocence of McNamara, and have sought to create the impression that the detectives found no explosives but such as they had themselves "planted," in the hope of incriminating the men accused.

On the other hand, the reputation of William J. Burns for fairness, honesty and trustworthiness is too well established to allow this theory to gain much weight with the public.—[Sacramento Bee.

Sensation of the Hour.

The arrest of men high in labor-union circles on a charge of actual participation in the crime of dynamiting the Los Angeles Times Building, and in other similar crimes, is the sensation of the hour. The Register was among those who could not believe that labor leaders were in any manner responsible for those outrages. It was our opinion that some irresponsible individual members of unions had conspired to commit the crimes, for it did not seem possible that men of intelligence could be so misled, even though they might be so criminally-minded as to approve of destruction of valuable property with incidental murder. It must be confessed, however, that the fact that Detective William J. Burns caused the arrests to be made goes far to shake our former belief. That gentleman's record shows that when he places his hands upon a man he has the right one. He has caught some of the shrewdest criminals the United States has produced in recent years.—[Tulare Register.

Up to the Union.

The arrest of three men charged with dynamiting the Times Building in Los Angeles, and several other structures throughout the country, brings back prominently into the public mind the great disaster which snuffed out twenty lives in the Los Angeles horror and destroyed a half-million dollars' worth of property.

At the time, The Times charged that the crime was the outcome of its war with organized labor, and that union labor officials … responsible.

The arrest of a high official of the international body of the Structural Iron and Steel Workers as the man who instigated the series of crimes, of his brother as the leading principal in the actual crime of dynamiting, and the identification of the brother as the man Brice who is known beyond question to have participated in the Los Angeles explosion, together with the finding of bombs and dynamite in the hands of the men arrested, and in the building occupied by the labor officials, put the matter up to the union in question in particular, and to organized labor in general, at least for an explanation.—[Redlands Daily Facts.

"The Blood is The Life"

Science has never gone beyond the above simple statement of scripture. But it has illuminated that statement and given it a meaning ever broadening with the increasing breadth of knowledge. When the blood is "bad" or impure it is not alone the body which suffers through disease. The brain is also clouded, the mind and judgement are effected, and many an evil deed or impure thought may be directly traced to the impurity of the blood.

Foul, impure blood can be made pure by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It enriches and purifies the blood thereby curing, pimples, blotches, eruptions and other cutaneous affections, as eczema, tetter, or salt-rheum, hives and other manifestations of impure blood.

In the cure of scrofulous swellings, enlarged glands, open eating ulcers, or old sores, the "Golden Medical Discovery" has performed the most marvelous cures. In cases of old sores, or open eating ulcers, it is well to apply to the open sores Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve, which possesses wonderful healing potency when used as an application to the sores in conjunction with the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" as a blood cleansing constitutional treatment. If your druggist don't happen to have the "All-Healing Salve" in stock, you can easily procure it by inclosing fifty cents in postage stamps to Dr. R.V. Pierce, 663 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post. Most druggists keep it as well as the "Golden Medical Discovery."

You can't afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery," which is a medicine OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, having a complete list of ingredients in plain English on its bottle-wrapper, the same being attested as correct under oath.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

For the Finer Fabrics

IF you ever tried to wash your fine laces and fabrics with ordinary yellow laundry soap, you know it's simply out of the question.

All yellow laundry soaps contain rosin, and rosin is injurious to finer fabrics.

CURED IN FIVE DA…

Hernia, Piles, Fistula and Varicose Veins

H. J. TILLOTSON, M.D.
Established 30 Years.

I am the only Specialist in Los Angeles who is sole owner of his office and equipment, who does not advertise a fictitious name and photograph. I publish my true photograph, correct name, personally conduct my office. I am the longest established, most successful and reliable, as medical credentials and press records prove. Imitation of my copyrighted announcement is an evidence that I am a bona fide Specialist. I make this statement that you will know you consult a Specialist, who sees and treats patients personally. I possess skill and experience acquired in such a way that no other can share, and should not be classed with medical companies. Experience is the safe standard by which judgment may be valued, and it is unwise and expensive to embrace the statements of medical companies. It is impossible for a medical company to attend college. Companies have no diploma or license to practice medicine in California or any other State. Medical companies usually are named after a doctor. A portrait, whose personality and identity are indefinite, is selected and published as the legitimate specialist of the office. Hired substitutes, ordinary doctors with questionable ability give consultation, examination and treatment.

A thorough investigation should be made by every ailing person as to the specialist he consults. Duty and destiny to self and those who depend upon you demand the best medical attention. I have the ability and can give you this service. I have always charged a very reasonable fee, so that my services may be obtained by any man who sincerely desires to be cured. I make no misleading statements or unbusinesslike propositions; neither do I desire to be particularly independent, and I would like to have you for a patient, if you will come to me on a strictly professional basis, and the inducements that I offer, which are my ability and thirty years' successful experience. Time-saving treatment and guarantee of cure of certain diseases.

NO MONEY REQUIRED TO COMMENCE TREATMENT. Many patients have no confidence in their doctor, because he demands pay before a cure has been effected, and there are many who have been misinformed about their condition, or through unsuccessful treatment have become skeptical and think there is no cure for them. I want an opportunity to treat such cases. It makes no difference about the financial part, as I accept pay for my services as benefits are derived, when I am satisfied the patient is reliable. Health is capital at interest. I will prove my ability to cure you before asking pay for my services.

WRITTEN GUARANTEE.

Dr. Tillotson's written guarantee means a cure or no pay for services. I guarantee to cure certain diseases or refund every dollar you have paid me for my services. My services cost you nothing unless I cure your Varicose Veins, Hernia, Piles, Fissures, Ulcerations, or any disease I guarantee to cure. My terms are reasonable and no more than you are willing and able to pay.

Many Cases Cured Permanently … TREATMENT. Most Time-Saving, Natural. Most Safe. No Detention … Occupation, Family or Home. A … and Permanent Cure. I Will Give … to Any Charity as a Guarantee … Every Statement in This Announce… is True.

I cure rapidly, painlessly and at small expense. Cured Patients are My Testimonials, however, I do not make patient's Names Merchandise by publishing them. I will give conclusive evidence of my merit which is obtained and maintained by ability. I invite you to come to my office; I will explain my treatment for Hernia, Piles, Fistula, Varicose Veins, Pelvic, Nervous, Blood, Kidney, Bladder and Rectal Diseases. I will give you free a physical examination; if necessary a microscopical and chemical analysis of secretions to determine existing pathological and bacteriological conditions. Every person should take advantage of this opportunity to learn their true condition. Certainty of cure is what you want.

Varicose Veins

In the cure of Varicose Veins, Rupture and Associate Diseases of the Pelvic Region, I am successful in bringing to bear the curative power of Nature's forces in such a manner as to supplant the old-time, wide-open surgical operations. Once it required several weeks to cure these conditions and the method which some still use is such as to endanger the life of the patient and require a long period of convalescence. Now an absolute cure can be accomplished in a few days and with perfect safety.

TRUSSES SELDOM CURE RUPTURE. Disregard for existing Hernias has cost many lives. The smallest hernias are the most dangerous to life, because of the increased liability to strangulation. I am aware that a great deal of fraud has been practiced on the public in connection with the alleged cure of Rupture, and when I say positively that I cure Rupture, to stay cured, I do not expect any one to accept my statement without investigation of my professional work. My claim to your confidence is based on absolute facts, accomplished results. A personal consultation. I will make a free examination and can explain every detail of your Hernia and demonstrate to you the curative value of the method I have discovered. I invite the careful investigation of any person who sincerely desires to be cured. I cure Rupture, in selected cases, with perfect safety, and entail no suffering, and do not detain you from occupation under Written Guarantee. Many cases cured to stay cured by one treatment.

PILES, FISTULA, RECTAL DISEASES. These diseases are very common; most frequently found in persons of middle, or advanced age; are exceedingly annoying, often very painful and sometimes very dangerous, and frequently unfit one for pleasure or occupation. My treatment and successes are the result of years of experience; my treatment is kindly applied. I cure Piles without cutting. Some cases are cured by one or more treatments. If I do not cure your Piles, Fistula and other Rectal Diseases, my treatment does not cost you anything. Gentleness in treatment comes from treating many cases, so I guarantee a cure of Piles, Fistula, Fissures, Ulcers and all curable Rectal Diseases.

LIFE'S BLOOD STREAM. The great clearinghouse of a person's body is the blood stream. Your blood cells are your bank account. Your only defense against disease is by and through blood corpuscles. My blood-making, blood-purifying remedies have been tried and proven. My blood-cell remedies nourish, strengthen and increase the blood cells and nourish the nerve centers. I want to prove to you at my expense that my blood-making, blood-purifying remedies give power to weak brains and life to nerve centers.

KIDNEY AND BLADDER DISEASES. With these diseases you may have more complications than are presented by any other diseased organs. By my searching illumination of the bladder I determine accurately the disease and by my microscopical examination and urinalysis I make sure of the condition of the kidneys, thus laying foundations for scientific treatment.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

The first cherries on the market this year came from the Vacaville district. The price paid for the fruit by a local hotel was $10 for a ten-pound box. They were of a very early light-red variety and were still a trifle small. The demand for the fruit of deciduous character is very good and it is expected that cherries will be coming in sufficiently in another three weeks to satiate the appetites of many of the lovers of that particular fruit. Reports from the North have it that the cherry crop this year is at least 25 per cent. less than last year on account of damage by frost in the early spring. The call for apples continues of good proportion and the market is pretty well cleaned up on all sorts of apples. They are unchanged in prices, which helps to keep up the call for them.

The egg market was featured yesterday morning by a number of bearish dealers attempting to pull down prices. One buyer managed to take up all of the offerings and the market came right up with his buying. It opened nearly 2 cents below the quoted price, but by the conclusion of 10 minutes' buying it was back up to the price quoted. Receipts were 578 cases.

The market on butter was very firm. Further advances through the East are looked for, but they will not be of very ample proportion because the production is heavy and the market is not taking it up rapidly, there being no great amount of buying for storage. Local receipts were 21,356 pounds.

The demand for cheese was good in nearly all eastern varieties. Prices were all changed slightly, some of them coming down and some advancing, according to the condition of the market on each variety. Receipts were 5,304 pounds.

Potatoes were very steady. Receipts of the product totaled 1400 sacks. The call for them was good. Receipts of onions totaled 335 sacks. Some crystal wax onions are selling at a fraction more than Bermudas. The Imperial crop is moving in fast and there are only about ten cars remaining to be shipped out of Imperial itself. Out of Coachella and Thermal there are more cars than is still waiting for shipment.

There were few changes in fruits and vegetables. The market on all of them was comparatively the same as the day previous. Such goods are not over-plentiful, and on turnips the price has gone to 25 cents per dozen. Carrots, beets, oyster plant and other similar vegetables are moving at about 20 to 25 cents per dozen bunches.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE.

Central Oil Makes a Gain of Four Points on the day—Bullish Tendency to the Market.

There was a marked bullish tendency to the oil shares listed on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday. Central made a gain of four points, probably due to the announcement that a comprehensive development plan had been mapped out, and the Mexican issues were on the up grade, common closing at 31.50 bid, a gain of $1.37½.

Consolidated Midway was as usual the heaviest trader, and also made a gain, closing at 21⅞ bid. Union Oil, not to be outdone, also registered an increase in the bid price. The same was true of United Oil; in fact, gains were made all along the line among the oil shares.

WHEAT GOES UP ON A DENIAL.

BIG PRIVATE DEAL RUMORED ON BOARD OF TRADE.

Brokers Afterwards Hear That There Was Nothing in the Story of a Corner in the May Cereal. Packers Stop Decline of Provisions in Chicago.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, April 26.—Denial of rumors that a 2,000,000 bushel deal in May wheat had been privately settled gave the market a sharp tilt upward in the last hour this afternoon. The close was firm, ⅜ to 1 cent higher than last night. Corn finished ⅛@½ to ⅜ up; oats dearer by ⅛@¼ to ⅜@½ and provisions from 7½ decline to 2½ advance. July wheat ranged from 86½@86⅝ to 87⅝ and closed at 87½, a net gain of ⅛.

July corn fluctuated between 52¼@52⅜, closing firm ½ up at ⅝@¾. Cash grades were in fair demand. No. 2 yellow finished at 53¼@53½. High and low levels for July oats were 31⅞@31⅛ with last sales at 31⅝@31⅞, a gain of ⅛@⅜ over last night. Good demand from packers offset to a considerable extent a decline that provisions underwent because of a large run of hogs west. In the end pork was off 5 to 7½, lard up a shade to 2½ and ribs at a shade to 17½ decline.

Cash quotations were as follows:

Flour steady; No. 2 rye, 97; feed or mixing barley 70@90; fair to choice malting, 1.06@1.14; flax seed, No. 1 southwestern, 2.47; No. 1 northwestern, 2.60; timothy seed, 12.00; clover, 15.25; mess pork, per bbl., 15.75@15.87; lard, per 100 lbs., 8.12½; short ribs, sides (loose), 7.62½@8.25; short clear sides (boxed), 8.25@8.37½.

New York Cotton Market.

[Special service to The Times by E. F. Hutton & Co., members New York Stock Exchange, No. 118 West Fourth street, Los Angeles.]

NEW YORK, April 26.—All the greater part of the day the market manifested underlying strength of the most pronounced character and shorts in both crops appeared to be wavering because of the scarcity of contracts in the ring. New crop months have for weeks past been steadily bought as hedges by spinners while the selling has been almost entirely of a speculative character. Our information coincides with the reports as published by the Journal of Commerce, that a delay of 7 to 15 days has already occurred in all states outside of Texas. Night temperatures have been too cool and the young plants have not made normal progress. Today's forecast indicated rains with stormy conditions starting in Texas and that they will pass eastward through the entire belt in the next 2 or 3 days. Cotton men conversant with absolute needs of plant at this stage will quickly appreciate the danger to new crop. Planting will be further delayed and grass will get an even start with the cotton. Too little attention has been paid to the delay and the certain damage that will result from rains now starting in. These unfavorable conditions should also add to the strength of old crop months.

LOGAN & BRYAN' LETTER SAYS:

"Fifteen million bales for the coming cotton crop is spoken of so confidently that it might be well to scrutinize the following tabulation of yield of three states of Arkansas, Louisiana and Mississippi in the only three years of history that the United States ever raised as much as thirteen million bales, and then ask yourself how much added damage the boll weevil will now do. Arkansas in 1904, 905,000, and Louisiana, 1,000,000, Mississippi 1,777,000; total 3,782,000. In 1906—Arkansas 840,000; Louisiana, 995,000; Mississippi, 1,641,000; total, 3,476,000. In 1908, Arkansas, 1,052,000; Louisiana, 485,000; Mississippi, 1,673,000; total, 3,210,000. These three states contributed nearly one-fourth of the entire crop in the three big crop years. The weevil invaded Louisiana first in 1904, but his depredations were not radical until 1907; he invaded Mississippi in 1908 and the entire southern half of that state will feel his sting during this year; he invaded Arkansas in 1908 and his depredations showed seriously last year. Harassed by this pest these three states cannot possibly equal the yield in any of three years shown above, and while it may occur that some year, or by some careful methods and forcing developments these states may dodge a portion of his damage, with present acreage and normal development it is no longer safe to expect more than 800,000 bales from Arkansas, 300,000 from Louisiana and 1,200,000 from Mississippi or an aggregate total of only 2,300,000 bales from these three states. To make therefore, a crop even of 13½ million bales, the Carolinas, Georgia, Alabama, Texas and Oklahoma must add one million bales to their previous maximum, in other words, they must be ten per cent. larger than their previous record for the United States to equal that record."

Thrilling Race.

SIMPLEX BLOODHOUND IN DAREDEVIL DASH TO JAIL.

JOHN J. McNAMARA, James W. McNamara and Ortie McManigal, the trio of suspected dynamiters of the Times Building, were rushed into Los Angeles from the Santa Fe station in Pasadena yesterday in a fifty-seventy-horse-power Simplex and a fifty-horse-power Stoddard Dayton. All speed regulations were smashed in the daring dash, as the motors raced to the County Jail in this city.

Deputy Sheriff Billy Fryer drove the leading car and Sheriff Hammel engineered the run of the Simplex bloodhound. The Simplex was rushed to the train as the prisoners were brought into Pasadena, and the motor was not stopped while the detectives were bringing the manacled men from the coach to the street where the big Simplex was in waiting.

Just one word of command from Sheriff Hammel and the car was started forward. Fryer shot from one speed into another, changed his gears with lightning rapidity, and almost before the men in the car realized what was doing, the Simplex was rushing toward this city.

Keeping a sharp lookout for a possible surprise, and while scarcely a word was spoken by the passengers in the whirring car, Fryer sped on. Sheriff Hammel kept watch of the men in the tonneau, and allowed the driver to shoot as fast as he liked over the road in the race to the jail.

The Stoddard-Dayton was also driven at lightning speed.

With the cylinders hitting perfectly, and with the speedy motor hurling the car along at seventy miles an hour, the motors approached this city and the crowds along the streets were ready for the thrilling finish of the daredevil race against time.

The plan was to rush through the Broadway tunnel and drop down Temple street to the side entrance of the County Jail. At the mouth of the tunnel an immense crowd awaited the arrival of the car. Fryer saw just in time that it would be risky to rush through the throng.

He gave the big car its head and shot away for the hill beyond the High School, made another roundabout turn, lost some valuable time but avoided the throng. He reached the jail door exactly seventeen minutes after leaving the depot in Pasadena, and the prisoners were behind the bars a few minutes later.

HOGAN PULLS CHESTNUTS AWAY FROM FLAME DELHI.

BY GREY OLIVER.

> "DELHI blew up, did he? Well, I guess not," said Dillon after the game. "This is the second or third time he has done the very same thing. Goes along easy and three or four runs ahead and then he suddenly quits putting anything on the ball and they hit him all over the lot.
> "The very same thing happened in both Sacramento and Portland. I've been running up and telling him how to pitch, but he doesn't do it. I wish I could find out why he does this, but I can't. I tried to all last summer. He's just as good as he ever was but he quits at times. I wish I knew why."

Vernon, 7; Los Angeles, 5. Ten innings.

Whooping like a wild Indian, and with the score overwhelmingly against him in the ninth inning, Happy Hogan jerked off his sweater, jumped into the fray with his trusted men, and pulled victory out of defeat in the most spectacular fashion ever witnessed on a local baseball field in yesterday's game with Los Angeles.

They tied the score in the ninth and won the game in the tenth by rattling the life out of Pitcher Delhi, Dillon's star heaver, and then pounding Couchman, the new Angel twirler, into submission before he could warm up to his game.

Three thousand excited fans yelled themselves hoarse, and for many minutes pandemonium reigned, and the fighting Vernon leader was accorded a tremendous ovation.

Delhi pitched such beautiful ball for the Angels yesterday for seven innings that he began to think the Vernons were a lot of mutts. He went into the eighth inning thinking that, and before he knew it they had cracked him on the nose for a double and two singles and scored the first run.

He continued thinking the same way when the ninth came along, and before the inning was finished, Dillon threw him into the clubhouse, a very much mangled and disgusted flinger, for the Vernons had climbed on him for three singles and a double, and had made three runs that tied the score.

Couchman took Red's place and managed to get the third man out in that ninth inning, but in the tenth the Vernons fell all over him for three runs, and these practically ended one of the most exciting games ever played here.

STEWART BENCHED.

Stewart for Vernon was about the same kind of a time of it, but he didn't get through the first inning, for the locals spurred him to a frazzle as soon as they could get at him, and five minutes later he was hiding under the bench, and wondering how any team could make three runs off HIM in three minutes. The Angels did easily, and they would have made a lot more if Hogan had not used Brackenridge and Carson to keep the Vernons out of the cellar.

It was a real cellar contest yesterday between Oakland, Los Angeles and Vernon and if the Angels had won the three tail-end teams would have been clutched in a deadly embrace in their efforts to hang to the doors and keep from falling into the dark hole. However, with Oakland and Vernon winning, the locals slipped further into the soup and it may take them all week to get out.

It begins to look as if Delhi had a yellow streak and that he is liable to quit if anything goes wrong. Hap Hogan must have gotten his goat yesterday, for Hap ran out on the coaching line at third base and yelled out that Delhi would have to quit the game before it was ended. Everyone thought this was a kid and it was until Red saw himself in front and then began to back up.

Just why Delhi didn't win is what got 'em all. Dillon says he has been trying to find out for months just why Red blows up when he shouldn't and he cannot guess it.

FIZZLES OUT.

Red started out like a real champion and the only man to get a swat off him in the first five innings was Patterson, who bounced a single over Red's head in the first inning. In the fourth he gave Pat a pass. Brown got a single to left in the sixth and Pat hit one to center in the seventh. This was all that Vernon did in seven innings and it looked like an easy game for Red until they began to larrup him in the eighth, for the score was 4 to 0 in his favor. In the eighth a double by Burrell, a single by Brackenridge and a double by Carlisle made a run that woke up the Vernon fans.

When Brashear opened the ninth with an infield single and Stinson followed with a hard double to left the cheers almost shook the grand stand down. McDonnell took the starch out of them when he fanned, but Burrell set them wild when he shot a single to center that scored Brashear and Stinson. Hogan batted for Brown and sent Burrell to second with his own infield out.

Then, with two out the cheers redoubled when Steamboat Sheehan, batting for Brackenridge, cracked a single to right that scored Burrell. Red was completely up in the air by this time and he showed it a moment later when he passed Carlisle. This was too much for Dillon and he threw Red on the bench and stuck in Couchman, who managed to get the third man out without any more runs being scored.

All this time the Angels had been going along easily with four runs in their pockets which they had made without much effort. Stewart was led out at first by Hogan and he was such a bunch of duck soup that the Angels ate him alive. Akin hit for a single to right and Metzger followed with a sacrifice bunt which Stewart tried to

Hogan Lasts Five Minutes Before Champion.

Seconds Throw Up Sponge in Second Round.

Terrific Battle Comes to an Abrupt Ending.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, April 26.—Ad Wolgast of Michigan stepped from the ring in the Madison Athletic Club tonight still lightweight champion of the world.

In the second round, of what was to have been a ten-round bout, he caught "One-Round" Hogan of California a terrific left swing to the jaw, followed by a heavy right to the wind and instantly had Hogan in distress. A moment more and the latter's seconds threw up the sponge.

Before entering the ring, Hogan announced that if he was beaten decisively he would never fight again.

In the first round it seemed as i he might prove worthy of the title to his nickname of "One Round." He found little difficulty in reaching the champion, but Wolgast showe great recuperative power, and at the beginning of the second round was a fresh as a daisy.

Many noted fighters including James J. Jeffries, former heavyweight champion, were at the ringside.

FIGHT BY ROUNDS.

Round One—Both men rushed into clinch. Wolgast played for the chi with short uppercuts. Hogan stabbe the champion with four lefts. The exchanged punches and in the clinche Wolgast shot short uppercuts to th jaw. The champion was willing t take straight lefts for a chance to ge to close quarters. Hogan hammere Wolgast with terrific rights and lefts. Wolgast seemed dazed. The hous went wild, but Wolgast rallied an the bell found him smiling. Both me were bleeding at the mouth.

Round Two—They rushed into another clinch. Hogan took a heavy lef hook to the jaw and was badly dazed. Wolgast followed his man vigorously, putting rights and lefts to the face. It was slaughter. Wolgast bored i constantly and with fearful left an right hooks to the jaw and wind, ha Hogan so dazed he could barely hol up his head. The challenger rolle from one corner of the ring to th other, trying feebly to ward off Wolgast's vicious attacks. His knees wabbled under him and he staggered toward his corner, lifting his hand i mute appeal to Referee White. H could go no farther. REVIVAL OF ATHLETICS ON ST. VINCENT'S CAMPUS

ATHLETIC sports are to be revived at St. Vincent's College next fall under the Jesuit administration, according to rumors that are generally accredited on the college campus.

As the Jesuit College officials have not been appointed yet there has been no definite announcement made in regard to the future policy, but students at the Catholic school claim the matter has been practically settled.

It is known that the Jesuits at Santa Clara, as well as in their other schools in both the United States and Canada, encourage sports of all kinds. The Santa Clara College is one of the most active on the Coast in the matter of football and baseball. For this reason and from rumors that have come from the higher officials in the church, it is practically certain that there will be a strong football team in the field to represent the school next fall.

For years St. Vincent's held the Southern California college football championship. The Grand-avenue school also leads in baseball. The ban was put on the sports, two years ago.

The students are enthusiastic over the prospect of entering the field of competition in football and baseball once more. A number of them have competed during the last year with various athletic clubs and in semi-pro baseball teams. They were not allowed to assume the school name, however.

The athletic field at the school has been allowed to grow up in weeds a the gymnasium is hardly ever opene but boys who are attending the scho are already making plans for a vigo ous football programme next fall.

It is generally believed at St. Vi cent's that Rugby football will adopted. Santa Clara plays the Eng lish game and it is taken for grant that the local school will do the sam orld's Sculling Championship Will Be Decided.

Intercollegiate Regatta Is Scheduled for June.

Triangular Race Takes Place at Princeton May 28.

A rowing season that will eclipse all previous ones is looked for this year. Both the amateur and professional outlook is the best in some time, and from the interest that is being taken in the sport, it will be a big year on the water.

Besides the annual national regattas which will be held throughout the United States this summer, also the national championships at Saratoga Lake, N. Y., in July, and the Canadian events at St. Catherine's near Toronto, Canada, there will be two professional sculling races, the winners of which are likely to row for the world's championship in either this country or England.

In Sydney, N. S. W., the latter part of April or early in May, Richard Arnst, the present world champion, will race against Harry Pearce of Australia, who a short time ago defeated William Webb, ex-world's champion. The race between Pearce and Arnst will take place on the Parramatta River, Australia, which has been the scene of many famous contests.

In England, over the championship course on the Thames, on Monday, May 1, Ernest Barry, present champion of England, will defend his title against William Albany, a former amateur. The stake will be $1000 a side. It is probable the winner will row against the victor of the Australian race. Last summer, in South Africa, Arnst beat Barry.

The Canadian Association of Amateur Oarsmen will hold its annual regatta on Friday and Saturday, August 4 and 5, one week later than the American fixture, at which the Argonauts of Toronto, it is claimed, have won more events than any other one club in America. At the meeting of the Canadian organization the entry of the Ottawa senior eight-oared shell crew, who intend trying to lift the grand challenge cup at the English Henley regatta this year, was approved, as the committee had investigated the status of all the oarsmen. The entry, therefore, must be accepted by the English authorities. The Argonaut Rowing Club of Toronto is getting its sectional eight-oared shell and four-oared shell from Sims of England, about June.

The intercollegiate regatta will occur at Poughkeepsie in June. The triangular meet between Cornell, Princeton and Yale varsity eight-oared shell crews will occur May 28 at Princeton, while on May 27, Cornell varsity and freshman crews will row Harvard at Ithaca. Annapolis will row Columbia varsity on the Severn River, Annapolis, May 13, and also expects to row Penn and Syracuse on the same river.

IGH SCHOOL BASEBALL.

The Hill Boys Will Meet the Boys From Poly High Next Saturday Afternoon—Big Battle.

Next Saturday afternoon at 2:30 the Polytechnic High School baseball team will play the nine from Los Angeles High School on the Harvard diamond.

The batteries will be: For Polytechnic, Edward Cussin and Roy Clark; for Los Angeles, Roy Meyers and Hill.

In all probability Meyers is the best pitcher, owing to his experience in high school ball, but Polytechnic has the best infield men, and also the highest batting average.

Although this is not a championship game, both teams having lost games in the City League, the spirit existing between the two schools will make the game a battle from start to finish. As there will be no admission charged, both schools will turn out in full force to support their representatives.

The last time that the two schools met in baseball was two years ago, when Polytechnic carried away the championship of Southern California, and Los Angeles High School has always claimed that Poly quit a winner. But now as the ban that was then placed on athletics, on account of roughhousing has been raised, the spirit of the schools is fast regaining its former strength.

Want to Win.

NEW COACHING SYSTEM FAILED.

TIGERS FORCED TO RETURN TO PROFESSIONAL COACH.

President Baer Says He Secured Coach Pipal to Take Charge of the Occidental Athletics Because Other Colleges Would Not Take Up With Graduate Coach Idea.

The selection of George Pipal to take charge of athletics at Occidental College, by President John Willis Baer, has for the present eliminated any possibility of the graduate coach system being adopted by the Southern California colleges.

Dr. Baer has expressed himself as still in favor of the amateur rather than the professional coach, but the experience of the Highland Park school during the last year has proved that such a course is disastrous so long as the other colleges persist in employing high salaried physical instructors.

Joseph A. Ripal,

new athletic coach Occidental College, who has had six years' experience in eastern colleges.

In referring to the matter the Occidental president said: "There is no possibility of making the graduate coach system successful until the colleges here in the South will agree to take uniform action in this regard. I am forced to fall back upon the old policy because the other colleges would not back me up in my efforts to inaugurate the new system which has already been tried and proved in the East.

The Tiger institution has fallen behind the other Southern California colleges this year in every department of sports. Finally after the graduate idea had proved so disastrous in both football and track athletics, Dr. Merrill, who is a professional baseball coach, was employed to take charge of that branch of athletics. Merrill has had an uphill job in getting out a baseball team at the Highland Park school, but apparently the change has already improved the sport at Occidental.

Coach Pipal is to have full charge of all athletics at Occidental. The students are enthusiastic over the prospects of a professional coach. They readily fell in line with President Baer's suggestion in regard to a graduate coach last year, but the result has been even more discouraging to them than it had been to the president.

Many of the students in the other colleges of the South do not attribute Occidental's poor success in sports this year to the coaching system. They say that the Tiger school had an off year. That the school did not have the men to pick from and winning teams could not have been turned out by any coach. Whether this is true or not there is no way of knowing, but the fact remains that the old system of coaching is to be restored.

At present there seems to be no chance of U.S.C. or Pomona adopting the graduate coach. President Bovard at the University stated that he thought the essential thing in athletics was clean amateur management and that if this could be secured with a professional coach he could see no reason why a change should be made.

VERNON-LOS ANGELES.

throw to first base and allowed the ball to fall out of his hand. Akin and Metzger were safe and both advanced on Moore's sacrifice, Stewart to Brashear.

LAMS OUT DOUBLE.

Daley was next and he lammed out a double over third base that scored Akin and Metzger and Daley followed this by stealing third. Howard was passed and after Delmas had singled to left, scoring Daley, Hap Hogan hurriedly chased Stewart to the bench.

Brackenridge relieved him and pitched shut-out ball until he quit at the end of the eighth inning. In the third Brashear made a wild throw to first of Moore's grounder, ran to second on Daley's sacrifice, to third on Howard's sacrifice fly, and scored on Delmas's bouncing infield single to short. This was the only run the Angels could get off Brack and it made the total of four, which the Vernons tied by their batting rally in the first half of the ninth.

The rival bunches of fans rooting for Vernon and the Angels, began to howl their heads off at the beginning of the tenth. Patterson was the first man to bat for Vernon and almost the first ball Couchman pitched Patterson slammed it for a hard single to left. Couchman was so rattled by the Vernon cheers that he walked Brashear and the cheers broke out into a great roar when Stinson bunted safely toward third base. With hoots and howls echoing in his ears, Couchman began to throw himself away with a wild pitch that scored Patterson and advanced two other runners. McDonnell made good with a hot single to left that scored Brashear and Stinson and Burrell followed with a sacrifice for the first out. The next two were easy, for Hogan popped to Akin and Carson flied to right. It was a very disastrous inning, for it settled the first game of the season between the two local teams.

Carson heaved the ninth and tenth innings for Vernon and as he got the first three men out in the ninth, Dillon decided to try an experiment. He started the tenth by sending Bernard to bat for Couchman, and the always-popular Bernie made good in his debut with a healthy single to left. After Akin had flied to center, Metzger hit to right field.

In trying to get him around the bases, Moore fanned and Hogan caught Metzger off first by a quick throw and he was run down between the bases. McDonnell made the put-out, but not before Bernard had scored his first run of the season and the Angels' last of the game.

SOUND DRUBBING. OAKS DEFEAT SEALS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 26.—Oakland fattened its batting average while administering a sound drubbing to the locals today.

Seven tallies against the Seals' had been run up by the Oaks in the sixth inning, when, for an hour, rain interfered with the game. With the resumption of play, Oakland added another run to its score.

Jim Wiggs held the locals to but two hits. On the other hand, Willard Meikle lasted only six innings for the Seals. He was replaced by Frank Eastley. Score:

Portland had no difficulty in finding Fitzgerald when hits were of no use, but could not find him with one exception when their slugging would have proved effective. Score:

HAP GETS GOAT. HOGAN HANDED A BA BA.

Hap Hogan, manager of the Vernon team, was called to the home plate before the ball game yesterday at Washington Park and in the presence of 3000 spectators was presented by Umpire Finney with a cute little brown and black goat.

The little thing had a pretty red ribbon around its neck and a tag on the collar stated that the goat was a present from Hogan's friends at Alhambra who had captured the goat on Catalina Island. However it is believed the kid came from Eddie Maier's ranch.

All through the game the Angels tried to capture this goat by winning but when Delhi went wrong in the ninth the goat was sure of a future home with Happy and Mrs. Happy.

TWO GOOD ONES OUT. HOWARD AND BERNARD SHOW.

Howard and Bernard made their appearance with the Los Angeles team yesterday and showed that they will surely strengthen the Angels. Howard has played this season and retired a month ago owing to an injury to his shoulder but yesterday was Bernard's first appearance. He has been attending school and expects to play regularly hereafter in the field.

Johnny Kane was on the field in uniform yesterday for Vernon for the first time and showed up well. He practiced at short field and will probably be there regularly when he is rested from his trip across the country and when he has recovered from his recent illness.

URICSOL—THE CONQUEROR OF RHEUMATISM

If you have tried every other known remedy for rheumatism do not despair. You still have Uricsol the practical certainty of CURE, and the absolute certainty of material and lasting benefit to fall back on.

Uricsol is not a cureall. Its special field is rheumatic diseases and it cures them by removing the cause.

Everybody nowadays knows that rheumatism is caused by an excess of Uric Acid in the blood. Local applications may relieve, but they cannot possibly get at the seat of the disease.

Uricsol is just what its name implies, a solvent and eliminator of Uric Acid.

Remove the cause and the disease is gone.

IT DISSOLVES AND ELIMINATES DEPOSITS IN THE JOINTS, WHERE THEY HAVE BEEN ACCUMULATING FOR YEARS.

Records are in our possession of not one but many cases where the joints of the fingers were so thickened as to be practically useless; where the hip or the knee joints were so filled with the deposits as to render the victim wholly unable to walk; yet the patients were completely restored to health and activity by the systematic use of Uricsol.

In this way Uricsol has been a genuine RENEWER OF YOUTH!

We can truthfully claim the remarkable record of 90 per cent. of cures where a proper opportunity is given our remedy to accomplish the result.

We will gladly supply testimonials. Write for folder.

If your druggist does not have it send one dollar to The California Chemical Co., 325 New High St., Los Angeles, Calif., and we will send you a bottle prepaid

BY J. ALEX. SLOAN.

The defeat of James J. Jeffries by John Arthur Johnson, it was widely claimed at the time, would put a crimp in the heavyweight pugilistic situation and sound the death knell of the ring sport's popularity in this country. The idea of having the greatest honor known to the glove world held by a negro, was something that would surely sour the whole sporting world on the art of self-defense. Every writer on pugilism began to figure the outcome of the affair at Reno and the oldest fight fan predicted that the game which had flourished so long in America would become degraded and sink into oblivion.

Let us look over the situation and see what has happened.

The yells of the multitude at Reno and the ink on the sporting extras in the different cities of the country announcing the outcome of the battle had scarcely dried, when the fight promoters in every nook of the land, and in fact, everyone interested in the ring game, began searching for a new heavyweight that could be developed into an opponent for Jack Johnson and regain for the white race what James J. Jeffries had lost.

Had Jeffries won, there would have been no activity at all in the heavyweight division. The public would have regarded the victory as a ring [illegible] and instead of benefiting the fighting game, a victory by the big boilermaker would have had a tendency to lessen the interest, as has been proven.

Of course, a lot of fun is made of almost every "white hope" that is introduced to the public, yet seldom a week goes by that some person does not discover a new heavyweight possibility. And despite the attitude of the news services the future greats keep on showing up just the same. Some one is bound to land a heavyweight title holder sooner or later. If a score or more of big fellows keep attracting attention, there is bound to be in the lot a first-class man. Probably never in the history of the fighting game has there been so many heavyweight aspirants before the public, especially in this country. And all believe that they have a chance to win back the honors that Johnson copped at Reno from the "original white hope."

Had Jeffries won the battle, there would have been no action at all in the heavyweight division. Al Kaufman, the California boy, would have been looked upon as an opponent for Jeff, and the chances are that Jeff would have never again entered the ring. Of course, the title would have gone to one of the second raters by default and there would have been no Carl Morris, Albert Palzer, Mark O'Donnell, or, in fact, any of the so-called "white hopes," for there would have been no opening for them.

Before Jack Johnson takes the count at the hands of a heavyweight opponent, there will be at least a half-dozen good heavyweights in the running. And the new type of big fighter being discovered as a rule is not of the short-haired, brainless class, but of the more intelligent kind, which means that the whole fight situation will eventually be benefitted.

There are people right now interested in fighting and anxious to see the man discovered who can whip Johnson, that in former days looked upon the ring pastime as brutal and degrading. Why, in a couple of places in this broad land ministers of the gospel have been known to express themselves in favor of fighting, because of anxiety to see the white race win back the honor that Johnson copped last Fourth of July.

Another angle of the heavyweight situation is the way it has stirred up interest in the fight game in many parts of the country. Take the State of Oklahoma, for instance. Down there only short, limited bouts were permitted until Carl Morris was discovered. Then the whole State took a hand and the commercial clubs and the various boosting organizations began using Morris as a means to secure publicity.

Thousands of people, who could never have been dragged into the State of Oklahoma to see anything but a prize fight, journeyed there to get a line on big Carl Morris when he fought Schreck. Now plans are being made to run excursions into Tulsa, from all parts of the country the Fourth of July, when Morris will again be seen in action with Albert Palzer, a giant discovered in New York by Tom O'Rourke.

A lot of the second-class heavyweights wanted a chance to collect some of the big coin down Oklahoma way and tried to inveigle Morris to recognize them, but F. B. Ufer, the millionaire sportsman, who paid something like $25,000 for a contract with Morris, shooed them away and took on O'Rourke's protege. He argues that Morris is not ready yet to mix with the veterans, as he is still an inexperienced ring possibility. However, in due time if Morris continues to improve, all will be given a chance. When you stop to consider the plan, it is not such a poor one after all, and probably the best way to develop a real opponent for Johnson. Morris, the longer he delays, improves, while those who have reached their best days, are bound to go back or at least remain in the rut into which they were forced by Johnson winning the championship.

Morris will be trained for his next battle by the big black smoke, Joe Jeanette. Joe recently hung a discard sign on Al Kubiak's jaw and demonstrated that he was about as near to the real thing as any of the second-class men. He will receive $800 and expenses to work out the Sapulpa engineer, and those who know Joe say that he is a good choice. Jeanette knows all about Jack Johnson and the other heavyweights, as well as Sam Langford, and he is a good trial horse as he can stand a lot of punishment.

Johnny Coulon is getting the foreign bug. When he is through his one-night stand trip in the Middle West, he and his "Pop" will climb aboard one of the big trans-Atlantic skiffs and journey across the pond. Johnny ought to eat his way through the English bantams after the manner of a Kansas cyclone doing business in a field of ripe timothy. He is away superior to any of the half-dozen little fellows on the other side and he thrives on work. Johnny likes them to come fast and so does "Pop," who sees that Johnny gets all the coin that is coming to him.

While Coulon right now is averse to changing from the bantamweight class to the feathers, yet he sees a greater future in the 122-pound division and wants to finally be identified with that bunch. He is certainly the biggest little fellow that ever lived and in muscular development is equipped with larger and stronger muscles than many of the featherweights right now. He realizes that a trip across the pond may make him heavier and he will take no chances until he has cleaned up every fighter and every dollar in sight before migrating.

Sporting Comment

BY THE MELANCHOLY DANE.

All of Us Need It.

The fact that Carl Morris, the pug of Oklahoma, is taking a long rest [illegible] that he is a big hunk. Any [illegible] that needs a rest after whipping a lot of plow boys and old men [illegible] himself as a stiff. It's pretty [illegible] cinch that when he gets ready to fight again even his friends will [illegible] get in on passes.

[illegible] recent telegram from Seattle to the effect that two of the convicted wrestlers were in that town for [illegible] other members of the [illegible], including Doc Roller, is too [illegible] to be believed. Doc never was [illegible] enough wrestler to be a fakir. [illegible] why he should be able to [illegible] he is not guilty of faking. [illegible] man has got to have a lot [illegible] to be a fake.

[illegible] Hope For Us.

The only excuse for the Hugo Kelly-[illegible] fight is the universal [illegible] that when they do meet that [illegible] land a knockout blow at [illegible] moment. If both were put [illegible] would have to take a long [illegible] that's what everyone wants [illegible] pair.

[illegible] Swelled Up.

[illegible] the eastern pug, Al Delmont, should puff himself up so for beating Monte Attell is something that no one can figure out. Why little Conley made a monkey out of Monte and Conley's principal distinction is that he has a strong back.

Berkeley Misinformed.

I observe in a northern paper that the Berkeley track team has won the Coast honors from Oregon, Washington and Stanford. If this victory is what reduced the cost of living from $76.40 to $76.35 per month, I'm for Berkeley. Still, I have an idea that the cold storage stuff is being unloaded on us just now.

Mutts All Asleep.

With Bat Nelson, Anthony Drexel Biddle, John Sullivan and the Gould family keeping quiet all at once, there is no wonder that sporting news is on the blink at present. It's pretty tough on us poor slaves to have to write real news all the time and it is to be hoped that some of the many freaks will break loose again soon.

Easy Way For Jack.

Fakie Jack O'Brien has decided to change the admission prices to his prize fights from 50 cents and $1 to 25 and 50 cents. This shows that Jack needs the money, and if he is so hard up he should "arrange" another fight with Tommy Burns. That is if he wants something easy.

LAKESIDE-TOUR PLANS.

There is no limit to the entry list that could have been received for The Times tour to Lakeside provided the lists had been kept open. Many are disappointed because they are denied the chance to take the tour to Riverside and down the inland route to the beautiful Lakeside Inn, and to San Diego, and up the coast route to Los Angeles.

When the polls closed and the tour management was obliged to refuse entries, it was found that a number were flocking in with blanks already signed and ready to enter. When they found it was too late several decided to join as non-contestants. This took off the edge of the fun for them, however.

All records for all automobile contests held in the West have been broken. The entry list is the largest ever and the variety smashes all other lists ever recorded. Almost every one of the prominent dealers in this city will be on the tour. The entertainment provided along the way will be great. There will be something to do every minute.

A wire from Manager Walter Hempel of Lakeside Inn last night brought the news that two regiments of United States troops had been assigned to camp on the grounds of Lakeside Inn, and will remain there until the The Times tour reaches the resort.

Special military maneuvers will be scheduled for the benefit of the tourists, and two regimental bands will discourse music on the hotel lawn during both afternoons and evenings of the stay of The Times tourers. Manager Hempel has arranged a special military hop for Saturday night, May 6.

This feature of the tour makes the prospects for the outing particularly pleasing. These troops will be on duty close to the Mexican border at Lakeside. The motor cars in the tour will be driven near the camp site and the tourers will be enabled to visit the camp during the stay at the Lakeside Inn.

With more than two score cars in line the long list of machines will take some time to make the run over the hills into the Lakeside district. Manager Hempel will have the route carefully signed and will make it as easy as possible for the tourers and the observers on each car will see that it is as hard as possible for each driver.

Complete arrangements have been made at the Glenwood Inn for the first night reception of the tourers. Manager Frank Miller will have the moving picture film ready for the guests who will be treated to a novel entertainment Friday night. Dinner will be served when the tourers have all placed their cars in the Glenwood garage, the first night control, and the discussion of the perfect score winners will be of interest.

The announcement of the scores made during the opening day will be made to the guests during the picture display in the evening. Then a description of the tour will be given and several points of interest along the way will be mentioned. Early Saturday morning the tourers will leave the Glenwood and a basket lunch will be served at noon on the summit of the Bonsal grove.

WELSH MATCHED.

MATTY BALDWIN SELECTED.

BOSTON, April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Matty Baldwin of Boston and Freddie Welsh, the crack little Englishman, have been matched to fight in 'Frisco in the near future.

Welsh wants to get a chance to meet the winner of the Wolgast-Moran battle, which accounts for him accepting the terms to meet Baldwin, when so many of the eastern clubs were after him.

Baldwin is one of the best near-champions in the country and against Welsh, it is believed, he will put up a great fight, especially over the twenty-round distance.

eastern lightweight, who is matched to box Freddie Welsh in San Francisco.

BOWLING—"

Once again a Pasadena bowler (and this time a woman,) hangs up what is probably a new Coast record. While rolling on Platt's Pasadena alleys, Mrs. Brayton of that city made five different split spares in one game. In the fifth frame she made the 6-7-10, in the sixth the 3-7-10, and in the eighth, ninth and tenth frames the 5-8-10, 5-6 and 5-7, respectively, finishing with a score of 164. It is doubtful if Mrs. Brayton's performance was ever equalled anywhere and should stand for many a day as a real freak record.

The Mullen & Bluett team showed quite a lot of class Tuesday evening in a match game against the Harris & Frank five when they upset 928 pins in the first game. That score would cop a big percentage of games in the class "A" league. This team will surely be heard from in the next Commercial League.

Dr. C. M. Roberts, President, and Charles E. Platt, Secretary and Treasurer, of the Pasadena Bowling Club, have completed arrangements for starting a city league tournament for three-man teams. To date fifty-two bowlers have entered and paid their entrance fees and several more are expected to come in before the tournament commences. To say that bowling is popular in Pasadena would be putting it mildly, as it is booming as never before in the Crown City, and what is more, the game is in clean and capable hands.

The Interburban League will hold a meeting at the Grand Alleys, tomorrow, Friday evening, and all teams that wish to enter are requested to be on hand with their entrance fees. Bob Reid says the new tournament will outshine the one just closed, which was one of the most successful as well as interesting ever held in Southern California. Reid is the secretary of this league, and says it is his one "pet."

Nowadays it is a hard matter for any good bowler to land in town and remain unsigned for very long. This was demonstrated Tuesday evening, when W. G. Banning, who had just arrived from Chicago a few hours before, was rolling a few practice games on the Cosmopolitan alleys. Capt. Bunn happened to be in the house, and after watching the newcomer for a few frames secured his signature as a member of the Los Angeles Limited team. Bunn was just in time, as another alert captain was about to tackle him.

Col. Stinson's crack Cedar Brook team will almost bet their neat brown uniform shirts that they will beat any other team in the Southern California league any time they start. The colonel has a fine collection of bowlers, and it is certain they will finish away up near the top. Although their last time out was rather disastrous, when the Limited took three straight games, the Cedar Brooks fought every inch of the way. They have a big bunch of rooters who are "goat getters."

As Platt's team made a big clean-up in the Interurban League, and now that th eBrentwoods have beaten everything in sight, there are three pin boys in the Crown City who think they could wipe up the alleys with any three pin stickers Los Angeles could select. Here's a chance for a game. The Pasadena boys line up as follows: Way, Klare and Keller. Arrangements for a match can be made by writing or phoning Platt's Pasadena alleys.

The few games rolled in the Southern California League class A tournament have brought to light many good bowlers. Have you noticed how many are above the 180 mark? Many of the boys who last year were hitting around the 160 mark are now up among the stars. It only goes to show what a little practice will do, and if present indications count for anything, this tournament will develop the greatest number of 180 men ever brought out in any previous tournament.

Waldo Richards, a popular bowler of Pasadena, has taken unto himself a bride. Immediately after the minister had tied the knot, Waldo, like the true bowler that he is, "struck out" for San Diego, where he and his bride will spend their honeymoon. Their married life should be a happy one, as Waldo seldom makes an "error," and he likes to "split wood." "Spare" him for awhile, boys.

The Alley Managers' Association has called a meeting for May 10, at which business in connection with the Western Bowling Congress 1912 tournament will be transacted. Not a stone will be left unturned to make this the grandest tournament - the annals of western bowling.

HEN SINK WAS THRONE.

ow Ruth St. Denis Learned Her Art.

The Wonderful Rhada Dance Created in a Flat.

Grace Kingsley Sees Ruth in Real Clothes.

BY GRACE KINGSLEY.

Psyche in a sailor hat, Cleopatra in shirt-waist, Salome in common-ense shoes. That's Ruth St. Denis t home.

I don't know what we expected. I hink the artist hoped for mere beads nd a smile, and when she opened he door we simply yammered.

Where was the inscrutable being of he twilight Buddha? Where the ensuous lotus-eater bathed in the addening rose light? Vanished in the ersonality of this bright matter-of-act little Boston person, who it so ncannily neat that I momentarily xpected her to ask us if our shoes ere clean.

But temperament will temp—

The artist asked her, from the trunk here she settled herself, if she would ose for him.

"Oh, I felt that coming," she made piquant grimace at him, as she ucked her feet under her, in delightl Oriental fashion, on the couch—but accessories and costumes mean o much to my dances. If I had only een born a hula-girl," she sparkled uaintly at us, "and it were only a uestion of feathers or flowers"—

We had heard of learning French wireless, swimming by correspondence course, and farming in a lab.; ut it remained for a clever Yankee irl to learn how to dance out of a ook. For you know she never really ved in the Orient, but just studied ooks and pictures and steeped herelf in the spirit of the Orient, until he had, clean cut on the canvas of r mind, those picture-perfect scenes e gives you.

You know how they look in the gyptian hieroglyphics, balancing on ghtrope, with bobbed hair, and looking like the paper-dolls mother used make—well, this clever girl studd them, till she could tell you the iritual significance of their pointing own to their corns or up to their ngs, and whether they were Demoats or Republicns by the way they t their hair. And that wonderful hada dance of hers was conceived in e kitchen of her tiny New York flat, ith the sink for a throne.

"Sometimes I seem to myself the ake dancer reincarnated," she said, nd you remember my renunciation nce?"—her mobile face was all exession—"I believe in that—renunciaon."

OF THE SPIRITUAL.

I thought that was rarely naive, and niled at the artist. But, after all, I flected that there was more of the irit than of the flesh in those dances hers. One honored the pure aesthete her. No doubt there'd be more ctures of Jefferson and Washington the box-office drawers if she had a llet in pink tights and tin swords, ith a lady in a lo-and-behold gown lead the Amazon march.

The artist had lived in Japan.

Ah, Japan interested her. She must ve a Japanese scene in her reperire—she'd be the long type of geisha rl, not the trotty kind, of course—ake it like a print, with rice mats, ld-lacquered background, one great se to the side. Yes, that old lend of the geisha girl, singing to the irit of her lover, that would do autifully.

And the Japanese manner of enterining audiences at the theaters, was not charming? Whole families sitng on the floor and consuming tea d rice-cakes, and the actors passing nong them to reach the stage. Well, curtain cut off one's audience ychologically as well as physically, dn't we think so?

And trailed off into a delightful an for staying in Southern California, where out atmosphere is "creamy," and working out a scheme for ing Greek dances in our Greek theas, at Catalina, at Berkeley, at Carel-by-the-Sea. The out-of-doors was much more natural, at all events—e vitality of audiences at night was low ebb, and had to be stimulated so much color and light.

The artist brought her back to Jan. He had seen Sada-Yacco, the panese tragedienne, in London, lateand said she was playing Ibsen.

"Sada-Yacco! Ibsen!" She made a nny little travesty of her gesture in e incense dance. "My, she must be nny in Ibsen! I can't imag—but ld"—with a tragic gesture—"What ld!" I, a Boston girl, doing the 'autch' dance, to say against any rl who plays foreign parts?"

And then she told us sweetly of r successes and failures, until a nile of good-bye lightened her little e, white, cameo-face.

U.S.C. WRESTLING TOURNAMENT ON.

MATUER RULES TO GOVERN MAY BOUTS.

University Tennis Players Will Go to the Tournament at Ojai Next Week—Bromley Oxnam and Kenneth Newell Will Meet Winnie Mace and Clarence Barker.

The annual U.S.C. wrestling tournaent is to be pulled off on the afteron of May 5, according to an anuncement which Coach Cromwell sted at the university yesterday.

In spite of the protest of the 'vary wrestlers the regular A.A.U. amaur rules are to govern the bouts. e university mat artists desired at these be laid aside this year and at the bouts be unrestricted as to ne. They also petitioned for the al decision to be made on falls ther than points, in case there were falls in the time limit.

Cromwell decided that wrestling der the rules suggested by the estlers themselves would tend too ch toward professionalism and for is reason he would not grant their tition.

The entries to date are: Heavyight division, Stookey, Traynor; ddleweight division, Hall, Crawley; lterweight division, Kaprielian, wner, Sinclair, Henderson; lightight division, Coykendall, Bamesberger, Dowds; featherweight division, Watson, Cohn.

who will play the role of Italia in the playlet "Smithereens," to be given at the Auditorium Theater Saturday evening, April 29, for the benefit of the Model Village.

How Should It Reed?

THEATER-MYSTERY IS THIS AUTHOR "WILLIAM DANFORTH."

LOCAL THEATERDOM was torn wide open last night with one large, glowing, red-fire interrogation point.

Who is William Danforth?

The Belasco Theater Company is next week going to produce a melodrama of Washington State, called "Nan o' the North." "William Danforth" is the nomenclature of the alleged author.

But nobody ever heard of William Danforth.

David Belasco, Eugene Walter, Augustus Thomas, Dr. Bachmann, Reed Heustis and Henry Arthur Jones last night strenuously denied that "William Danforth" had ever been one of their aliases.

And after these denials a dreadful suspicion arose. The swish of skirts was heard!

Now "Nan o' the North" is not a swishy play. Neither is it wishy; nor washy. Something doing is its motto. Men fight, women love, and vengeance waits around the corner with her inevitable lead pipe. "Nan o' the North" is a lively play, no doubt of it.

But the single party, who strenuously denies writing it, is the only individual who has ever been connected with it as far as the human eye has been able to discern.

John Blackwood, who might tell, is in the East.

This small party under suspicion brought the play from the East.

The original manuscript is said to be in her hand-writing.

It was she who surreptitiously sneaked into the theater to watch yesterday morning's rehearsal.

It was her face that turned to rose when somebody, just to try her out, suddenly shouted "Author!" in her vicinity.

In other words, there are those who say that "William Danforth" is none other than Florence Reed.

Unless she produces an alibi, three witnesses to the contrary and the certificate of a board of alienists, Florence Reed will presently be convicted on circumstantial evidence.

And next Monday night will perhaps be the first recorded instance of a woman star watching another woman star making a premier of her play.

Oh, Mercy!

REHEARSAL FOR "SMITHEREENS."

REALLY, TRULY MEN CREATED SOME COMPLICATIONS.

When They Came to Assign the Dressing Rooms at the Auditorium. Yesterday, Some of the Men Were Men, and Some Were Not Men. Review of Interesting Features.

The big dress rehearsal for the pageant "Smithereens," which is to be given Saturday for the benefit of the Model Village, took place yesterday, on the stage of the Temple Auditorium.

Wild excitement in large chunks. Especially over the dressing-rooms. There were only twelve for 170 people. One was allotted to those taking male parts.

There are many male parts but it has been found desirable in most cases to have them impersonated by women, as, for instance, in that of John Wesley. This part is taken by Mrs. T. W. Brown of Budlong avenue who wears her own beautiful white hair in the familiar Wesley curls, which, together with the white tails under her chin and a realistically puritanical expression of face, form a most convincing picture.

When they assigned the "men's dressing-rooms," came the embarrassing discovery that two of these were really truly men and consequently had to be given a room to themselves. And imagine only one mirror to every twenty girls—it's heartbreaking.

There are several professional actresses included in the pageant. The Misses Lucile and Gertrude Walls are here from the East where they have been playing in Savage's first "Merry Widow" Company of New York. They are stunning looking girls and make most imposing court ladies. They are staying at San Gabriel.

Yesterday, Mrs. Hugh Harrison entertained the French group, comprising sixteen beautiful girls, at her home for luncheon, the whole day to be spent in rehearsals. Mrs. Harrison declares she has never seen so many lovely girls all together before. Mrs. T. W. Wrenn of Hotel Hargrave makes an effective Louis Seize.

One of the most attractive figures is Miss Ida Taylor in Persian costume. She is delightfully graceful and making many converts for the harem skirt.

Two girls from Cumnock School, the Misses Ellen Bent and Erma Lane, are rehearsing an Italian Tarantella which is likely to prove a great success.

Some of the dresses are very exquisite, that being worn by Miss Lemore Barclay of No. 2933 Normandie avenue, belonged to her great grandmother and was worn in Washington during Buchanan's time, when her great grandfather was Senator from Pennsylvania.

Another which will be worn by Mrs. O. O. Witherbee was left her by an aunt. It is of flowered silk tissue, with panniers, the design carried out in a festoon of rosebuds. It is so frail with age that it is falling to pieces and it is necessary for the other players to keep at a respectful distance.

Those participating are drawn from all quarters—the Friday Morning Club, the Ebell, the Wednesday Morning, the Glendale, Highland Park Lyrics, Galpin Shakespeare, Ocean Park, Mills Alumni, Sierra Madre, Hollywood and the Colonial Dames. The Poly High, Cummock, and Occidental are all contributing pretty girls to the pageant.

There is a great demand for seats and yesterday morning Mrs. H. P. Barton, wife of Dr. Barton, secured seats for fifteen nurses from her husband's hospital.

DECLINES CHALLENGE.

President Wright of U. S. Tennis Association, Cables English to Meet Him in New Zealand.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, April 26.—In answer to a cablegram received from the English Lawn Tennis Association inviting the American team to play the preliminary matches for the international cup in England during coronation week, the following message was cabled this afternoon by Dr. Wright, president of the United States National Lawn Tennis Association:

"Must decline. Hope to meet you in New Zealand."

The American association has found it impossible to organize a team which can go both to England and New Zealand.

BATTING LEADERS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, April 26.—Baseball statisticians here have compiled the first lot of averages for the season. Sam Crawford heads the batting list of the American League with .526, while Larry Lajoie scores .455. In the National League "Red" Dooin, manager of the Philadelphias, stands at the top, with a mark of .571. Fred Clarke, manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, is second.

The New York Americans are second to the Detroits in club batting, while Philadelphia shows the way, with Boston second in the National League.

John Hummel, second baseman of the Brooklyns, leads the National League in long hits, with one home run, three three-base hits and four two-base hits.

John Devore of the New York Nationals, is the momentry king of base stealers, with Chase and Collins at his heels.

INTEREST IN BASEBALL MAY KILL SCOREBOARDS

DETROIT (Mich.) April 26.—Police Commissioner Croul has undertaken to suppress baseball scoreboards in Detroit, except where they are placed inside buildings. Those on the streets or in places where they can be seen from the streets draw such large crowds that they block traffic.

Patrolmen often are unable to clear a passage without using rough methods. The corporation counsel's office has notified the police department that it has power to suppress scoreboards on the ground that they are a nuisance.

YALE WILL PARTICIPATE IN SCHUYLKILL REGATTA

NEW HAVEN (Conn.) April 26.—Yale has added another race to its already extensive rowing programme by scheduling the second 'varsity eight to row at the Schuylkill regatta on May 27.

The Yale freshman crew will also be sent to Philadelphia. Yale has now contracted to send her 'varsity crews against every eastern university which presents formidable eights. The programme is the most ambitious ever undertaken by the management.

Frank Chance Hurt.

CINCINNATI, April 25.—Frank Chance, captain and manager of the Chicago National League baseball team, so seriously sprained his ankle in today's game with Cincinnati, that he had to be carried from the field. First reports indicated that the injury might keep him out of the game for weeks.

The "Frisco Swing" the Very Newest Dance to Reach the Los Angeles Stage.

All the Rage.

DANCING MATINEE GIRLS BRING LATEST FANDANGO INTO TOWN.

AT LAST! The "Frisco Swing" has come to town. For months we have been hearing about this new dance that set all San Francisco a talking and the dance that little Anna Pavlowa wanted so much to learn to take back to Russia, and now we have an opportunity to see what all this fuss and talk was about.

This new creation is being introduced at the Los Angeles Theater this week as one of the features of the big musical comedy offering of Charles De Haven, Jack Sidney and their eight dancing matinee girls, and it is executed to perfection by clever little Winfrey Lichter as Kitty Green, the girl from "Frisco Town."

To the accompaniment of lively music, a vivid spot-light, and unlimited applause, she trots back and forth across the Los Angeles Theater stage three times a day in front of a brilliantly-costumed chorus of sprightly dancing beauties, who always join in at the finish.

What is it really like? Well, "Toddling the Todalo," which is the quite extraordinary name they give this dance on the programme, is a variation of the dance which they originally termed the "Bunny-hug." When two dance it you emphasize the hug.

As the new dance is done by Miss Lichter alone, it is really a new cakewalk. The music is very lively, two-step time, and if you want to keep up with the music, you have to keep moving pretty lively. Thus far this week Miss Lichter has never been caught behind a note. "Try it on your piano."

MISS BINGHAM GAVE TENNIS FANS SHOCK.

Bromley Oxnam and Kenneth Newell are to make up the tennis team which will represent U.S. in the intercollegiate matches at the Ojai Valley tournament next week. Although the 'varsity tryouts have not been completed, enough of the preliminaries have been pulled off to make certain that these two will be the northern representatives.

These two players will meet Winnie Mace and Clarence Barker of Occidental at the Nordoff tournament. Pomona College and Whittier have decided not to enter representatives in the college matches.

Miss Bingham gave the tennis enthusiasts at U.S.C., a surprise yesterday, when she defeated Miss Kincaid two games straight, 6-4 and 6-4. Miss Kincaid, who is a Long Beach girl, has been winning everything in the early season games. Her opponent came up fast in the last few weeks however, and practically cinched the school championship in the girls' singles by her victory yesterday afternoon. She is to meet Miss Mildred Taft tomorrow in a final game, but it is hardly expected that Miss Taft can defeat her judging from previous games.

Results, first round: Davenport won from Larson, 6-0, 6-0; Thompson won from Mattoon, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4; Morrow defeated Walton, 6-2, 7-5; W. Hall won from Willett by default; Allan won from Barrett by default; W. Hall defaulted to Parker; Wallace defaulted to Vermille.

Second round: Chaffee defeated B. Hall, 6-4, 9-11, 6-4; Morrow beat Stringfield, 6-1, 6-1; Thompson defeated Davenport, 6-2, 6-4; Parker defaulted to Vermille; Pauline defaulted to Newell; Malcolm defaulted to Lawrence; Smith defaulted to Hummel.

Third round: Chaffee won from Hummel, 6-1, 6-2; Newell defeated Lawrence, 6-2, 6-2; Vermille defaulted to C. W. Hall.

NO MORE ATHLETICS.

CHICAGO (Ill.) April 26.—Inability to make progress in track and field athletics and the heavy expense connected with maintaining the different teams, are the reasons given for the abandonment of athletics for all time by the Illinois Athletic Club. The resignation of Swimming Director Uffendell is said to have forced the issue, although the move has been under consideration for some time.

FOOTBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

LONDON, April 26.—Bradford City defeated Castle Union by a score of 1 to 0 in the play-off of the tie for the association football championship at Manchester today. Seventy thousand persons witnessed the contest.

ACCUMULATION CAUSES ADVANCE.

INCREASED DEMAND FOR VARIOUS ISSUES OF BONDS.

Sales Were in Excess of Any Day and Several Railroad and Municipals Touched Record Prices on the New York Stock Exchange—Steel Rallies From Its Depression.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, April 26.—Accumulation of stocks continued today in sufficient volume to cause another moderate advance in prices. Among the market leaders Union Pacific and Reading were especially strong. Late in the day there was considerable bullish activity in the Canadian group, various Southern stocks and the Eries.

United States Steel once more was the center of interest. On account of the disappointing character of the earnings for the last quarter, the stock was sold heavily at the opening, but speedily rallied from its early depression.

An important development of the day was the increased demand for various issues of bonds. Sales were in excess of any day and several railroad and municipal issues touched record prices. Sales of two issues of railroad bonds, amounting to nearly $20,000,000 were reported.

Amalgamated Copper's brief period of activity at advancing prices was interrupted today, the stock declining nearly a point. It was announced that the United Metals Selling Co., recently taken over by the Amalgamated Copper interests, would no longer be guided by any set price in making sales but would sell copper at prices necessary to meet the exigencies of the market.

The bond market was firm. Total sales, par value, $4,215,000.

New York Curb Stocks.

[Special Service to The Times by E. F. Hutton & Co., Members of the New York Stock Exchange, 119 West Fourth st., Los Angeles.]

NEW YORK, April 26.—The curb market closed strong, with a slightly better feeling. Inspiration was active at the close, selling up to 7⅛. Giroux was in demand at 6, Green Cananea sold 6½. There were no special features.

The Boston coppers made further gains today, and sentiment is improving.

It is believed that recent sales of copper have aggregated well over 100,000,000 pounds and we are informed that the Amalgamated interests have sold 75,000,000 and the Guggenheims are sold two months ahead. Following are the closing bid and asked prices:

SCOTT SELLS TO BRITONS.

Greatest Cotton Planter in World, Next to Khedive, Retains a Show Place Farm.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW ORLEANS (La.) April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Charles Scott, sometimes called and perhaps correctly the greatest cotton planter in the world next to the Khedive of Egypt, has sold nearly all his land in the famous Mississippi delta, retaining a paltry patch of 12,000 acres.

Mr. Scott disposed of about 32,000 acres to an English syndicate for $1,000,000. Through long years he had held to the vast tract in Bolivar County, his faith in the fertility of the delta finally yielding him a handsome profit.

"Rosedale" he retained to be developed into a "Show" plantation. This has been a life dream of Mr. Scott who once gained considerable fame riding from end to end of Mississippi on a white horse in his campaign for governor.

TO INSPECT OIL LANDS.

T. W. Hellman, chief of the field division of the local general land office, has gone north on business connected with the recent decision of the Interior Department in relation to titles of oil land. The yard decision held that an oil claim assigned to a second party previous to the discovery of oil on the premises is invalid, with the remedial previse that such decision shall not apply in cases where oil men have bee operating in good faith in the matter of the development of oil territory. Hellman will visit theland involved in the dispute located in Kern and other oil counties, and make a report to the government.

The Leading Specialist

I HAVE SUCH INDISPUTABLE evidence to lay before you that no thinking person will doubt my ability to overcome any diseases except those which are beyond the hope of human aid. I speak not only of acute ailments, but of all diseases arising from nervous troubles, overwork, dissipation. Many unsuccessful people who had attributed their failure in life to misfortune or lack of opportunities has come forth from my treatment vigorous and ambitious, equipped and able to fight their battle and win success in the world. Perhaps you recognize your own weakness. I will supply the strength, courage, will power and energy necessary to success. I do this by no occult powers, but by putting into healthy condition the various organs of the body and restoring to the system the vital rich blood, the nerve energy which is lacking.

My treatment is as wholesome as it is powerful. It is as permanent as it is certain.

I make no charge for consultation. If you are ill or debilitated from any cause you are welcome to my best thought and attention.

YOU CAN PAY AS ABLE WHEN BENEFITTED OR WHEN CURED.

WHAT BETTER PROOF or more sincere assurance can I offer than that I am willing to wait for my fee until I effect a cure? Could I afford to make such an offer if I was not absolutely certain of curing every case I take? And I do cure every case I treat. In my twenty-five years practice as a specialist I have never failed to restore perfect health. Such invariable success justly entitles me to the title of leading specialist.

I will gladly give my advice Free to the afflicted, whether they later become my patients or not. Come in for a private talk with me. Don't delay. The worst cases are those in which treatment was too long neglected. If you cannot call, write for self-examination blank.
